Rebels From San Miguel—Not So Strict at Manila—Messages From Otis.

MANILA, May 15.—The civilian members of the United States Philippine commission are favorable to the meeting with the Filipino commission, which was suggested Saturday, on behalf of Aguinaldo, by Lieutenant Reyes of the staff of General Gregorio del Pilar, who came to General Lawton under a flag of truce, bearing the proposal. It is thought by the American commissioners that the idea may have resulted from a recent meeting of the so-called Filipino congress at San Isidro. Definite information on this point, however, cannot yet be obtained, though the local Filipino committee, which was in close communication with the leaders of the rebellion, was doing its utmost to secure peace.

Ten members of Major General Lawton's band of scouts, under W. M. Young, the old Indian fighter, entered the town of San Miguel, about 15 miles north of Norzagaray, not aware of what place it was. They found 200 Filipinos there, but the rebels, taking the scouts for the advance of General Lawton's army, fled, after firing a few shots. Young and another scout were wounded and were brought to Manila.

The Ninth infantry and a mountain battery of six guns have been sent to the front.

The uniform quiet now prevailing in Manila led the authorities to relax the rule under which the city streets were cleared from 7 to 8:30 p.m., and Sunday evening there was the largest and most brilliant assembly of pedestrians and people in carriages to listen to a band concert at the Luneta that had been known here since the Spaniards left.

Prof. Schurman, president of the United States Philippine commission gave a farewell luncheon Sunday to Admiral Dewey, at which Prof. Dean C. Worcester and Colonel Charles Denby of the commission, with General MacArthur, Mrs. Lawton and others, were present. The health of the admiral was drunk with the utmost cordiality.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The following dispatch from Major General Otis was received at the war department:

MANILA, May 14, 1899.

Adjutant General, Washington: Situation is as follows: Lawton from Balinag has taken Ilde Fonso and San Miguel, to north, with slight loss and driving considerable force of enemy; gunboats and canoes accompany 1,500 men, under Kobbe, up Rio Grande river from Calumpit, depart 16th. MacArthur remains at San Fernando, covering country. Yesterday, message from Aguinaldo expressing wish to send commission to Manila for conference with United States commission to arrange terms of peace. Directions given to pass body representative insurgents to Manila, should it present itself.

This dispatch was also received: MANILA, May 14.—It is reported that at Zamboanga insurgents attacked Spanish troops 11th inst., using quick-firing guns and arms captured from Spanish gunboats. Spanish general and two officers wounded. Few casualties among troops. Spanish garrison now besieged. Water supply cut off and troops calling for relief. OTIS.

The following was General Otis' weekly death report:

MANILA, May 14. Thermic fever and Bright's disease, May 9, Arthur S. Hunt, private Company K, Third infantry; typhoid fever, 10th, Albert M. Wooster, private, B, Twenty-third infantry; dysentery, 12th.

James Kelly, G, Second Oregon; alcoholism, Richard P. McReynolds, wagoner, G, Fourth cavalry; gunshot wound, accidental, Peter L. Laporte, private, hospital corps.

Two Soldiers Died.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—General Brooke, commanding at Havana, informed the war department that First Lieutenant Harry Whitney, Second infantry, died of typhoid at Cienfuegos. General Davis, commanding at San Juan, telegraphed that Recruit Walter Cretcher, Nineteenth infantry, died there of pneumonia.

THE DEAD NUMBER 29.

About 50 Injured in the Reading Railroad Collision—Some Person Blundered.

READING, Pa., May 15.—The total number of dead as a result of Friday night's rear-end collision on the Philadelphia and Reading railway at Exeter, six miles below here, reached 29, William D. Jenkins of Norristown dying at the hospital at that place. Of the large number of injured persons still in the hospital here, three are in a serious condition, and small hope is entertained for their recovery. They are William Friedenhorst, Thaddeus S. Adle and George W. Holmes, all of Norristown. Holmes' 9-year-old son was instantly killed in the accident, but the hospital physicians had not informed the father of the boy's death.

The dead were: William D. Jenkins, Norristown. Captain Charles T. Street, Philadelphia. John Slingluff, Norristown. H. Thompson, Norristown. Elmer Shelly, Hatboro. Frank Sower, Norristown. Henry G. Wentz, Norristown. William Stahler, Norristown. Joseph Taylor, Norristown. John K. Kuntz, Norristown. Charles G. Leaf, Ft. Washington. Samuel R. Beatty, Conshohocken. Charles H. White, Norristown. Captain G. C. Eicholtz, Downingtown. George Schall, Norristown. William Lewis, Norristown. H. Hunchburger, Gulf Mills. J. E. Filman, Reading. John Johnston, Hatboro. John H. Coulston, Norristown; died at hospital. C. L. Laverty, Harrisburg. Adam Yoder, Pottstown. Lucien J. Custer, Pottstown. William C. Camm, Norristown. H. G. Hartford, Norristown. Norman Holmes, Norristown. Michael Lawin, Germantown. Two unidentified men. About 50 persons were injured.

The question as to who was responsible for the catastrophe was still being discussed here. That some one blundered is generally admitted by railroad men. Who it was that blundered, however, no one seemed to positively know, and opinions on this point differed widely. The Reading railroad officials here took the statements of the trainmen who were concerned in the affair and they were sent to the general offices of the company in Philadelphia.

The coroner will begin a rigid inquiry today at 3 p.m.

Many of the dead and injured had relatives and friends in this city, and there was sorrow on every hand. In every sermon preached in the churches Sunday reference was made to the accident, and prayers were offered for the dead and the injured.

FOREIGN CLAIMS IN CUBA.

They Will Ultimately Be Pressed Against the United States Government.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The state department was informally advised that claims aggregating a considerable amount had been made by British, French and German residents in Cuba during the recent insurrection and that these ultimately will be pressed against the United States government.

The French claims aggregate between 12,000,000 and 15,000,000 francs. German claims are understood to be slightly under those of the French, while the British claims are said to be considerably more than either the French or German.

It was stated at one of the foreign establishments that there was no disposition to push the claims unduly, but to bring them to the attention of the United States government in order that the question of liability might be determined, and such relief granted as the merits of the cases warranted.

To Present Swaine For Governor.

TOLEDO, May 15.—Toledo Republicans will present the name of Noah H. Swaine of this city as a candidate for governor. This has been determined by a meeting of the leaders of the party, including Congressman Southard and the delegates. Mayor Jones will not be presented by the delegation from this city.

Killed His Sister's Assailant.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., May 15.—Lmig Minotti, an Italian, aged 42, outraged the 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fonderle Cabassa at his house. He was shot dead by Clementi Cabassa, an 18-year-old brother of the girl. Young Cabassa was later arrested and admitted to the officers that he did the shooting.

New Plant For Wheeling.

WHEELING, May 15.—The announcement was authoritatively made that the Wheeling Iron and Steel company will at once begin the erection in this city of a tin plate mill and a wrought iron and steel pipe and tube works.

BRIGGS IS ORDAINED.

Now a Priest of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

WILL LABOR AMONG THE POOR.

There Was No Protest Made During the Ordination Ceremonies—In a Letter, Bishop Potter Defended His Position and Also Part of Briggs' Belief.

NEW YORK, May 15.—In the pro-cathedral on Stanton street, Rev. Dr. Charles A. Briggs, who was suspended for heresy by the Presbyterian assembly, was ordained a priest of the Episcopal church. He was ordained together with the Rev. Charles A. Snedeker, and the ordination ceremonies were conducted by Bishop Potter. The little church was crowded with people, and the ceremonies were notable for the quietness that prevailed.

There was no public protest. The sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. George William Douglass.

Rev. Dr. Briggs was seen after the ceremony. He said he had nothing to say concerning the criticism raised by his ordination. He said he was going to take a rest. A close friend of Dr. Briggs said that he would go to Europe and in the fall would labor in the pro-cathedral church. Rev. Dr. Paddock said that it seemed strange that a man of Dr. Briggs' learning should take so much pleasure in laboring among the poor of the East Side, but this was his wish. He said that Rev. Dr. Briggs would not give up his position as professor in Union Theological seminary.

Bishop Potter allowed to be published a letter which he recently wrote in answer to one from a layman, whom he said was prominent in the church. The bishop wrote the following:

"DIOCESAN HOUSE, LAFAYETTE PLACE,

"NEW YORK, May 10, 1899.

"My Dear Sir:—Your letter of the 5th instant is before me, and I have given

therefore accept that certificate as final, and I shall do so.

"I beg, however, that you will not suppose that I am seeking to escape from my personal responsibility in the matter of the ordination of Dr. Briggs by retiring behind the action of my constitutional advisers. I have not the slightest desire to do so. The outcry against the author of 'The Introduction to the Study of Holy Scriptures' is chiefly to be deplored because it betrays such a lamentable ignorance of the progress of sound learning and the judgment of the best Christian scholars. One of them, a bishop, writes:

"You may be interested to see that the old, staid Christian Knowledge society published my little pamphlet on the Bible, which contains the same principles that are elaborated in your treatise. I am indignant at the misrepresentations, or, we will hope, the misunderstandings, of some of your critics. Have they, for the first time, come across the interpretation of the speaking with tongues which harmonizes that book with the epistle to the Corinthians? Have they never read Dean Plumptre's article on the subject in Smith's dictionary of the Bible?

"In a word, the author of 'The Introduction to the Study of Holy Scriptures' has simply stated conclusions which the best learning and the most devout minds have accepted before him.

"I do not myself accept all of them, but that any of them denies or impugns any fundamental doctrine of the faith can only be shown by mutations or perversions of what the author has said, which are as malignant as they are unscrupulous.

"I note the prediction with which you conclude—that Dr. Briggs' advancement to the higher ministry for which he has been recommended will precipitate departures to the church of Rome. This would indeed be unfortunate, for the author of 'The Introduction to the Study of the Holy Scriptures' holds letters from eminent Roman Catholic scholars of foremost rank in institutions of learning of foremost dignity expressing warmest appreciation of his contribution to the study of the Bible, and intimating their purpose to make use of it in their classrooms. Here again it would seem that a somewhat larger knowledge would be the safest guide to wise action.

"I need hardly add, after what I have written, that it is my intention to proceed, at the time appointed, to Dr. Briggs' ordination. I am, dear sir, sincerely yours,

the matter to which it refers my best consideration.

You exaggerate, however, my powers, and are, in regard to them, under considerable misapprehension. In asking me to 'refuse to ordain Rev. Dr. Briggs,' to 'take the responsibility of acting in the case as it demands,' and to 'have the courage' of my 'convictions,' you are apparently under the impression that my action in the matter is wholly within my discretion. Such is not the case. A bishop's powers are constitutional, not absolute. In the matter of ordination he can only act when certain preliminary action by others has been had, but when this is the case, and a candidate for orders stands at the threshold of the ministry, the canons of the ordination declare that the bishop 'shall,' not 'may,' then proceed to take order for the ordination of the person who has met the preliminary tests in the premises.

All these tests have been applied, in the case of the person to whom your letter refers and I have received a certificate to that effect from the standing committee of the diocese.

Under these circumstances, and unless some charge affecting the character or teaching of Rev. Dr. Briggs which was not covered by the testimonial had been presented to me, I should not consider myself as having discretion to disregard the plain imperative of the canon.

But nothing of the sort has been adduced. The book, the teachings of which have lately been challenged, has been for some time before the public and the standing committee of the diocese has been convened since recent and particular attention has been called to it. It was, in my judgment, competent to that body, if it had seen fit to do so, to recall the certificate originally forwarded to me, on the ground that it had been signed under a misapprehension or with insufficient knowledge, but this it has not seen fit to do. I must

But Buffalo Still Has Another Big One on Her Hands.

BUFFALO, May 15.—The grain shovels will return to work today under the agreement reached at the conference between the lake carriers, elevator men and grain shovels. The terms of the agreement were reduced to writing and properly signed at the residence of Bishop Quigley. Attorney Goulder of Cleveland acted for the Lake Carriers' association and Attorney John Cunnien of this city represented the shippers.

The tieup of the coal and ore docks is said to be quite as serious as was the grain shovels' strike. Practically all the coal and ore handlers, numbering about 1,500 men, are out. The freight handlers, who struck out of sympathy for the grain shovels, now refuse to go back until their wages are raised from 25 cents to 35 cents an hour. The house men employed in the freight houses also are on strike.

Advance For 3,000 Men.

BELLAIRE, O., May 15.—The Belmont mill, Top mill, La Belle mill of Wheeling and Benwood blast furnace of Martins Ferry, O., four of the largest iron works in this section of the Ohio valley, all of which are the property of the Wheeling Steel and Iron company of Wheeling, granted the 3,000 employees an advance in wages of 10 per cent. It went into effect last night and today.

A Victim of Hydrophobia.

LANCASTER, Pa., May 15.—Benjamin F. Enck, aged 10 years, died in awful agony, at his home in this city from hydrophobia. Four weeks ago he was bitten by a dog. Several other children were bitten, but had not shown any symptoms of the disease.

Hobart Was Better.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Vice President Hobart was reported to be getting stronger.

Morgan - Vanderbilt Combine Want Control In Ohio.

JUDGE BURKE DEFIED THEM.

Refused to Sell Ohio Central—Rate Cutting Followed—Will Compete For C., H. & D.'s Passenger Business—Recent Transactions by Pennsylvania and B. & O.

CLEVELAND, May 15.—Further developments in the fight of the Morgan-Vanderbilt combination for the control of Ohio railroads came to light. Some time since the Morgans made an offer for the Ohio Central, which was refused by Judge Stevenson Burke, who controls that line. The Hocking Valley road, which is controlled by the Morgans, and which competes in the coal fields with the Ohio Central, began to cut the coal rate. Cuts of 10, 20 and 30 cents a ton followed each other, and the Hocking Valley turned a heavy tonnage over to the Vanderbilt roads in Michigan.

The Morgans are also after the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton. It is now announced that a flyer between Cincinnati and Toledo will be put on the Big Four and Hocking Valley roads to compete with the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton flyer as a means of bringing about what the Morgans are anxious to accomplish.

Within the past few days two important steps in the direction of further consolidation have been taken in the sale of the Cleveland, Akron and Columbus to the Pennsylvania company, and the making of a traffic arrangement between the Baltimore and Ohio and the Norfolk and Western.

CLEVELAND NOT DEAD.

Passengers Talked to Him Before Leaving Middle Bass Island.

TOLEDO, O., May 15.—A special from Sandusky said George Brodbeck, a well known business man of Sandusky, and several other passengers who were on the steamer Carrow, saw and talked with Grover Cleveland last evening about 3:30, or just before the boat left Middle Bass island for Sandusky. There is no doubt but that there is absolutely no truth in the rumors that Mr. Cleveland is dead.

GREEN B. BOREN DEAD.

He Was a Citizen of Steubenville and Prominent in Brick Business.

CATSKILL, N. Y., May 15.—Green B. Boren of Steubenville, O., general manager of the Eastern Paving Brick company, owner of the large Shale Paving Brick plant here, died about 7:30 o'clock last night of consumption. He was 46 years of age and was well known in brick manufacturing circles.

Akron Man Suicided.

AKRON, May 15.—Alexander Brewster, one of the oldest and wealthiest men in the city, and a veteran coal operator, committed suicide by cutting his throat with a razor. He was 90 years of age.

CUT APPROPRIATIONS.

Governor of Pennsylvania Sliced Off $1,000,000 of Amount Awarded to the Schools.

HARRISBURG, May 15.—Governor Stone made public his action on the general appropriation bill, which provided for the ordinary expenses of the various branches of the state government, the interest on the public debt and for the support of the public schools for the two fiscal years beginning June 1, 1899. He made a cut of $1,000,000 in the school appropriation and reduced several other items whereby he saved

NEW PEACE POW-WOW

Commission Ready to Meet Aguinaldo's Men.

MAY REPRESENT REBEL CONGRESS.

Definite Information on This Point Was Not Known—Lawton's Scouts Scared Rebels From San Miguel—Not So Strict at Manila—Messages From Otis.

MANILA, May 15.—The civilian members of the United States Philippine commission are favorable to the meeting with the Filipino commission, which was suggested Saturday, on behalf of Aguinaldo, by Lieutenant Reyes of the staff of General Gregorio del Pilar, who came to General Lawton under a flag of truce, bearing the proposal. It is thought by the American commissioners that the idea may have resulted from a recent meeting of the so-called Filipino congress at San Isidro. Definite information on this point, however, cannot yet be obtained, though the local Filipino committee, which was in close communication with the leaders of the rebellion, was doing its utmost to secure peace.

Ten members of Major General Lawton's band of scouts, under W. M. Young, the old Indian fighter, entered the town of San Miguel, about 15 miles north of Norzagaray, not aware of what place it was. They found 200 Filipinos there, but the rebels, taking the scouts for the advance of General Lawton's army, fled, after firing a few shots. Young and another scout were wounded and were brought to Manila.

The Ninth infantry and a mountain battery of six guns have been sent to the front.

The uniform quiet now prevailing in Manila led the authorities to relax the rule under which the city streets were cleared from 7 to 8:30 p.m., and Sunday evening there was the largest and most brilliant assembly of pedestrians and people in carriages to listen to a band concert at the Luneta that had been known here since the Spaniards left.

Prof. Schurman, president of the United States Philippine commission gave a farewell luncheon Sunday to Admiral Dewey, at which Prof. Dean C. Worcester and Colonel Charles Denby of the commission, with General MacArthur, Mrs. Lawton and others, were present. The health of the admiral was drunk with the utmost cordiality.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The following dispatch from Major General Otis was received at the war department:

MANILA, May 14, 1899.

Adjutant General, Washington:

Situation is as follows: Lawton from Baluag has taken Ilde Fonso and San Miguel, to north, with slight loss and driving considerable force of enemy; gunboats and canoes accompany 1,500 men, under Kobbe, up Rio Grande river from Calumpit, depart 16th. MacArthur remains at San Fernando, covering country. Yesterday, message from Aguinaldo expressing wish to send commission to Manila for conference with United States commission to arrange terms of peace. Directions given to pass body representative insurgents to Manila, should it present itself.

This dispatch was also received:

MANILA, May 14.—It is reported that at Zamboanga insurgents attacked Spanish troops 11th inst., using quick-firing guns and arms captured from Spanish gunboats. Spanish general and two officers wounded. Few casualties among troops. Spanish garrison now besieged. Water supply cut off and troops calling for relief. Otis.

The following was General Otis' weekly death report:

MANILA, May 14.

Thermic fever and Bright's disease, May 9, Arthur S. Hunt, private Company K, Third infantry; typhoid fever, 10th, Albert M. Wooster, private, B, Twenty-third infantry; dysentery, 12th.

James Kenny, G, Second Oregon; alcoholism, Richard P. McReynolds, waggoner, G, Fourth cavalry; gunshot wound, accidental, Peter L. Laporte, private, hospital corps.

TWO SOLDIERS DIED.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—General Brooke, commanding at Havana, informed the war department that First Lieutenant Harry Whitney, Second infantry, died of typhoid at Cienfuegos. General Davis, commanding at San Juan, telegraphed that Recruit Walter Cretcher, Nineteenth infantry, died there of pneumonia.

THE DEAD NUMBER 29.

About 50 Injured in the Reading Railroad Collision—Some Person Blundered.

READING, Pa., May 15.—The total number of dead as a result of Friday night's rear-end collision on the Philadelphia and Reading railway at Exeter, six miles below here, reached 29, William D. Jenkins of Norristown dying at the hospital at that place. Of the large number of injured persons still in the hospital here, three are in a serious condition, and small hope is entertained for their recovery. They are William Friedenhorst, Thaddeus S. Adle and George W. Holmes, all of Norristown. Holmes' 9-year-old son was instantly killed in the accident, but the hospital physicians had not informed the father of the boy's death.

The dead were:

William D. Jenkins, Norristown. Captain Charles T. Street, Philadelphia. John Slingluff, Norristown. H. Thompson, Norristown. Elmer Shelly, Hatboro. Frank Sower, Norristown. Henry G. Wentz, Norristown. William Stahler, Norristown. Joseph Taylor, Norristown. John K. Kuntz, Norristown. Charles G. Leaf, Ft. Washington. Samuel R. Beatty, Conshohocken. Charles H. White, Norristown. Captain G. C. Elcholtz, Downingtown. George Schall, Norristown. William Lewis, Norristown. H. Hunchburger, Gulf Mills. J. E. Filman, Reading. John Johnston, Hatboro. John H. Coulston, Norristown; died at hospital. C. L. Laverty, Harrisburg. Adam Yoder, Pottstown. Lucien J. Custer, Pottstown. William C. Camm, Norristown. H. G. Hartford, Norristown. Norman Holmes, Norristown. Michael Lown, Germantown. Two unidentified men. About 50 persons were injured.

The question as to who was responsible for the catastrophe was still being discussed here. That some one blundered is generally admitted by railroad men. Who it was that blundered, however, no one seemed to positively know, and opinions on this point differed widely. The Reading railroad officials here took the statements of the trainmen who were concerned in the affair and they were sent to the general offices of the company in Philadelphia.

The coroner will begin a rigid inquiry today at 3 p.m.

Many of the dead and injured had relatives and friends in this city, and there was sorrow on every hand. In every sermon preached in the churches Sunday reference was made to the accident, and prayers were offered for the dead and the injured.

FOREIGN CLAIMS IN CUBA.

They Will Ultimately Be Pressed Against the United States Government.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The state department was informally advised that claims aggregating a considerable amount had been made by British, French and German residents in Cuba during the recent insurrection and that these ultimately will be pressed against the United States government.

The French claims aggregate between 12,000,000 and 15,000,000 francs. German claims are understood to be slightly under those of the French, while the British claims are said to be considerably more than either the French or German.

It was stated at one of the foreign establishments that there was no disposition to push the claims unduly, but to bring them to the attention of the United States government in order that the question of liability might be determined, and such relief granted as the merits of the cases warranted.

To Present Swaine For Governor.

TOLEDO, May 15.—Toledo Republicans will present the name of Noah H. Swaine of this city as a candidate for governor. This has been determined by a meeting of the leaders of the party, including Congressman Southard and the delegates. Mayor Jones will not be presented by the delegation from this city.

Killed His Sister's Assailant.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., May 15.—Lmigi Minotti, an Italian, aged 42, outraged the 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fonderelle Cabassa at his house. He was shot dead by Clementi Cabassa, an 18-year-old brother of the girl. Young Cabassa was later arrested and admitted to the officers that he did the shooting.

New Plant For Wheeling.

WHEELING, May 15.—The announcement was authoritatively made that the Wheeling Iron and Steel company will at once begin the erection in this city of a tin plate mill and a wrought iron and steel pipe and tube works.

BRIGGS IS ORDAINED.

NOW A PRIEST OF THE PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

WILL LABOR AMONG THE POOR.

There Was No Protest Made During the Ordination Ceremonies—In a Letter, Bishop Potter Defended His Position and Also Part of Briggs' Belief.

NEW YORK, May 15.—In the pro-cathedral on Stanton street, Rev. Dr. Charles A. Briggs, who was suspended for heresy by the Presbyterian assembly, was ordained a priest of the Episcopal church. He was ordained together with the Rev. Charles A. Snedeker, and the ordination ceremonies were conducted by Bishop Potter. The little church was crowded with people, and the ceremonies were notable for the quietness that prevailed.

There was no public protest. The sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. George William Douglass.

Rev. Dr. Briggs was seen after the ceremony. He said he had nothing to say concerning the criticism raised by his ordination. He said he was going to take a rest. A close friend of Dr. Briggs said that he would go to Europe and in the fall would labor in the pro-cathedral church. Rev. Dr. Paddock said that it seemed strange that a man of Dr. Briggs' learning should take so much pleasure in laboring among the poor of the East Side, but this was his wish. He said that Rev. Dr. Briggs would not give up his position as professor in Union Theological seminary.

Bishop Potter allowed to be published a letter which he recently wrote in answer to one from a layman, whom he said was prominent in the church. The bishop wrote the following:

"DIOCESAN HOUSE, LAFAYETTE PLACE, NEW YORK. May 10, 1899.

"My Dear Sir:—Your letter of the 5th instant is before me, and I have given

therefore accept that certificate as final, and I shall do so.

"I beg, however, that you will not suppose that I am seeking to escape from my personal responsibility in the matter of the ordination of Dr. Briggs by retiring behind the action of my constitutional advisers. I have not the slightest desire to do so. The outcry against the author of 'The Introduction to the Study of Holy Scriptures' is chiefly to be deplored because it betrays such a lamentable ignorance of the progress of sound learning and the judgment of the best Christian scholars. One of them, a bishop, writes:

"You may be interested to see that the old, staid Christian Knowledge society published my little pamphlet on the Bible, which contains the same principles that are elaborated in your treatise. I am indignant at the misrepresentations, or, we will hope, the misunderstandings, of some of your critics. Have they, for the first time, come across the interpretation of the speaking with tongues which harmonize that book with the epistle to the Corinthians? Have they never read Dean Plumptre's article on the subject in Smith's dictionary of the Bible?

"In a word, the author of 'The Introduction to the Study of Holy Scriptures' has simply stated conclusions which the best learning and the most devout minds have accepted before him.

"I do not myself accept all of them, but that any of them denies or impugns any fundamental doctrine of the faith can only be shown by mutations or perversions of what the author has said, which are as malignant as they are scrupulous.

"I note the prediction with which you conclude—that Dr. Briggs' advancement to the higher ministry for which he has been recommended will precipitate departures to the church of Rome. This would indeed be unfortunate, for the author of 'The Introduction to the Study of the Holy Scriptures' holds letters from eminent Roman Catholic scholars of foremost rank in institutions of learning of foremost dignity expressing warmest appreciation of his contribution to the study of the Bible, and intimating their purpose to make use of it in their classrooms. Here again it would seem that a somewhat larger knowledge would be the safest guide to wise action.

"I do not hardly add, after what I have written, that it is my intention to proceed, at the time appointed, to Dr. Briggs' ordination. I am, dear sir, sincerely yours,

H. C. POTTER."

ONE STRIKE SETTLED.

But Buffalo Still Has Another Big One on Her Hands.

BUFFALO, May 15.—The grain shovellers will return to work today under the agreement reached at the conference between the lake carriers, elevator men and grain shovellers. The terms of the agreement were reduced to writing and properly signed at the residence of Bishop Quigley. Attorney Goulder of Cleveland acted for the Lake Carriers' association and Attorney John Cunnien of this city represented the shippers.

The tieup of the coal and ore docks is said to be quite as serious as was the grain shovellers' strike. Practically all the coal and ore handlers, numbering about 1,500 men, are out. The freight handlers, who struck out of sympathy for the grain shovellers, now refuse to go back until their wages are raised from 25 cents to 35 cents an hour. The house men employed in the freight houses also are on strike.

ADVANCE FOR 3,000 MEN.

BELLAIRE, O., May 15.—The Belmont mill, Top mill, La Belle mill of Wheeling and Benwood blast furnace of Martins Ferry, O., four of the largest iron works in this section of the Ohio valley, all of which are the property of the Wheeling Steel and Iron company of Wheeling, granted the 3,000 employees an advance in wages of 10 per cent. It went into effect last night and today.

A VICTIM OF HYDROPHOBIA.

LANCASTER, Pa., May 15.—Benjamin F. Enck, aged 10 years, died in awful agony, at his home in this city from hydrophobia. Four weeks ago he was bitten by a dog. Several other children were bitten, but had not shown any symptoms of the disease.

HOBART WAS BETTER.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Vice President Hobart was reported to be getting stronger.

Morgan - Vanderbilt Combine Want Control In Ohio.

CLEVELAND, May 15.—Further developments in the fight of the Morgan-Vanderbilt combination for the control of Ohio railroads came to light. Some time since the Morgans made an offer for the Ohio Central, which was refused by Judge Stevenson Burke, who controls that line. The Hocking Valley road, which is controlled by the Morgans, and which competes in the coal fields with the Ohio Central, began to cut the coal rate. Cuts of 10, 20 and 30 cents a ton followed each other, and the Hocking Valley turned a heavy tonnage over to the Vanderbilt roads in Michigan.

The Morgans are also after the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton. It is now announced that a flyer between Cincinnati and Toledo will be put on the Big Four and Hocking Valley roads to compete with the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton flyer as a means of bringing about what the Morgans are anxious to accomplish.

Within the past few days two important steps in the direction of further consolidation have been taken in the sale of the Cleveland, Akron and Columbus to the Pennsylvania company, and the making of a traffic arrangement between the Baltimore and Ohio and the Norfolk and Western.

CLEVELAND NOT DEAD.

Passengers Talked to Him Before Leaving Middle Bass Island.

TOLEDO, O., May 15.—A special from Sandusky said George Brodbeck, a well known business man of Sandusky, and several other passengers who were on the steamer Carrow, saw and talked with Grover Cleveland last evening about 3:30, or just before the boat left Middle Bass island for Sandusky. There is no doubt but that there is absolutely no truth in the rumors that Mr. Cleveland is dead.

GREEN B. BOREN DEAD.

He Was a Citizen of Steubenville and Prominent in Brick Business.

CATSKILL, N. Y., May 15.—Green B. Boren of Steubenville, O., general manager of the Eastern Paving Brick company, owner of the large Shale Paving Brick plant here, died about 7:30 o'clock last night of consumption. He was 48 years of age and was well known in brick manufacturing circles.

AKRON MAN SUICIDED.

AKRON, May 15.—Alexander Brewster, one of the oldest and wealthiest men in the city, and a veteran coal operator, committed suicide by cutting his throat with a razor. He was 90 years of age.

CUT APPROPRIATIONS.

Governor of Pennsylvania Sliced Off $1,000,000 of Amount Awarded to the Schools.

HARRISBURG, May 15.—Governor Stone made public his action on the general appropriation bill, which provided for the ordinary expenses of the various branches of the state government, the interest on the public debt and for the support of the public schools for the two fiscal years beginning June 1, 1899. He made a cut of $1,000,000 in the school appropriation and reduced several other items whereby he saved in the aggregate $1,500,000, which will be applied to reducing the floating debt of the commonwealth.

The governor filed in the office of the secretary of the commonwealth a statement giving his reasons for disapproving certain items in the bill and approvinging parts of certain other items.

BLACK DEED OF A NEGRO.

Maryland Couple Beaten Fatally—May Be Lynched If Caught.

CUMBERLAND, Md., May 15.—Louis Rosenstein, the storekeeper of Slidell, Montgomery county, who was assaulted Saturday morning, died. Mrs. Rosenstein, who was also beaten into insensibility, is in a dying condition.

A special from Boyd's, near the scene of the tragedy, says a large sum of money was stolen by the murderer. A negro, Humphrey Taylor, alias Brown, is suspected. Armed citizens are scouring the country, and should he be found there is little doubt that he will be lynched.

Nurses Arrived From Cuba.

NEW YORK, May 15.—Among the passengers who arrived on the steamer Curitiba from Cuban ports were Mrs. General Wilson and Miss Wilson, Captain James Thompson, U. S. A. and 12 female nurses.

THE EAST END.

MAY GET AN INCREASE

The Motormen Expect to Get 20 Cents an Hour.

DEPENDS ON MANAGER HOEGEN

Boy Bitten by a Dog in Maple Street—Want Mulberry Street Culvert Finished—New Machinery for the Gas Plant—Bridge-water Company Raising their Mains.

Many motormen of the street railway company are of the opinion that their wages will be increased to 20 cents an hour in the near future. In speaking of this, an employe of the road said: "The company, since it changed hands, has been lenient with the boys in every respect. They have never asked for anything within reason but what they got it. No, I do not think a request will be made to the company, but as Mr. Hoefgen will soon return to the city there might be a chance of him having something to do with the matter. When we asked for protection on the winter cars it was Mr. Hoefgen that caused the request to be complied with. For that action he has made many friends who at all times would stand by him. Now that good times are here, Mr. Hoefgen might do something, but we won't ask for it."

The motormen are at present receiving 17 cents an hour. There are 17 regular and 10 extra men on the schedule.

Vicious Dogs.

There may be valuable dogs in East End, but for every valuable dog there are two to which no value is attached. Saturday afternoon Guy Darranger, a lad of nine years, was bitten on the left leg by a dog owned by a family named March, residing in Maple street. The boy was in his bare feet, and while passing the dog it caught the boy's left leg near the knee, causing him much pain. The matter was reported to the fire station, and it may be complaint will reach city hall.

Becoming an Eyesore.

The residents of Mulberry street are tired of seeing a lot of rubbish lying about the culvert, and they are now wondering when it will be completed. The culvert at present is in a dangerous condition. There is no light at night in the immediate vicinity and unless one knows the path leading to the board crossing an accident is liable to happen. No work has been done on the culvert since last winter, and it should be completed as soon as possible.

New Machinery Thursday.

Word was received at the new gas plant Saturday from Chicago to the effect that the machinery ordered about six weeks ago would be shipped Saturday afternoon, and should be delivered at the plant not later than Thursday of this week. The plant has been idle awaiting the new castings, and after they are in place the works will resume. The machinery was ordered by Mr. Felt during his recent visit to Chicago.

On the Laughlin Farm.

When the drilling of several wells along Beaver creek is completed the tools will be moved to the Laughlin farm, where several wells will be drilled for a Pittsburg company. If gas is obtained from any of the wells on this farm it will be sold to the Ohio Valley company, whose mains run through this property. It is thought the tools will be ready to be moved by the first of the month.

At the Mission.

Services at the Dry Run mission in Neville institute yesterday afternoon were well attended. Several new scholars were received in the Sunday school. The services commencing at 3:30 o'clock were in charge of Reverend Hodson, of the First M. E. church. He gave an interesting talk. The attendance has been increasing every Sunday since the mission was started.

Raised the Mains.

The Bridgewater Gas company Saturday morning put a force of men at work raising the mains in First avenue. This was made necessary by the improvements now being made on the culvert by Street Commissioner Finley. The mains will be raised to a point where they will cross the culvert beneath the roadbed.

After Locations.

Saturday afternoon a well-known young man from Wellsville spent some time in this part of the city looking after a location for the purpose of opening a barber shop. It was said this

OHIO VALLEY BUSINESS COLLEGE.

This Fine Educational Establishment In Full Swing.

The many patrons of the Ohio Valley Business college will be pleased to note the fact that Mrs. J. F. Cooper has been so much benefited by her trip to Colorado as to be able to take full charge once more of the shorthand department.

Mrs. Cooper is an excellent and able instructor in stenography, as very many delighted pupils will be glad to testify.

All the departments are under the charge of able and experienced teachers, well qualified in every particular. The commercial department is worthy of special mention. It is an important factor in business life, and the young men and young women of East Liverpool and the surrounding country will do well to note this fact and take advantage of the opportunity afforded for a thorough business education.

A Land Company Purchase.

Among the list of real estate transfers printed Saturday there appeared the following: "Abner Martin to the City of East Liverpool, a tract of land, $400." This land was not paid for by the city, but the deed was made to it in order to open up a street in East End. One of the land companies purchased the ground.

Funston.

Thy name, O gallant Kansan, is a terror And a nightmare to the poestaser. It doth not lend itself beseemingly To the vagrant rhymer. It trippeth not Along the bosky dells of poesy. Eased by the eager muse.

Funston! 'Tis a name To grasp at either end and swing in air. To club some boasting enemy to death. Funston! It has a Kansas sort of sound That well befits a Kansas hurricane, Begun in fun and ending with a stun. That spreads all over half a dozen counties. 'Tis not a thing of beauty, nor a joy To the Filipinos. It means trouble, Thunder, lightning, and woe, and sudden death. And ground torn up, and knockout drops, and blood. And whirling terrors, and black destruction.

And it, O mighty Funston, fighting Funston! What though thy weight be hardly more than one stun? Not size, but quality it is that counts, It is the mind and not the meat that mounts. Boy Bitten by a Dog in Maple Street—Want Mulberry Street Culvert Finished—New Machinery for the Gas Plant—Bridge-water Company Raising their Mains.

Many motormen of the street railway company are of the opinion that their wages will be increased to 20 cents an hour in the near future. In speaking of this, an employe of the road said: "The company, since it changed hands, has been lenient with the boys in every respect. They have never asked for anything within reason but what they got it. No, I do not think a request will be made to the company, but as Mr. Hoeggen will soon return to the city there might be a chance of him having something to do with the matter. When we asked for protection on the winter cars it was Mr. Hoeggen that caused the request to be complied with. For that action he has made many friends who at all times would stand by him. Now that good times are here, Mr. Hoeggen might do something, but we won't ask for it."

The motormen are at present receiving 17 cents an hour. There are 17 regular and 10 extra men on the schedule.

Vicious Dogs.

There may be valuable dogs in East End, but for every valuable dog there are two to which no value is attached. Saturday afternoon Guy Darranger, a lad of nine years, was bitten on the left leg by a dog owned by a family named March, residing in Maple street. The boy was in his bare feet, and while passing the dog it caught the boy's left leg near the knee, causing him much pain. The matter was reported to the fire station, and it may be complaint will reach city hall.

Becoming an Eyesore.

The residents of Mulberry street are tired of seeing a lot of rubbish lying about the culvert, and they are now wondering when it will be completed. The culvert at present is in a dangerous condition. There is no light at night in the immediate vicinity and unless one knows the path leading to the board crossing an accident is liable to happen. No work has been done on the culvert since last winter, and it should be completed as soon as possible.

New Machinery Thursday.

Word was received at the new gas plant Saturday from Chicago to the effect that the machinery ordered about six weeks ago would be shipped Saturday afternoon, and should be delivered at the plant not later than Thursday of this week. The plant has been idle awaiting the new castings, and after they are in place the works will resume. The machinery was ordered by Mr. Felt during his recent visit to Chicago.

On the Laughlin Farm.

When the drilling of several wells along Beaver creek is completed the tools will be moved to the Laughlin farm, where several wells will be drilled for a Pittsburg company. If gas is obtained from any of the wells on this farm it will be sold to the Ohio Valley company, whose mains run through this property. It is thought the tools will be ready to be moved by the first of the month.

At the Mission.

Services at the Dry Run mission in Neville institute yesterday afternoon were well attended. Several new scholars were received in the Sunday school. The services commencing at 3:30 o'clock were in charge of Reverend Hodson, of the First M. E. church. He gave an interesting talk. The attendance has been increasing every Sunday since the mission was started.

Raised the Mains.

The Bridgewater Gas company Saturday morning put a force of men at work raising the mains in First avenue. This was made necessary by the improvements now being made on the culvert by Street Commissioner Finley. The mains will be raised to a point where they will cross the culvert beneath the roadbed.

After Locations.

Saturday afternoon a well-known young man from Wellsville spent some time in this part of the city looking after a location for the purpose of opening a barber shop. It was said this morning that another grocery store would soon be opened in this part of the city. It would be run on the general store plan.

This Fine Educational Establishment In Full Swing.

The many patrons of the Ohio Valley Business college will be pleased to note the fact that Mrs. J. F. Cooper has been so much benefited by her trip to Colorado as to be able to take full charge once more of the shorthand department. Mrs. Cooper is an excellent and able instructor in stenography, as very many delighted pupils will be glad to testify.

All the departments are under the charge of able and experienced teachers, well qualified in every particular. The commercial department is worthy of special mention. It is an important factor in business life, and the young men and young women of East Liverpool and the surrounding country will do well to note this fact and take advantage of the opportunity afforded for a thorough business education.

A Land Company Purchase.

Among the list of real estate transfers printed Saturday there appeared the following: "Abner Martin to the City of East Liverpool, a tract of land, $400." This land was not paid for by the city, but the deed was made to it in order to open up a street in East End. One of the land companies purchased the ground.

VISIT WINONA LAKE.

An Attractive Summer Haven For Rest, Recreation and Entertainment.

Winona Lake, Ind., on the Pennsylvania lines, is an attractive summer haven for persons who may desire to combine devotion, entertainment and instruction with rest and recreation. This lake is a beautiful sheet of water nearly two miles long, surrounded by romantic woodland, which has been improved into a grand summer resort with all the comforts and conveniences for a delightful sojourn. The entrance to the grounds adjoins the pretty station of Winona Lake, on the Fort Wayne route.

As the site of Winona Assembly and Summer School, this resort is visited each summer by many people who are invigorated in both mind and body by the instructive entertainment and health-giving recreation for which Winona is famous. The educational work of the summer school is under the supervision of prominent instructors.

Fine facilities for athletic pastimes are provided, and the college halls and large auditorium are amply equipped for interesting work. The boating, bathing and fishing are excellent. The permanent buildings include many cosy cottages, where accommodations may be secured at reasonable rates. There is also a large hotel, and provision for camping out for those who may enjoy tent life. Supplies are obtainable at the large store on the grounds.

The season of 1898 will open May 15. Commencing on that date excursion tickets, with 15 day limit, will be on sale via Pennsylvania lines. They may be obtained during May, June, July and August. The sale of season-exursion tickets will also begin May 15, and continue daily until Sept. 18. Excursion tickets will be good returning until Sept. 15.

Full information about the attractions at "Beautiful Winona," its Assembly and Summer School, etc., will be cheerfully furnished all who address Mr. Sol.

C. Dickey, secretary, Winona Lake, Ind. Inquiries about excursion rates, time of trains, etc., should be addressed to passenger and ticket agents of the Pennsylvania lines, or to F. Van Dusen, chief assistant general passenger agent, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Excursion to Union Bridge, Md.

German Baptists (Dunkards), Old Order, annual meeting will be at Union Bridge, Md., May 21. Excursion tickets will be sold at one fare for the round trip May 16, 19, 20 and 22 from Pennsylvania lines ticket stations, good returning until June 24.

It will be arranged to run coaches through to Union Bridge on Train No. 20, Friday, May 19, which will enable passengers to make the trip without changing cars at Pittsburg, Harrisburg or York. For further information please call upon local ticket agent of Pennsylvania lines.

Excursion to San Francisco.

May 14, 15 and 16, account National Baptist anniversaries, excursion tickets will be sold to San Francisco, Cal., via Pennsylvania lines, good to return until July 16. For further particulars please call upon J. D. Dillon, D. P. Agt., room 306, Park building, corner Smithfield street and Fifth avenue, Pittsburg, Pa.

A Joint Session.

The board of health and the Wellsville board will hold a joint session at city hall Thursday evening for the purpose of compiling an ordinance against spitting in street cars. They will also discuss the garbage furnace question.

Excursion to Louisville, Ky.

May 15 and 16, account of Travelers' Protective Association of America annual convention. Excursion tickets will be sold to Louisville, Ky., via Pennsylvania lines, good to return until May 20.

FOR STATE CHAIRMAN

Congressman R. W. Taylor
Being Boomed For It.

The Representative From This District
Put Forward by a Columbus Paper as
the Man For the Place—Would Make a Good Presiding Officer.

It will be but a few days now until
the people of Ohio will know for whom they will vote next fall on the Republican ticket, or at least they will know what work was done by the Republican state convention.

The convention will be held at the Columbus auditorium Thursday and
Friday, June 1 and 2, with Hon. W. S.
Kerr as temporary chairman; Hon. E.
L. Lampson, temporary secretary;
Frederick Bader, sergeant-at-arms; and
S. N. Field, first assistant sergeant-at-arms. The chaplains for the occasion
will be: Thursday, Rev. S. S. Palmer;
Friday, Rev. H. H. Barbour. The headquarters of the Republican state central committee will be parlor 147, Neil House.

The district delegate meetings will be at 2:30 o'clock Thursday June 1. The delegates of the Eighteenth district, composed of Stark, Mahoning and Columbiana counties, will meet in the office of the commissioner of railroads
and telegraphs.

The Ohio State Journal says: The
friends of Congressman R. W. Tayler are working in his behalf to secure for him the seat of permanent chairman, and it is very probable, they will be successful in their undertaking.
Mr. Taylor would fill the position creditably both to himself and to the party whom he represents.

WILL OPEN.

Rock Springs Season to Commence Wednesday Evening.

Rock Springs will be open to the public
Wednesday evening, and Wolfe's orchestra will furnish music for dancing
at the grounds every evening. The
and has been fitted up with 100 electric lights. The cafe has been opened and everything possible will be done for the comfort of the patrons. Admission to the grounds will be five cents to everybody, while dancing will cost 35 cents.
On Thursday evening Mrs. Annie E.
George will lecture.

THE ANNUAL SESSION

Of the American Mechanics Is Now Being Held.

Thomas H. Arbuckle and Herbert
Johnson left this morning for Middletown where they will attend the annual session of the American Mechanics. Mr.
Arbuckle is state treasurer, while Mr.
Johnson will represent the local lodge.

A. H. Clark will transact some legal business in that section of the state, but will also attend the convention.

Knocked Down.

Saturday evening at the corner of Fifth and Washington street a wheel-man ran into and knocked down William Brunt. The boy was riding faster than the law allowed, but was ringing
his bell. Mr. Brunt received a hard fall, but was not injured beyond having a few bruises. If the careless bicycle riding is not stopped soon somebody will get seriously injured.

They Will Fast.

The colored people of the city will observe Friday, June 2, as a day of Thanksgiving and fasting in response to a notice sent out by a national committee. The purpose of the affair is to awaken the people to the condition of
the colored churches.

Baseball Notes.

Winnie Mercer in two games played Saturday had three hits, two putouts,
no assists and one error.

John Godwin at second base for Rochester had three putouts, three assists and one error.

Hear Mrs. George.

Don't fail to hear Mrs. Annie E.
George at Rock Springs theater Thursday night, May 18, on "Woman's Rights." Admission 25c. A few choice seats 35c.

WORK TO BEGIN.

Preliminaries at Sebring Completed and Active Construction Started.

The Sebring Pottery company are most every day awarding parts of contracts for the pottery they intend to erect at Beloit, and within a few days
their part of the work will be completed.
The Alliance Review in speaking of
other improvements at Beloit says:

Sebring now seems on the very brink
of reality, for it is announced that the Pennsylvania lines officials have secured
the required rails and ties which are loaded and ready to move forward to construct the first side track at the proposed station.

It is further stated that the lumber
and stone to be used in erecting the depot and freight house are on the cars,
awaiting the completion of the switch.

It is also said on good authority, that
a number of cars laden with building material, are standing on the track at Cleveland, Pittsburg and other points, awaiting the construction of the proposed siding, before shipment can be made. These, together with several cars of brick at Louisville, are consigned
to the new pottery firm at Sebring.

Word from Sebring today is to the effect that the track will be built next Tuesday, or possibly Monday. This information has greatly strengthened the faith of the community in the enterprise of transforming a series of vacant fields into a flourishing manufacturing city.

JOURNEYMEN

Will Get What They Want If They Give Apprentices.

This morning a boss painter, in speaking of the demand recently made by the journeymen, said:

"If the journeymen decide to come down to the old rule of one apprentice
for every five men, which is, in other terms, one apprentice to a shop, I do not think but what every boss painter in the town would give them $2.50 per day.
They ask the new ruling to take effect,
but I am ready to give this rate today
if they allow one apprentice to five men."

A MISSIONARY

Last Evening Occupied the Pulpit of the First Presbyterian Church.

Miss Katherine Fleeson, who has returned from missionary work in Siam,
last evening occupied the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church, and delivered a very interesting address upon the missionary work in that country. She will return to Siam in July. Mr. Stoddard sang a solo and a quartet composed of Misses James and Baxter and Messrs.

Stoddard and Waggoner rendered a pleasing selection.

On the River.

The marks at the river this morning registered seven feet and falling. The Ben Hur, Kanawha and Keystone State passed up in the order named, and each packet had a heavy trip. The first and last named packets will be down tonight,
and the Kanawha will be down tomorrow night. The side wheel packet City
of Pittsburg is due up tonight from Louisville, and due south tomorrow evening.

—Charlie Norris, of Cleveland, is in the city today on business.

NEW CALENDAR SCHEME

Bundy's Plan For a Thirteen Months Year.

UNIFORMITY TO BE ITS OBJECT.

Author of This Unique Idea Divides
the Year Into Months of Twenty-eight Days Each—Hopes His Calendar Will Be Adopted at Beginning
of the Next Century.

Mr. C. H. Bundy of Marion, Ind.,
was in Muncie the other day. Mr. Bundy is the now famous inventor of the new calendar which he expects to see
universally adopted in 1900. Mr. Bundy, when asked regarding his unique idea for a new calendar for 1900, with 13 months of 28 days each, said:

"When the present calendar was adopted, an error was made which makes it
necessary to drop leap year in 1900,
that the calendar may be exact with a correct solar reckoning. The history of early calendars is very unreliable, but enough is known to show that they were numerous and incorrect. I have made a study of this, and therefore I have designed and have a copyright on a new calendar which I hope will be adopted at the beginning of the next century."

Mr. Bundy divides the year into 13
months of four weeks each. As 1900

comes in on Monday, and as Monday is
the first day of the commercial week,
he makes it the first day of the month.
The new month is called Centuary, because of the time of its proposed adoption—the end of one century and the beginning of another. Under the Bundy
calendar the months do not begin and end on different days in the week, as is

Bundy, in explaining its features, "will
be good for all years to come, dating from the time of its adoption. By this arrangement it will not be necessary to look for or consult a last year's calendar or to compute time to find what day of the week or month a certain date
was or will be. Another valuable feature under this scheme is that holidays,
birthdays and all special dates will be
of 364 days, leaving a shortage of 1 1/4
days plus, which may be taken up in Centuary or any other month when enough time has accumulated to make an extra week. The present calendar takes an extra day every four years to keep us in line with solar time. Now, for the sake of permanency, why not allow the loss of time to run on until
we have enough to make an extra week?

My calendar is very simple, equally
complete and on a par with standard time. It is practicable in every way
and abreast with this progressive age."

Mr. Bundy has gathered all the extra days over and above 28 in each month
from the present calendar and formed Centuary, and while he has placed it
after December he is inclined to think
the new month should be the first of
the year on account of the world's attachment to Christmas and its time in solar calculation, but in constructing a calendar for the whole world holidays
should be considered last. If the new month is placed as the first, our local holidays will come later, excepting Thanksgiving and Christmas, and if
last they will come earlier, but in no case, it is claimed, will the change be serious, as the objection will be almost wholly a matter of sentiment.

Should Centuary become the first month the first holiday to disappear
would be New Year's day. Then comes Washington's birthday, Feb. 22, which
is on the fifty-third day of the year
now. Under the change it would come the last Thursday in January, which would be the 25th. "But is there any serious objection," the author asks, "to paying respect to his memory on the seventy-eighth day of the year and continue to observe Monday, Feb. 22, as heretofore?" Next comes Memorial day. There being no month with 30 days, it disappears. Now it is under the one hundred and fiftieth day,
which, under the change, would be Wednesday, May 10. The present date has been considered by many a little too early, as it is nearly always cool
and flowers scarce. The 28th day of May would overcome both of these objections. Independence day on the 4th of July comes on the one hundred and eighty-fifth day of the year. By the new calendar the one hundred and eighty-fifth day would be June 17.

Now Thanksgiving comes the last Thursday in November, or the three hundred and twenty-ninth day of the year. The new calendar would bring it on the three hundred and thirty-third day—the last Thursday, as now. Christmas comes on the three hundred and fifty-ninth day now; then it would come on the three hundred and sixty-first day, or the last Thursday of December.

Mr. Bundy is the recipient of many letters daily approving the change. The suggestion, he says, continues to grow
in favor and is drawing to its support
many progressive thinkers, who say
there is nothing in the way of its success but some matters of sentiment.

NEW CALENDAR SCHEME

Bundy's Plan For a Thirteen Months Year.

UNIFORMITY TO BE ITS OBJECT.

the Year Into Months of Twenty-
eight Days Each—Hopes His Calendar Will Be Adopted at Beginning
of the Next Century.

Mr. C. H. Bundy of Marion, Ind.,
was in Muncie the other day. Mr. Bundy is the now famous inventor of the
new calendar which he expects to see
universally adopted in 1900. Mr. Bundy, when asked regarding his unique
idea for a new calendar for 1900, with 13 months of 28 days each, said:
"When the present calendar was adopted, an error was made which makes it
necessary to drop leap year in 1900,
that the calendar may be exact with a correct solar reckoning. The history of early calendars is very unreliable, but
enough is known to show that they were numerous and incorrect. I have
have designed and have a copyright on
adopted at the beginning of the next
century."

Mr. Bundy divides the year into 13
months of four weeks each. As 1900
comes in on Monday, and as Monday is
the first day of the commercial week,
he makes it the first day of the month.
The new month is called Centuary, because of the time of its proposed adoption—the end of one century and the beginning of another. Under the Bundy
calendar the months do not begin and
end on different days in the week, as is
now the case, greatly to our confusion.

Bundy, in explaining its features, "will
be good for all years to come, dating
from the time of its adoption. By this arrangement it will not be necessary to
look for or consult a last year's calendar or to compute time to find what
day of the week or month a certain date
was or will be. Another valuable feature under this scheme is that holidays,

of 364 days, leaving a shortage of 1 1/4
days plus, which may be taken up in

keep us in line with solar time. Now,
for the sake of permanency, why not
allow the loss of time to run on until
we have enough to make an extra week?
My calendar is very simple, equally
complete and on a par with standard
time. It is practicable in every way
and abreast with this progressive age."

Mr. Bundy has gathered all the extra
days over and above 28 in each month
from the present calendar and formed Centuary, and while he has placed it
after December he is inclined to think
the new month should be the first of
the year on account of the world's attachment to Christmas and its time in solar calculation, but in constructing a
calendar for the whole world holidays
should be considered last. If the new month is placed as the first, our local
holidays will come later, excepting Thanksgiving and Christmas, and if

would be New Year's day. Then comes Washington's birthday, Feb. 22, which
is on the fifty-third day of the year now.
Under the change it would come the last Thursday in January, which would be the 25th. "But is there any serious objection," the author asks, "to paying respect to his memory on the
seventy-eighth day of the year and continue to observe Monday, Feb. 22, as heretofore?" Next comes Memorial day. There being no month with 30

Centuary or any other month when
enough time has accumulated to make an extra week. The present calendar
takes an extra day every four years to keep us in line with solar time. Now,
for the sake of permanency, why not
allow the loss of time to run on until
we have enough to make an extra week?
My calendar is very simple, equally complete and on a par with standard time.
It is practicable in every way
and abreast with this progressive age."

Mr. Bundy has gathered all the extra
days over and above 28 in each month
from the present calendar and formed Centuary, and while he has placed it
after December he is inclined to think
the new month should be the first of
the year on account of the world's attachment to Christmas and its time in solar calculation, but in constructing a
calendar for the whole world holidays
should be considered last. If the new month is placed as the first, our local
holidays will come later, excepting Thanksgiving and Christmas, and if
case, it is claimed, will the change be serious, as the objection will be almost wholly a matter of sentiment.

Should Centuary become the first
month the first holiday to disappear
would be New Year's day. Then comes Washington's birthday, Feb. 22, which
is on the fifty-third day of the year now.
Under the change it would come the last Thursday in January, which
serious objection," the author asks, "to paying respect to his memory on the
seventy-eighth day of the year and continue to observe Monday, Feb. 22, as heretofore?" Next comes Memorial day. There being no month with 30
days, it disappears. Now it is under the one hundred and fiftieth day, which, under the change, would be Wednesday, May 10. The present date
has been considered by many a little too early, as it is nearly always cool
and flowers scarce. The 28th day of May would overcome both of these objections. Independence day on the 4th
of July comes on the one hundred and eighty-fifth day of the year. By the new calendar the one hundred and
eighty-fifth day would be June 17.
Now Thanksgiving comes the last Thursday in November, or the three hundred and twenty-ninth day of the year. The new calendar would bring it
on the three hundred and thirty-third
day—the last Thursday, as now. Christmas comes on the three hundred and sixty-ninth day now; then it would come on the three hundred and sixty-
first day, or the last Thursday of December.

Mr. Bundy is the recipient of many letters daily approving the change. The suggestion, he says, continues to grow
many progressive thinkers, who say
there is nothing in the way of its success but some matters of sentiment.
Mr. Bundy is a native of Ohio and was at one time in business in St
Louis, but has of late years been engaged in the newspaper business.

SO AGUINALDO says the war is to go on. It probably will—go right on over him and he'll never know what struck him.

IF Carnegie really wants to be a benefactor to the American people he will spend the rest of his life in England and keep his mouth shut.

AS USUAL the biggest part of the news about factional fights among Ohio Republicans appears in the Democratic papers. The wish is father to the item.

GOVERNOR STONE, of Pennsylvania, has slashed a million off the state appropriation for public schools. Proper retrenchment in salaries and grabs at Harrisburg would have saved the Keystone state the humiliation of a backward step in educational finance.

AN INDIVIDUAL described as General John Beatty, of Columbus, is quoted as saying: "I concluded that McKinley and the members of his cabinet had simply been making asses of themselves, as has been their custom at least once a week for the past year." If General Beatty only made an ass of himself once a week it wouldn't be so bad. There are evidently no intervals when General Beatty does not make an ass of himself.

HONOR FOR MR. TAYLER.

The suggestion from the Ohio State Journal, the leading Republican paper of the state capital, that Congressman Robert W. Tayler, of this district, would be an available and suitable chairman of the Republican state convention, will be heartily welcomed in this city and county, where Mr. Tayler's worth and ability are known and fully appreciated. In selecting Mr. Tayler for the position the state leaders would appropriately honor a worthy Republican and recognize the staunch Republicanism of this county and district.

Fun in the Diamond.

This morning in the Diamond a man held up the drivers of two coal wagons and called them hard names while a large crowd collected. The parties did not come to blows, as the drivers would not get off their wagons and the man on the street did not care about climbing on the wagons.

EPWORTH LEAGUE DAY

The Tenth Anniversary Celebrated Yesterday.

At the First and Second M. E. Churches Last Evening—Class of 20 Graduated at the First and Officers Were Installed at the East End.

The services at the First M. E. church yesterday caused by the tenth anniversary of the Epworth League were largely attended both morning and evening. The program for the morning session was closely followed. At the first session three persons were baptized, two being children. The evening service was very interesting. The church was well filled, and the services were conducted by A. J. Savage, president of the league. On the platform were officers of the league. After devotional exercises Rev. Clark Crawford examined a class of 20 juniors which graduated into the senior department.

The Epworth League is the outgrowth of the Young People's Methodist Alliance, the Young People's Christian League, the Methodist Young People's Union and the Methodist Episcopal Alliance of America. On May 14, 1889, the leaders of the various societies met at Cleveland, and when their meeting closed the Epworth League of the Methodist Episcopal church was formed. Since that time societies have been constantly organizing, and today there is in the neighborhood of 20,000 chapters, with a membership of 1,700,000.

The society in this city has done much good work since its organization, and has been a power to the church in more ways than one. The membership of the league is increasing rapidly.

At the Second M. E. church last night Rev. W. H. Haverfield preached an interesting sermon to the league of that church. The church was well filled, many strangers being present. After the sermon the officers elected at the last business meeting of the league were installed.

ELDER JACKSON

Will Preach In This City Next Saturday Evening.

The quarterly conference of the First M. E. church will be held in the lecture room of that building next Saturday evening. The service will be in charge of Presiding Elder Jackson, of the Steubenville district of the Methodist Episcopal church. He will also preach the conference sermon. At this meeting reports of the Sunday school and of the Epworth League will be received. On the following Sunday the quarterly communion will be observed.

IMPROVEMENTS

At the Methodist Protestant Church to Be Commenced at Once.

By a large vote the congregation of the Methodist Protestant church yesterday decided to commence to improve the church building at once. Not less than $1,500 will be expended on the work which will commence this week. When this work is completed the congregation will take some action toward purchasing a pipe organ.

PLENTY OF THEM.

A Variety of Entertainments Were Held In the Diamond.

The Diamond presented a metropolitan appearance Saturday evening. In one part of the street a clown was giving a free exhibition while in another portion a prohibition speaker was making an address. The Salvation Army held forth directly across Sixth street. The clown had the largest crowd.

OBEYED THE LAW.

Yesterday Was a Very Orderly Day In the City.

The city was closed tighter yesterday than it has been for many years, and it was next to impossible to buy anything. Cigars and tobacco were sold in the city, but not in the open manner of the last few Sundays. The saloons were all closed and made no effort to sell.

Men's stylish readymade suits. Low price is what talks. They cost one-half what tailors ask. Good clothes of the high grade order is what sells today. See Joseph Bros.' line.

A RUNAWAY ACCIDENT

Mrs. E. Watson and Child Seriously Injured Today.

Mishap Occurs to a Family Party Driving to Lisbon—Husband, Wife and Child Thrown Out on the Roadside—Husband Escaped Injury.

LISBON, May 15.—[Special]—This morning while E. Watson, of near Wellsville, was driving down the hill to Lisbon where the East Liverpool and Wellsville roads join, the breeching broke and the horse started to kick and to run, throwing the buggy over and smashing it to pieces, and throwing Watson, his wife and 10-year-old child out of the rig. The wife and child were severely injured and were taken to the Spence residence. Mr. Watson himself was not hurt. The horse did not get away.

Marriage Licenses.

LISBON, May 12.—Special—Charles S. Green and Blanche Kirkbride, of Wellsville were granted a license to marry.

Religious and Irreligious Fishes.

Fishes are supposed to have no religion. Probably they are greatly maligned in that as well as in other respects. St. Anthony, as you know, used to preach to them and make their eyes glitter and their hearts beat by his eloquence. A Jewish story is told—I cannot, unfortunately, lay my hands on the passage just now—of a fish which leaves the sea on Saturday and does not return until Sunday, so as to be able to keep the Sabbath.

Other fishes, unlike their puritanical brother, do not observe the sacred day. The Koran gives a story of some very naughty fishes in David's time. Knowing that the Israelites were forbidden to catch fish on the Sabbath, the wicked creatures came out of the Red sea in unusual numbers and kept in sight of the people all through the day in order to tempt them. On the approach of night they returned to the sea again. In a fatal moment some of the Israelites yielded to the piscine blandishments, caught several of them and had them for dinner. Whereupon David cursed the Sabbath breakers, and God to show his displeasure, changed them into apes and pigs. For three days they remained in this unpleasant condition, when a violent storm arose and swept them into the sea.

The fish which brought the tribute money to our Lord is supposed to have been a haddock, which had strayed into the lake of Gennesaret. There are several legends which tell of miraculous finds in fishes.—Paris Messenger.

Rival For the Chrysanthemum. Cuba is to be made the American hothouse for the famous $30,000 Lawson pink. In the corridors of the Fifth Avenue hotel in New York the other day I met Thomas F. Galvin, the original grower of this now famous flower, and he told me that he has just returned from Cuba, where he has secured several acres of land which will be used for the propagation of the new flower. By scientific cultivation in the tropics, Mr. Galvin says, he anticipates being able to grow carnation blooms the year round that will be almost as large as sunflowers. At last the huge chrysanthemum has a dangerous rival.

SO AGUINALDO says the war is to go on. It probably will—go right on over him and he'll never know what struck him.

IF Carnegie really wants to be a benefactor to the American people he will spend the rest of his life in England and keep his mouth shut.

AS USUAL the biggest part of the news about factional fights among Ohio Republicans appears in the Democratic papers. The wish is 'further to the item.'

GOVERNOR STONE, of Pennsylvania, has slashed a million off the state appropriation for public schools. Proper retrenchment in salaries and grabs at Harrisburg would have saved the Keystone state the humiliation of a backward step in educational finance.

AN individual described as General John Beatty, of Columbus, is quoted as saying: "I concluded that McKinley and the members of his cabinet had simply been making asses of themselves, as has been their custom at least once a week for the past year." If General Beatty only made an ass of himself once a week it wouldn't be so bad. There are evidently no intervals when General Beatty does not make an ass of himself.

HONOR FOR MR. TAYLER.

The suggestion from the Ohio State Journal, the leading Republican paper of the state capital, that Congressman Robert W. Taylor, of this district, would be an available and suitable chairman of the Republican state convention, will be heartily welcomed in this city and county, where Mr. Taylor's worth and ability are known and fully appreciated. In selecting Mr. Taylor for the position the state leaders would appropriately honor a worthy Republican and recognize the staunch Republicanism of this county and district.

Fun in the Diamond.

This morning in the Diamond a man held up the drivers of two coal wagons and called them hard names while a large crowd collected. The parties did not come to blows, as the drivers would not get off their wagons and the man on the street did not care about climbing on the wagons.

EPWORTH LEAGUE DAY

The Tenth Anniversary Celebrated Yesterday.

At the First and Second M. E. Churches Last Evening—Class of 20 Graduated at the First and Officers Were Installed at the East End.

The services at the First M. E. church yesterday caused by the tenth anniversary of the Epworth League were largely attended both morning and evening. The program for the morning session was closely followed. At the first session three persons were baptized, two being children. The evening service was very interesting. The church was well filled, and the services were conducted by A. J. Savage, president of the league. On the platform were officers of the league. After devotional exercises Rev. Clark Crawford examined a class of 20 juniors which graduated into the senior department.

The work of the senior league was told by the officers who served during the past six months.

The Epworth League is the outgrowth of the Young People's Methodist Alliance, the Young People's Christian League, the Methodist Young People's Union and the Methodist Episcopal Alliance of America. On May 14, 1889, the leaders of the various societies met at Cleveland, and when their meeting closed the Epworth League of the Methodist Episcopal church was formed. Since that time societies have been constantly organizing, and today there is in the neighborhood of 20,000 chapters, with a membership of 1,700,000.

The society in this city has done much good work since its organization, and has been a power to the church in more ways than one. The membership of the league is increasing rapidly.

At the Second M. E. church last night Rev. W. H. Haverfield preached an interesting sermon to the league of that church. The church was well filled, many strangers being present. After the sermon the officers elected at the last business meeting of the league were installed.

ELDER JACKSON

Will Preach In This City Next Saturday Evening.

The quarterly conference of the First M. E. church will be held in the lecture room of that building next Saturday evening. The service will be in charge of Presiding Elder Jackson, of the Steubenville district of the Methodist Episcopal church. He will also preach the conference sermon. At this meeting reports of the Sunday school and of the Epworth League will be received. On the following Sunday the quarterly communion will be observed.

IMPROVEMENTS

At the Methodist Protestant Church to Be Commenced at Once.

By a large vote the congregation of the Methodist Protestant church yesterday decided to commence to improve the church building at once. Net less than $1,500 will be expended on the work which will commence this week. When this work is completed the congregation will take some action toward purchasing a pipe organ.

PLENTY OF THEM.

A Variety of Entertainments Were Held In the Diamond.

The Diamond presented a metropolitan appearance Saturday evening. In one part of the street a clown was giving a free exhibition while in another portion a prohibition speaker was making an address. The Salvation Army held forth directly across Sixth street. The clown had the largest crowd.

OBEYED THE LAW.

Yesterday Was a Very Orderly Day in the City.

The city was closed tighter yesterday than it has been for many years, and it was next to impossible to buy anything. Cigars and tobacco were sold in the city, but not in the open manner of the last few Sundays. The saloons were all closed and made no effort to sell.

passage just now—of a fish which leaves the sea on Saturday and does not return until Sunday, so as to be able to keep the Sabbath.

Other fishes, unlike their puritanical brother, do not observe the sacred day. The Koran gives a story of some very naughty fishes in David's time. Knowing that the Israelites were forbidden to catch fish on the Sabbath, the wicked creatures came out of the Red sea in unusual numbers and kept in sight of the people all through the day in order to tempt them. On the approach of night they returned to the sea again.

Rival For the Chrysanthemum.

Cuba is to be made the American hothouse for the famous $30,000 Lawson pink. In the corridors of the Fifth Avenue hotel in New York the other day I met Thomas F. Galvin, the original grower of this now famous flower, and he told me that he has just returned from Cuba, where he has secured several acres of land which will be used for the propagation of the new flower. By scientific cultivation in the tropics, Mr. Galvin says, he anticipated being able to grow carnation blooms the year round that will be almost as large as sunflowers. At last the huge chrysanthemum has a dangerous rival.

VALUATION REDUCED

In Two Wards by the Assessors' Board.

AN INCREASE IN THE SECOND

Offset by a Cut in the Third and Fourth. First Not Completed--Assessors Went to Lisbon This Morning to File Reports with the Auditor.

Saturday the assessors completed their work with the exception of Mr. McHenry, of the First ward. They met in an office in the Stevenson block Saturday night and finished their books, and this morning at 6:30 o'clock they left for Lisbon where they presented their books to Judge Boone and Auditor Harvey. Messrs. Kinsey, Deitz and Croxall were seen before they left this morning and gave the following as a result of their work:

In the second ward Assessor Kinsey found the valuation to be in the neighborhood of $150,000. This is an increase of $5,500 over the valuation of last year. In this ward were found to be 887 persons able to vote, and only 75 dogs were found.

The Third ward was gone over by Henry Deitz, and the valuation decreased considerably since last year. Property to the value of $80,000 was booked, and 700 voters were listed. But 25 dog owners were found, which is a marked decrease from the report of last year.

Assessor Croxall stated the valuation of the property in the Sixth ward was placed at $28,660, while last year the valuation was $31,970. This shows a decrease of $3,310 over the last report. In the ward 801 male persons over 21 years were found, and 101 dogs will be taxed.

The assessors when asked the cause of the decrease in valuation of the Third and Fourth wards, said the majority of the money that was tied up last year has been released and invested, and that more was being released and placed in investments every day.

WORKING ON SUNDAY

Contractor McNally Arrested by Officer White.

WAS MOVING THE STEAM SHOVEL

On the Wharf Sunday Morning, and Will be Given a Hearing Tomorrow--Several Drunks Arrested and Tried This Morning--Box Car Sleeper Pinched.

There were an unusual number of arrests made yesterday and Saturday night, and this morning Mayor Bough had a motley crowd to dispose of. Once more a resident of Salineville was gathered in, as was a resident of Pennsylvania.

Saturday night Officer Grim, in an alley back of the opera house, arrested four men who gave the names of Frank Smith, John Burris, Caleb Seibert and John Owens, Jr. They were charged with obscene conduct, and made arrangements to appear before the mayor this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Yesterday morning Officers McDonald and Bettridge made a trip through Dew Drop alley, and during their travels gathered in Terry Alcock and William Swaney. They were taken to jail in the patrol, where a charge of intoxication was placed against them. This morning Alcock was fined $7.60 and Swaney $9.60. The latter was released, while the former is still in jail in default of payment.

Last evening Bart Brown was arrested by Officer Mahoney on a charge of being drunk. He was taken to jail and this morning he was fined $9.60. He is still a guest of the city in default of payment.

Eli McGaffick, of Salineville, was arrested by Officer White yesterday. He was found sleeping in a box car, having gone there when he was not feeling good. He gave security for his appearance this evening.

Yesterday morning Officer White arrested George McNally, the Pittsburgh contractor, who is building the extension of the Cumberland branch. He was taken to city hall, and after a short consultation with the mayor he was allowed to go to appear later in the week.

McNally was arrested on a charge of common labor on Sunday. He was superintending the work of taking a steam shovel down the Broadway wharf. The law under which McNally was arrested, in substance, is as follows: "Whoever, over 14 years old engages in common labor on the first of the week called Sunday shall, on complaint made within 10 days after, upon conviction, be fined for the first offense $25, and for each subsequent offense such person shall be fined not less than $50 or more than $100, and imprisonment not less than five days or more than 30 days."

Officer Woods this afternoon arrested a man who gave the name of Rohe. He was drunk, and found sleeping in Blackmore's alley, near Broadway. He was taken to jail in the patrol, where a charge of intoxication was placed against him.

Attending a Convention.

Rev. Edwin Weary is in Cleveland attending the general convention of the Episcopal church of this district. The delegates from St. Stephen's church will leave this evening.

Davis, C. R. Chaney, William Morrow and Dan Tarr. The jury brought in a verdict for $24.45 for the plaintiff.

The case of Jacob Nagle, who sues Frank Rue for a grocery bill of $66, was tried before Squire Riley Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock, and will come up for a second hearing this afternoon, when, if matters cannot be settled between the two parties, the case will be taken up before the common pleas court at the next session.

Solinger-Johnson.

The wedding of Harry H. Solinger and Miss Edna Johnson will take place at the residence of Doctor Holtz this evening at 6 o'clock. The happy couple will leave for a week's trip east immediately after the ceremony, and on their return will go to housekeeping on Commerce street. Mr. Solinger and Miss Johnson are well known and have the good wishes of their friends.

The New M. E. Church.

S. K. Bradley, of Cleveland, the architect who is to make plans for the new Methodist Episcopal church, will be here this week, when he will give specifications and cost. Doctor Holtz stated this morning that he hoped to have the church finished by the time the East Ohio conference meets here on Sept. 13.

Drunk and Disorderly.

William Rudy became very drunk and disorderly Saturday night and was locked up for safe keeping by Officer Winn. The mayor this morning fined him $2 and costs which he paid and was released.

The Tax Levy.

by her sister, Mrs. Call, of Waynesburg, have gone to Carrollton where she will attend the funeral of her grandfather, Mr. McGuire, of that city.

STORY ABOUT FUNSTON.

How the Famous Colonel Lost a West Point Cadetship.

"Colonel Fred Funston of the Twentieth Kansas volunteers, who is making such a record as a fighter in the Philippine campaign, will never get over his disappointment at not going to West Point about 14 years ago," said one of Funston's classmates at the Kansas State university to a New York Tribune reporter recently after reading the dispatches from Manila. The narrator, who is a machine manufacturer in New York, had a number of stories to tell about Funston. This was one of them: "Funston is a native of Ohio, and, although one of the smallest men in the university, he was one of the pluckiest. Before going to the university, from which, by the way, he was not graduated, owing to his being dull in studies, he tried the examination for a West Point cadetship. If I remember rightly, this was about 14 or 15 years ago, when Funston was a mere stripling and when his father was a congressman from a southern Kansas district.

"Fred's father had at his disposal, subject to competitive examination, a cadetship, and Fred, after filling his mind with United States history and practicing at marksmanship and sword exercise for months, went into the examination, which was held, I think, at Paola. Fred was confident. That's the way he is built, by the way, notwithstanding that he is small and redheaded, and he thought that the cadetship was a sure thing. His father thought so, too, and no doubt helped Fred along as much as possible.

"In the examination were half a dozen farmers' sons, among them a fellow named Charles Crawford. This Crawford knew a thing or two himself and had a much better all around store of knowledge than Funston possessed. When the papers were examined, Crawford was found to be the winner by a handsome margin, with Fred a poor second.

"The disappointment nearly broke Funston's heart, and he was as savage as a bulldog for months afterward. Fred was named as the alternate, and he had a gleam of hope that Crawford would be killed in a cyclone or get struck by lightning or get crippled in a railroad smash up, and that as alternate he would go to West Point after all. But Crawford was an unusually healthy fellow and went to the Military academy, where he was graduated well up in his class. He accepted a lieutenancy in the army and in the Santiago campaign was brevetted captain for gallant conduct under fire. He is now a lieutenant in the Twenty-first infantry, and he left San Francisco for Manila three weeks ago with his regiment.

"Now Funston is a colonel, with the prospect of speedily becoming a brigadier general, and it is possible that Crawford, who will arrive in Manila as a lieutenant, will have his regiment assigned to Funston's brigade. That might not please Crawford, but no doubt it would take away some of the sting of 15 years ago, when Crawford's superior ability wrecked one of Funston's most fondly cherished hopes."

A Barnum Surprise.

A good story of the late George Augustus Sala and Barnum is told. It was on the occasion of the last visit of the famous showman to England, when a public dinner was tendered to Mr. Barnum. Mr. Sala presided. In the reception room, where all were waiting to welcome the guest of the evening, Mr. Barnum came in beaming, and, shaking hands with the chairman, said,

"This is indeed a surprise to me."

"Did you hear that?" Mr. Sala whispered. "Why, he arranged for the dinner himself."

Injured Innocence.

"That, sir," exclaimed the indignant merchant, "is what I call a gratuitous falsehood."

"It's nothing of the kind," replied the unscrupulous salesman. "I get a salary and a commission for telling that falsehood."

WASHINGTON, May 15. --[Special]-- The cable from London stating that Aguinaldo has wired the Filipino Junta there that the war is to go on indefinitely is doubted, but if it be genuine it means the abandonment of hopes of early peace.

Leadville Reinvigorated.

With the beginning of May the camp at Leadville, Colo., again resumes a prosperous air, and from every side comes the good news of resumption of work. Some of the far outlying sections, where the soft but deep snow still impedes progress, will soon be adding their quota to the daily output of the district, which, inside of 30 days, will be the heaviest recorded in the camp. This general activity marks a new era for Leadville. --Denver Republican.

A Chance For Some Girl.

The correspondent of the Fort Scott Monitor in Manila recites a conversation had with a native Filipino who is a fine musician. He wanted to go to America, he said, but wouldn't like to start unless he could be sure that he would be able to find an American wife. WORKING ON SUNDAY

Contractor McNally Arrested by Officer White.

On the Wharf Sunday Morning, and Will be Given a Hearing Tomorrow--Several Drunks Arrested and Tried This Morning--Box Car Sleeper Pinched.

There were an unusual number of arrests made yesterday and Saturday night, and this morning Mayor Bough had a motley crowd to dispose of. Once more a resident of Salineville was gathered in, as was a resident of Pennsylvania.

Saturday night Officer Grim, in an alley back of the opera house, arrested four men who gave the names of Frank Smith, John Burris, Caleb Seibert and John Owens, Jr. They were charged with obscene conduct, and made arrangements to appear before the mayor this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Yesterday morning Officers McDonald and Bettridge made a trip through Dew Drop alley, and during their travels gathered in Terry Alcock and William Swaney. They were taken to jail in the patrol, where a charge of intoxication was placed against them. This morning Alcock was fined $7.60 and Swaney $9.60. The latter was released, while the former is still in jail in default of payment.

Last evening Bart Brown was arrested by Officer Mahoney on a charge of being drunk. He was taken to jail and this morning he was fined $9.60. He is still a guest of the city in default of payment.

Eli McGaffick, of Salineville, was arrested by Officer White yesterday. He was found sleeping in a box car, having gone there when he was not feeling good. He gave security for his appearance this evening.

Yesterday morning Officer White arrested George McNally, the Pittsburgh contractor, who is building the extension of the Cumberland branch. He was taken to city hall, and after a short consultation with the mayor he was allowed to go to appear later in the week.

McNally was arrested on a charge of common labor on Sunday. He was superintending the work of taking a steam shovel down the Broadway wharf. The law under which McNally was arrested, in substance, is as follows: "Whoever, over 14 years old engages in common labor on the first of the week called Sunday shall, on complaint made within 10 days after, upon conviction, be fined for the first offense $25, and for each subsequent offense such person shall be fined not less than $50 or more than $100, and imprisonment not less than five days or more than 30 days."

Officer Woods this afternoon arrested a man who gave the name of Rohe. He was drunk, and found sleeping in Blackmore's alley, near Broadway. He was taken to jail in the patrol, where a charge of intoxication was placed against him.

Attending a Convention. Rev. Edwin Weary is in Cleveland attending the general convention of the Episcopal church of this district. The delegates from St. Stephen's church will leave this evening.

High grade readymade suits are cut by expert, fine, journeymen tailors, and today people are realizing their good merits, of fit, style and make. These suits have no fancy prices. Joseph Bros. have them in prices ranging from $8 to $15.

Trustees Will Meet. The trustees of Spring Grove camp-ground will meet this evening and arrange plans for the coming season.

STORY ABOUT FUNSTON.

How the Famous Colonel Lost a West Point Cadetship.

"Colonel Fred Funston of the Twentieth Kansas volunteers, who is making such a record as a fighter in the Philippine campaign, will never get over his disappointment at not going to West Point about 14 years ago," said one of Funston's classmates at the Kansas State university to a New York Tribune reporter recently after reading the dispatches from Manila. The narrator, who is a machine manufacturer in New York, had a number of stories to tell about Funston. This was one of them:

"Funston is a native of Ohio, and, although one of the smallest men in the university, he was one of the pluckiest. Before going to the university, from which, by the way, he was not graduated, owing to his being dull in studies, he tried the examination for a West Point cadetship. If I remember rightly, this was about 14 or 15 years ago, when Funston was a mere stripling and when his father was a congressman from a southern Kansas district.

"Fred's father had at his disposal, subject to competitive examination, a cadetship, and Fred, after filling his mind with United States history and practicing at marksmanship and sword exercise for months, went into the examination, which was held, I think, at Paola. Fred was confident. That's the way he is built, by the way, notwithstanding that he is small and redheaded, and he thought that the cadetship was a sure thing. His father thought so, too, and no doubt helped Fred along as much as possible.

"In the examination were half a dozen farmers' sons, among them a fellow named Charles Crawford. This Crawford knew a thing or two himself and had a much better all around store of knowledge than Funston possessed. When the papers were examined, Crawford was found to be the winner by a handsome margin, with Fred a poor second.

"The disappointment nearly broke Funston's heart, and he was as savage as a bulldog for months afterward. Fred was named as the alternate, and he had a gleam of hope that Crawford would be killed in a cyclone or get struck by lightning or get crippled in a railroad smash up, and that as alternate he would go to West Point after all. But Crawford was an unusually healthy fellow and went to the Military academy, where he was graduated well up in his class. He accepted a lieutenancy in the army and in the Santiago campaign was brevetted captain for gallant conduct under fire. He is now a lieutenant in the Twenty-first infantry, and he left San Francisco for Manila three weeks ago with his regiment.

"Now Funston is a colonel, with the prospect of speedily becoming a brigadier general, and it is possible that Crawford, who will arrive in Manila as a lieutenant, will have his regiment assigned to Funston's brigade. That might not please Crawford, but no doubt it would take away some of the sting of 15 years ago, when Crawford's superior ability wrecked one of Funston's most fondly cherished hopes."

Mr. Sala presided. In the reception room, where all were waiting to welcome the guest of the evening, Mr. Barnum came in, beaming, and, shaking hands with the chairman, said

VALUATION REDUCED

In Two Wards by the Assessors' Board.

Offset by a Cut in the Third and Fourth. First Not Completed--Assessors Went to Lisbon This Morning to File Reports with the Auditor.

Saturday the assessors completed their work with the exception of Mr. McHenry, of the First ward. They met in an office in the Stevenson block Saturday night and finished their books, and this morning at 6:30 o'clock they left for Lisbon where they presented their books to Judge Boone and Auditor Harvey. Messrs. Kinsey, Deitz and Croxall were seen before they left this morning and gave the following as a result of their work:

In the second ward Assessor Kinsey found the valuation to be in the neighborhood of $150,000. This is an increase of $5,500 over the valuation of last year. In this ward were found to be 887 persons able to vote, and only 75 dogs were found.

The Third ward was gone over by Henry Deitz, and the valuation decreased considerably since last year. Property to the value of $80,000 was booked, and 700 voters were listed. But 25 dog owners were found, which is a marked decrease from the report of last year.

Assessor Croxall stated the valuation of the property in the Sixth ward was placed at $28,660, while last year the valuation was $31,970. This shows a decrease of $3,310 over the last report. In the ward 801 male persons over 21 years were found, and 101 dogs will be taxed.

The assessors when asked the cause of the decrease in valuation of the Third and Fourth wards, said the majority of the money that was tied up last year has been released and invested, and that more was being released and placed in investments every day.

OTIS ON PHILIPPINES.

Returned Commander Talks of Situation In the Islands.

THINKS WAR IS SURE TO BE BRIEF.

Filipinos, Rent By Dissensions, Short of Ammunition and Resources and Utterly Ignorant of Warfare, Must Soon Surrender—Value of Islands, Form of Government Discussed.

Brigadier General Harrison Gray Otis, who reached Los Angeles, Cal., from Manila on May 8, is naturally the best authority now in the United States on the situation and prospects in the Philippines. He gives in the following article the results of his observation and experience in the islands:

The duration of the pending campaign in the Philippines is bound to be brief. It is impossible for the army under Aguinaldo to continue the fight, and there is no hope of military success even if the fight should be continued indefinitely. Neither the embattled Filipinos nor the so called Filipino government have the resources necessary to insure success. They are without adequate arms and ammunition; they are without horse artillery or a navy; they have no sufficient commissariat, but are compelled to live precariously off the country; they have no treasury; they have no efficient organization; they are without commanders of knowledge and capacity for modern warfare, and, finally, they are without cohesion.

There is no solidarity in the patriotism of the population, if patriotism it be. The different island peoples are at odds with each other, and they will never submit to Tagalo rule, to Aguinaldo or any of his associate job seeking statesmen. The Filipino soldiers and mimic warriors are not without pluck, as they have shown in the various actions since the first outbreak took place, but they do not know how to fight and are no match for the valorous and intrepid American volunteers and regulars who have "gone up against" them in the duty of suppressing a rebellion against the authority of the United States and of vindicating the flag of the Republic which they wantonly assailed.

So that defeat—and complete defeat—must be the portion of the revolutionary government. I look for an unconditional surrender in the very near future. American interests in the Philippines are in good hands. Trust to Dewey on the sea and Major General Otis on the land to do their work well and thoroughly. The preposterous barefoot fighters of the Philippines must go down before the invincible American sailors and soldiers, whose armed opposition they have unwarrantably provoked.

The character of the natives does not, of course, commend itself highly to the respect of enlightened American or European peoples; yet they are not without their virtues, and under firm and just rule, with their natural rights guaranteed to them, they can be made capable of much good. But they certainly have not that capacity for self government which would warrant turning over the country to their civil and military control. They are not, as I have already said, united in their desire for autonomy and native self government, and if Aguinaldo and his fellows should be turned loose to manage the country and its government they would fail.

The different tribes of the archipelago would quarrel among themselves, and the whole experiment would end in more or less picturesque throat cutting. The value of the islands as American possessions is, I think, beyond dispute, because of their extent, their rich natural resources, as yet only partially developed, and their favorable geographical position in the Pacific, on the direct track from America to the orient.

The openings afforded in the Philippines for the employment of American capital are neither few nor unimportant, but, in order that success may follow, they must be investigated with thoroughness and intelligence, and seized upon only after right conditions have been ascertained to exist; otherwise serious mistakes are liable to occur there, as elsewhere, under like conditions. What I mean is that Americans of enterprise and capital should not be precipitate in planting themselves in our new possessions. "Fools rush in where angels fear to tread."

As to settlement by average American farmers, laborers, artisans and home builders, my judgment is that our people should go slow. Without careful previous investigation they might make serious mistakes and possibly regret their change of home and habitat. When it comes to considering the question of making a living and acquiring profit in that country through the labor of the hands, it must be borne in mind that the climate is a formidable obstacle to complete success, not that it is, in fact, an unhealthy climate—I speak of the northern island of Luzon, which is a healthy region as a whole—but the heat throughout eight or nine months of the year is so intense as to prevent American or European laborers from averaging more than three or four hours a day in out of door manual employments.

The resources of the country, if developed through American enterprise, energy and capital, must be developed largely by the use of native labor under American management. The methods, industrial, social and political, of a century cannot be changed in a day nor in a year, nor even in a decade. The attempt to supplant native labor cannot be accomplished without injustice, disturbance and possible revolution. Besides, the native laborers of the country have the natural and indefeasible right to perform its labor so far as they are willing, qualified and able.

Under American administration of the island numbers of our citizens can find advantageous openings as capitalists, owners, directors, managers, assistant managers, foremen, subforemen, bookkeepers, clerks and agents and other places of responsibility more or less important. But none of these classes should depend upon the country without having first laid the groundwork for success. Neither the skilled nor unskilled labor of that country can compete with ours, and it is not worth nearly as much per man, but there are countless numbers of these Filipino laborers, and they can do the work when properly directed. Not being able to accomplish as much as an equal number of American laborers would accomplish, they, of course, do not and should not command such high wages. Besides, they can live on less and are content with less.

The government of the Philippines will not be an easy problem, but nevertheless it is a problem which American genius, justice and determination can solve. The government for the islands should be strong, firm, simple and as absolutely just as it is possible for human government to be. Our government should not undertake to overrun the islands with a horde of civil office-holders and their hangers on. It is, in the first place, not necessary and, in the next place, would surely result in corruption, extravagance, injustice and opposition.

A government largely military, at least for the immediate future, is the one best adapted to the country. There are many minor civil offices which might be advantageously filled by intelligent native Filipinos, some of whom have had experience and have been put to the test under the former Spanish regime.

I would go as far in that direction as safety might sanction, but I would keep the real government of the country in the control of the United States, in the hands of its army and navy, with but one flag, and that the stars and stripes. I believe this course would produce the best results for that country and for this.

A vast American trade with the orient is one of the commercial certainties of the early years of the dawning century. We will yet load untold ships with American products to be sold at good prices to the teeming millions of China and the far east and make uncounted millions of profit out of the traffic, and we need the Philippines as a three-quarter-of-the-way station in the Pacific.—New York World.

THE BANDS OF MERCY.

Pledge Taken by Twenty Thousand School Children in Kansas City.

"We will harm no living thing." Twenty thousand school children in Kansas City have taken that gentle pledge. How many persons truly appreciate the significance of thus committing the youth of the community to the merciful treatment of dumb animals and all of the defenseless creatures—birds, insects and even the despised worms—with which nature has peopled the globe?

When the children from all of the schools in Kansas City marched through the streets Friday, waving thousands of bright little banners and exploding in joyous and penetrating treble their "Rah, rah, rahs!" there were visions of that golden age when no thoughtless boy will rob birds' nests or persecute friendless cats or inflict harm on homeless dogs or ever pull the wings from troublesome flies. There was also a forecast of the time when the merciful man who is merciful to his beast will greatly increase in the earth and when animals, which have no voices to make their wants and their miseries known, will meet with the kindly sympathy which their helplessness invites.—Kansas City Star.

STUDENTS' GHOST DANCE.

Weird Midnight Scene in the Pennsylvania University Quadrangle.

The vaunted "student self control" of Pennsylvania is a thing of the past and the university authorities will doubtless feel called upon to put some restrictions on undergraduates. The cause of it all was a smoker held by the Architectural society the other night in House H of the dormitories. Student enthusiasm ran high and others living in that house joined in the fun. The contagion spread and soon 200 students were rolling and tumbling on the grass of the triangle, clad only in nightshirts or pyjamas.

In vain did the proctors of House H strive to keep down such unseemly spirit; then, giving up the task, they began to procure names for the university authorities. And some good names they had to take. Not only the most popular athletes—members of the varsity football and baseball teams and crews, but sons of prominent university officers and promising scions of Philadelphia's most prominent families joined in the unusual revel.

Such a sight was never witnessed before at Penn. The triangle would not hold the celebration and it spread to the "quad" or old athletic field. There a huge fire was kindled and piled high with brush, boxes and fenceposts. In the glare of the firelight round and round danced 100 varsity students in a crazy revel. They danced and whooped with the agility of Sioux. Then they took a turn at athletics, turning hand-springs and hurdling over the benches on the field. Then a doleful dirge was chanted, and it gave way in turn to the "Oskewowo!" and other college yells. "We're going to outdo Princeton," chirped one merrymaker, and so they did.

The sight of white robed university students dancing in a blaze of light at midnight was certainly a novel sight to every resident of West Philadelphia who saw it, and hundreds looked on. Every window along Woodland avenue, Thirty-seventh and Spruce streets for two squares was crowded, and a squad of policemen looked on in awe from the Twenty-first district station. "We won't interfere as long as they keep off the streets," said one officer, and the students knew that. Not since the night of the midnight cannon firing last fall has there been such a sensation furnished by student pranks, and this, like the former frolic, will probably be hushed up as quietly as possible on account of the high standing of many of the participants. The most that is expected is a drawing of the lines of authority a little tighter over "student self control."—Philadelphia Press.

CHURCH FOR PORTO RICO.

Bishop McLaren of Chicago to Organize One in San Juan.

Chicago claims the honor of establishing the first Episcopal church in the West Indies. The first congregation of this denomination in Uncle Sam's new possessions will be formally organized at San Juan, Porto Rico, with a membership of 36. Bishop McLaren of the Chicago diocese recently forwarded to San Juan documents authorizing the establishment of an Episcopal church in that city and appointed the Rev. George B. Pratt to assume charge of the new congregation as rector.

Mr. Pratt was formerly assistant rector of the Church of the Epiphany, Chicago, and is now in Porto Rico, engaged in religious work. He left the United States last February as the personal agent of Bishop McLaren, with instructions to visit Porto Rico and the adjacent islands for the purpose of making a careful survey of the field. He has since sent a number of favorable reports to the bishop on the outlook in the island and made strong recommendations for active missionary work among the natives.

As the result of his efforts Bishop McLaren several days ago received a petition signed by 36 residents of San Juan asking to have a church founded in that city and pledging $300 a year toward defraying the expense of the undertaking. Major General Guy Henry, the military governor of the island, was the first to sign the petition. Among the other signers are Colonel J. W. Russey, Major George W. Fishback, Captain Charles F. Mason, Major L. Breckmann, William Fawcett Smith, Paul C. Hulton, U. S. A., Carl R. Meltz, Captain H. A. Reed, Dora W. Hogan, Maria MacCormish and Bertha Zahn.

Last Easter morning a number of army officers and merchants gathered at a private dwelling in San Juan to worship, and at the conclusion of the service those present decided to found a church. It was decided to name it the Church of St. John the Baptist. The decision to found the church and send Mr. Pratt from Chicago as the first rector is the result.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Forest Reservations.

The 30 forest reservations of the United States embrace an area of 40,000,000 acres in 18 states and territories. Seven are in the state of California, the largest of which, the Sierra forest reserve, includes 4,006,000 acres. Within the past 35 years it is estimated that 11,000,000,000 feet board measure of timber on public land have been destroyed by forest fires.

OTIS ON PHILIPPINES.

Returned Commander Talks of Situation In the Islands.

THINKS WAR IS SURE TO BE BRIEF.

Filipinos, Rent By Dissensions, Short of Ammunition and Resources and Utterly Ignorant of Warfare, Must Soon Surrender—Value of Islands, Form of Government Discussed.

Brigadier General Harrison Gray Otis, who reached Los Angeles, Cal., from Manila on May 8, is naturally the best authority now in the United States on the situation and prospects in the Philippines. He gives in the following article the results of his observation and experience in the islands:

The duration of the pending campaign in the Philippines is bound to be brief. It is impossible for the army under Aguinaldo to continue the fight, and there is no hope of military success even if the fight should be continued indefinitely. Neither the embattled Filipinos nor the so called Filipino government have the resources necessary to insure success. They are without adequate arms and ammunition; they are without horse artillery or a navy; they have no sufficient commissariat, but are compelled to live precariously of the country; they have no treasury; they have no efficient organization; they are without commanders of knowledge and capacity for modern warfare, and, finally, they are without cohesion.

There is no solidarity in the patriotism of the population, if patriotism it be. The different island peoples are at odds with each other, and they will never submit to Tagalo rule, to Agui-naldo or any of his associate job seeking statesmen. The Filipino soldiers and mimic warriors are not without pluck, as they have shown in the various actions since the first outbreak took place, but they do not know how to fight and are no match for the valorous and intrepid American volunteers and regulars who have "gone up against" them in the duty of suppressing a rebellion against the authority of the United States and of vindicating the flag of the republic which they wantonly assailed.

So that defeat—and complete defeat—must be the portion of the revolutionary government. I look for an unconditional surrender in the very near future.

American interests in the Philippines are in good hands. Trust to Dewey on the sea and Major General Otis on the land to do their work well and thoroughly. The preposterous barefoot fighters of the Philippines must go down before the invincible American sailors and soldiers, whose armed opposition they have unwarrantably provoked.

The character of the natives does not, of course, commend itself highly to the respect of enlightened American or European peoples; yet they are not without their virtues, and under firm and just rule, with their natural rights guaranteed to them, they can be made capable of much good. But they certainly have not that capacity for self government which would warrant turning over the country to their civil and military control. They are not, as I have already said, united in their desire for autonomy and native self government, and if Aguinaldo and his fellows should be turned loose to manage the country and its government they would fail.

The different tribes of the archipelago would quarrel among themselves, and the whole experiment would end in more or less picturesque throat cutting. The value of the islands as American possessions is, I think, beyond dispute, because of their extent, their rich natural resources, as yet only partially developed, and their favorable geographical position in the Pacific, on the direct track from America to the orient.

The openings afforded in the Philippines for the employment of American capital are neither few nor unimportant, but, in order that success may follow, they must be investigated with thoroughness and intelligence, and seized upon only after right conditions have been ascertained to exist; otherwise serious mistakes are liable to occur there, as elsewhere under like conditions. What I mean is that Americans of enterprise and capital should not be precipitate in planting themselves in our new possessions. "Fools rush in where angels fear to tread."

CHURCH FOR PORTO RICO.

Bishop McLaren of Chicago to Organize One In San Juan.

Chicago claims the honor of establishing the first Episcopal church in the West Indies. The first congregation of this denomination in Uncle Sam's new possessions will be formally organized at San Juan, Porto Rico, with a membership of 36. Bishop McLaren of the Chicago diocese recently forwarded to San Juan documents authorizing the establishment of an Episcopal church in that city and appointed the Rev. George B. Pratt to assume charge of the new congregation as rector.

Mr. Pratt was formerly assistant rector of the Church of the Epiphany, Chicago, and is now in Porto Rico, engaged in religious work. He left the United States last February as the personal agent of Bishop McLaren, with instructions to visit Porto Rico and the adjacent islands for the purpose of making a careful survey of the field. He has since sent a number of favorable reports to the bishop on the outlook in the island and made strong recommendations for active missionary work among the natives.

As the result of his efforts Bishop McLaren several days ago received a petition signed by 36 residents of San Juan asking to have a church founded in that city and pledging $300 a year toward defraying the expense of the undertaking. Major General Guy Henry, the military governor of the island, was the first to sign the petition. Among the other signers are Colonel J. W. Russey, Major George W. Fishback, Captain Charles F. Mason, Major L. Breckmann, William Fawcett Smith, Paul C. Hulton, U. S. A., Carl R. Meltz, Captain H. A. Reed, Dora W. Hogan, Maria MacCornish and Bertha Zahn.

Last Easter morning a number of army officers and merchants gathered at a private dwelling in San Juan to worship, and at the conclusion of the service those present decided to found a church. It was decided to name it the Church of St. John the Baptist. The decision to found the church and send Mr. Pratt from Chicago as the first rector is the result.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

EQUATORIAL GLACIERS.

Twelve Big Ice Streams Found on Africa's Loftiest Mountain.

DISCOVERIES OF DR. HANS MEYER.

Noted Explorer Has Spent a Year Studying Mount Kilima-Njaro and Has Found Twelve Glaciers Descending From Its Snow Capped Peak on All Sides of the Mountain.

The energy of volcanic forces in all parts of the world appears to have attained its maximum in tropical regions. The greatest volcanoes are invariably found there, though other lines of eruption may extend far outside the equatorial area. Thus in Africa by far the greatest mountain masses of volcanic origin are in the neighborhood of the equator. Among them the peak of Ruweazori towers 17,400 feet above the sea, Kenia rises to a height of 19,000 feet, and Kibo, the highest summit of Kilima-Njaro, attains 19,760 feet. Kilima-Njaro is thus the loftiest mountain in Africa and lies just south of the equator.

Dr. Hans Meyer has just spent a season in the study of this giant among mountains, Kilima-Njaro, which has a place for all the climates of the world upon its slopes. From its tropical base to its ice crowned summit it affords facilities for the existence of every kind of plant and animal. No wonder that after its discovery by the missionary Rebmann, in 1848, it was always an object of much speculation and interest. Forty-five Europeans visited the mountain before Dr. Meyer in 1887 began the work that has given him the first place among its explorers. A number of his predecessors tried in vain to reach its snow crowned summit. Meyer succeeded only on his third attempt. In 1887 he attained the altitude of 17,880 feet, when he was compelled to turn back and rejoin his exhausted comrades below. He was again defeated in his attempt of 1888, but in 1889 he floundered through the snow to the top of Kaiser Wilhelm peak on the edge of the Kibo crater, the culminating point of Africa. There he saw a glacial stream emerging through a rift in the crater wall and moving down the west slope.

Since his conquest of the mountain much has been added to our knowledge of Kilima-Njaro by officials in the government of German east Africa and German naturalists who have spent many months in studying it. The writings of Dr. Lent, who was murdered by natives living on the mountain slope, and the book of Professor Volkens, published two years ago, recorded many observations of much merit. But nothing was added to the discoveries that Meyer made in the Alpine region of the mountain. Not one of his successors reached the ice of Kibo, though many made the attempt. It is almost impossible to induce the native assistants to enter the colder zone of the upper altitudes, but it was in this Alpine region that the most interesting problems remained to be solved. Here is the center of the upbuilding of the mountain and the area from which a thorough study of it may best be made. Dr. Meyer's plan last summer was to circle the mountain in the region of the ice and in the subarctic zone below it. His plans were successfully carried out in all respects, and the entire mountain mass, which extends for about 15 miles east and west and 20 miles north and south, may now be mapped in much detail.

In 1889 Dr. Meyer discovered one glacier proceeding from the snows of the summit. He has now mapped 12 of these ice streams. The brilliant success of his undertaking is due, in part, to the methods of travel which his previous experience suggested and to the excellent qualities of his black guides, who, having followed him once before above the snow limit, rendered him far more efficient service on his last visit. He provided every comfort which the conditions of mountain climbing permitted his party to enjoy. After each hard day's work the party crept into their warm fur sleeping bags, such as Dr. Nansen used in his arctic expedition. Thus assured good rest at night, they were fully refreshed and strengthened for the hard labors of the day.

On Aug. 9 last Dr. Meyer ascended the south slope of the mountain to study the great fissure that had been observed to the southeast of Mawenzi, the lower summit. He found that this long and wide depression was not excavated by erosion, but was the result of violent dislocation, probably during one of the volcanic outbursts which caused a large area to subside. A little later he achieved the first ascent on the northern slope that has been made. He pushed up through the pathless forest to a height of 12,500 feet, far above the tree line, and pitched his camp at the northeast foot of the glacial detritus which forms the steep summit of Kibo.

He observed on this side of the mountain that the climate is much drier than on the southern slope. The characteristic plants of the semiarid steppe below are spread everywhere over the lower part of the northern slope. At a height of 16,800 feet, about 1,000 feet higher than the summit of Mont Blanc, he found, under the shelter of a rock, a puny blossom. It was higher up the mountain than any other flowering plant, and above it there were only a few types of arctic vegetation. In the inhabited region of the north side he found a tribe that differed greatly from the Bantu natives of the southern slope. They seem to be akin to the nomads of the north, the great Masai tribe of Hamitic origin, a branch of the human family that is classed among the white races. These people are the only inhabitants of the northern slope. They did not impress Dr. Meyer favorably, and he calls them "a dirty and impudent race."

In his camp on the north slope the thermometer sank to 18 degrees F. From this point his party struggled over 3,000 feet higher through the snow up to the crater of Kibo, which they entered through the Hans Meyer cleft. The crater is roughly circular in form, with a diameter of about 1½ miles. In 1889 it was half full of snow and ice, but the ice masses have been greatly reduced since Dr. Meyer first saw them and the glacier emerging from the crater on the western side is also of small dimensions.

Dr. Meyer then pursued his march around the mountain mass just below the snow limit and at lower levels. He made his first visit to the northwest and west slopes of the mountain, where he found many rugged, volcanic cones that had been reared on the side of the mountain by outbursts at a height of about 13,500 feet, flooding the flank of the mountain with colossal lava streams that had run together to form a plateau, which the explorer named the Galuma plateau after a large cave he discovered at a height of 11,800 feet, where he had pitched his tents. When he climbed up the western side of the Kibo crater, he discovered three independent glaciers descending from the snows to a height of 16,000 feet, with heaps of moraine in front of them. Below were broad troughs extending two and a half to three miles, their high lateral moraines indicating their glacial origin. These depressions which glaciers had excavated extend down to 12,500 feet. He named the middle glacier after Dr. Erich von Drygalski, the distinguished explorer of Greenland glaciers.

Two more glaciers were discovered on the southern slope of the mountain whose melting terminations are drained into the Weruweru river. One of these glaciers descends to 13,800 feet, which is lower than any other of the ice streams on the mountain. Another trip to the southeast of the Kibo crater, below the Ratzel glacier, which flows down the east side, revealed a large extent of glaciated ground, the lowest moraines and striated rocks lying at a height of about 12,000 feet. On this southeast slope, at a height of 15,900 feet, the party reached another glacier, from which, to their astonishment, they saw six more of these great ice streams, making this part of Kilima-Njaro the most imposing glacial zone on the mountain. The forms of the ice surface here differ essentially from those on the east and west sides. Dr. Meyer, accordingly, has discovered 12 glaciers coming from the region of perpetual snow and descending the east, south and west sides of the mountain, and yet the geographers of England declared 50 years ago that Rebmann was drawing on his imagination when he told of the snow that crowned the greatest of African summits. The snow was there, and plenty of it, but the humble missionary traveler died long before justice was done to his faithful labors.—New York Sun.

HELEN KELLER ON A WHEEL.

Noted Blind Girl Is Learning to Ride a Tandem.

Helen Keller, the wonderful young girl who, although being blind, deaf and dumb, deprived of so many of her senses, accomplishes as much and even more than those gifted with all their faculties, is learning to ride a tandem. Although some two or three years ago, under the guidance of Colonel T. W. Higginson, she mounted a machine and rode a short distance, the other day she really took her first lesson, under the guidance of Alfred St. Onge, an expert and well known bicycle rider. At a quarter past 2 she started from 12 Newbury street, in Boston, for a ride to Jamaica Plain.

Miss Keller seemed to have no difficulty in mounting, and started off with much self confidence and as if she were quite used to riding. She was given much good advice by a party of interested small boys who stood near, evidently thinking their assistance invaluable. Miss Sullivan, her teacher, accompanied her on her ride.—Boston Transcript.

How a Kansas City Pastor Solved the High Hat Problem.

Dr. Matthew S. Hughes solved the high hat problem in his church at Kansas City the other Sunday night with a dexterity that astonished his congregation and did not offend a single female member of his church. Dr. Hughes is pastor of the Independence Avenue Methodist church, and there are as many pretty hats seen there of a Sunday as can be found in any religious gathering in the town.

The question of taking off hats has been discussed by the women of the Independence Avenue church for several weeks.

Several of the church societies considered the step and approved it. The Women's Foreign Missionary society and the Ladies' Aid society both passed on the question. They decided that the hats should come off. But how start it? That was the trouble. If all the women would take off their hats together, all right. But a few were unwilling to take the lead and be the only ones. Dr. Hughes solved the vexing problem the other Sunday night just before he began his sermon.

"Of course," he said, with an air of indifference, "it would do no good for me to request you to take your hats off."

At this 50 or more women seated near the pulpit began unpinning their hats. The rest made no move, and Dr. Hughes continued slowly:

"For it would not do, perhaps, for some to take off their hats. They might take cold."

Still only the original 50 sat bare-headed.

Dr. Hughes looked a trifle dubious, but said:

With one accord 500 women hastily unfastened their hats; then, the rest not wishing to stand out, there was a general onset upon Easter millinery. For a few minutes women's fingers were busy patting, curling and smoothing, and it was only one or two that were fortunate enough to have pocket mirrors along. These few tiny reflectors did duty for the entire pews they were in. Then, with a sigh, everybody leaned back and listened. Without further remarks Dr. Hughes started upon his sermon.

"It is terribly annoying," he said afterward, "to the man in the pulpit to watch the frantic efforts of people in the congregation to keep him in sight. Whenever I take a step, every head in the congregation sways to one side or the other in an effort to look just past an Easter hat. When I move from one side of the platform to the other, a corresponding movement results among my hearers, and the effect is really disconcerting."—Special to St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

CAUGHT IN A MAGIC CIRCLE.

How an Alleged Wizard Is Said to Have Captured a Chicken Thief.

Farmers from Brecknock township, Berks county, Pa., tell of the remarkable capture of a chicken thief on the farm of Jameson Thwaite, near Beckersville, Pa., early the other morning. They declare that Thwaite is endowed with supernatural power and that by the exercise of this power the chicken thief was caught.

Early the other morning the farmers in the neighborhood of Beckersville were awakened by the wild ringing of the farm dinner bell on the Thwaite place. Standing in the center of a circle drawn on the ground with chalk, they found a terror stricken man. Dancing around the frightened man, making queer motions with his hands and arms, was Thwaite.

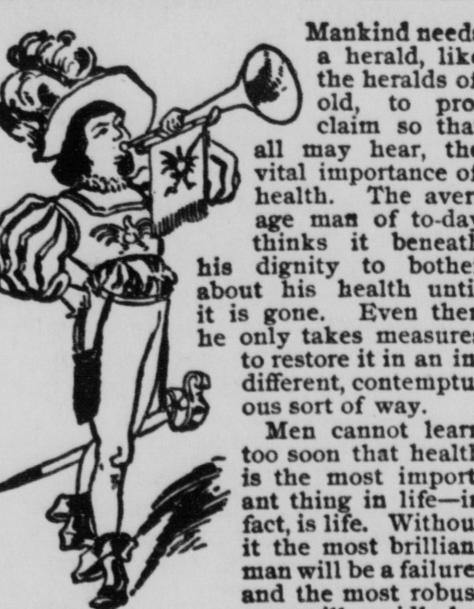

The Brecknock farmers who visited Reading solemnly declare that Thwaite possesses supernatural power, and that he caught the thief in a "magic circle," which he drew with chalk the night before, "powwowing" the circle so that any one stepping within it is transfixed to the ground and unable to move until the spell is broken by the seer.—Reading Special Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Longest Spite Fence on Record.

A spite fence 12 feet high and 250 feet long has been built by Herman Krone at Hillsdale, N. J., to divide his property from that of his neighbor, Theodore Schulke. Mr. Schulke conducts a summer boarding house. The families had a disagreement over a house on the Schulke place. The fence runs from the sidewalk line to the rear of Mr. Krone's lot and leaves the Schulke household but one view—to the west. Mr. Schulke hopes to obtain satisfaction in the courts. He has had his land surveyed and found that the posts of Mr. Krone's fence trespass three inches upon the Schulke property.

Can Hum Some.

The bluebird having established himself and settled down to housekeeping, the next bird of spring that may be expected is the mosquito, which also lays some claim to be classed with the exponents of song.—Pittsburg Times.

Mankind needs a herald, like the heralds of old, to proclaim so that all may hear, the vital importance of health. The average man of to-day thinks it beneath his dignity to bother about his health until it is gone. Even then he only takes measures to restore it in an indifferent, contemptuous sort of way.

Men cannot learn too soon that health is the most important thing in life—in fact, is life. Without it the most brilliant man will be a failure, and the most robust man will rapidly become a physical wreck. The man who neglects the little headaches, the loss of appetite and sleep, nervousness, hot flushings, cold chills, heavy head, lax muscles, and the multitude of bad feelings that are the heralds of approaching sickness and disease, must pay a tremendous penalty. For men who suffer in this way there is no medicine equal to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It sharpens the appetite, corrects all disorders of the digestion, invigorates the liver, makes the assimilation of the food perfect, purifies the blood and enriches it with the life-giving elements that build new, healthy flesh. It is the great blood-maker and flesh-builder. It cures 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption and is the best of all known remedies for nervous troubles. Thousands have told, over their own signatures, the stories of the wonders it has performed. Honest dealers will not urge a substitute for the sake of a little extra profit.

Thomas Fletcher, of Clifton Station, Fairfax Co., Va., writes: "I suffered terrible tortures for ten years with 'gastralgia' (pain in the stomach). I then took six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which completely cured me."

When the bowels are regular the body will feel good and the mind will be active. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. They never gripe. All good dealers sell them and have nothing else "just as good."

They declare that Thwaite is endowed with supernatural power and that by the exercise of this power the chicken thief was caught.

Early the other morning the farmers in the neighborhood of Beckersville were awakened by the wild ringing of the farm dinner bell on the Thwaite place. Standing in the center of a circle drawn on the ground with chalk, they found a terror stricken tramp. Dancing around the frightened man, making queer motions with his hands and arms, was Thwaite.

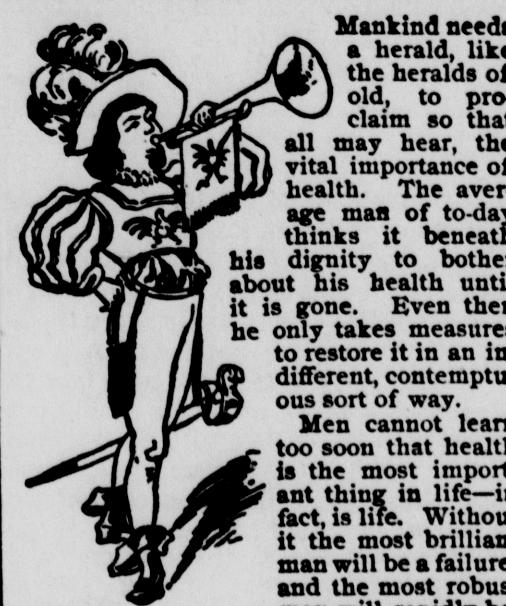

The Brecknock farmers who visited Reading solemnly declare that Thwaite possesses supernatural power, and that he caught the thief in a "magic circle," which he drew with chalk the night before, "powwowing" the circle so that any one stepping within it is transfixed to the ground and unable to move until the spell is broken by the seer.—Reading Special Pittsburg Dispatch.

Longest Spite Fence on Record.

A spite fence 12 feet high and 250 feet long has been built by Herman Krone at Hillsdale, N. J., to divide his property from that of his neighbor, Theodore Schulke. Mr. Schulke conducts a summer boarding house. The families had a disagreement over a house on the Schulke place. The fence runs from the sidewalk line to the rear of Mr. Krone's lot and leaves the Schulke household but one view—to the west. Mr. Schulke hopes to obtain satisfaction in the courts. He has had his land surveyed and found that the posts of Mr. Krone's fence trespass three inches upon the Schulke property.

Can Hum Some.

Mankind needs a herald, like the heralds of old, to proclaim so that all may hear, the vital importance of health. The average man of to-day thinks it beneath his dignity to bother about his health until it is gone. Even then he only takes measures to restore it in an indifferent, contemptuous sort of way.

Men cannot learn too soon that health is the most important thing in life—in fact, is life. Without it the most brilliant man will be a failure, and the most robust man will rapidly become a physical wreck. The man who neglects the little headaches, the loss of appetite and sleep, nervousness, hot flushings, cold chills, heavy head, lax muscles, and the multitude of bad feelings that are the heralds of approaching sickness and disease, must pay a tremendous penalty. For men who suffer in this way there is no medicine equal to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It sharpens the appetite, corrects all disorders of the digestion, invigorates the liver, makes the assimilation of the food perfect, purifies the blood and enriches it with the life-giving elements that build new, healthy flesh. It is the great blood-maker and flesh-builder. It cures 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption and is the best of all known remedies for nervous troubles. Thousands have told, over their own signatures, the stories of the wonders it has performed. Honest dealers will not urge a substitute for the sake of a little extra profit.

Thomas Fletcher, of Clifton Station, Fairfax Co., Va., writes: "I suffered terrible tortures for ten years with gastralgia (pain in the stomach). I then took six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which completely cured me."

When the bowels are regular the body will feel good and the mind will be active. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. They never gripe. All good dealers sell them and have nothing else "just as good."

TO BE OR NOT TO BE.

This Is an Old Question and Has to Be Answered as Cidly by East Liverpool People.

What do the people of East Liverpool think of the statement published below? Can any citizen ask for more convincing proof of the merits claimed by the article under discussion? What is there lacking in such evidence? The most superficial investigation will corroborate it. It is East Liverpool proof for East Liverpool people. It is not the style of proof other medicinal preparations offer, viz., Kalamazoo, Mich., proof for East Liverpool people. The most exacting cannot wish for anything more. Read this:

Mrs. A. Searight, No. 162 High street, East End, says: "I had a severe attack of kidney complaint, which confined me to my bed for about three months. It affected my entire system, and while I was able to be about I never got completely rid of it. I suffered almost constantly with a dull, heavy pain across the loins; if I sat for any length of time, or did anything that brought me into a stooping position and attempted to rise, there was a sharp shooting pain in the small of my back which felt as if a knife or other sharp instrument had pierced me. I could not sleep when I went to bed, expecting to get rest. I was often robbed of it by nervousness and pain in my back. I have risen unrefreshed and more tired and worn out than I was when I retired. I had taken so much medicine without being cured that I was discouraged. Doan's Kidney Pills presented themselves in the form of a newspaper account. I got some at the W. & W. pharmacy. They proved to be the proper remedy for me. Their mild and gentle influence gradually reduced the pain in my back and strengthened the weakness. All the symptoms having disappeared, I rested well at night and gained in strength and weight every day. Of course I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills; it would not be right to refuse to, for the benefit of other sufferers."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

EQUATORIAL GLACIERS.

Twelve Big Ice Streams Found on Africa's Loftiest Mountain.

DISCOVERIES OF DR. HANS MEYER.

Noted Explorer Has Spent a Year Studying Mount Kilima-Njaro and Has Found Twelve Glaciers Descending From Its Snow Capped Peak on All Sides of the Mountain.

The energy of volcanic forces in all parts of the world appears to have attained its maximum in tropical regions. The greatest volcanoes are invariably found there, though other lines of eruption may extend far outside the equatorial area. Thus in Africa by far the greatest mountain masses of volcanic origin are in the neighborhood of the equator. Among them the peak of Ruweazori towers 17,400 feet above the sea, Kenya rises to a height of 19,000 feet, and Kibo, the highest summit of Kilima-Njaro, attains 19,760 feet. Kilima-Njaro is thus the loftiest mountain in Africa and lies just south of the equator.

Dr. Hans Meyer has just spent a season in the study of this giant among mountains, Kilima-Njaro, which has a place for all the climates of the world upon its slopes. From its tropical base to its ice crowned summit it affords facilities for the existence of every kind of plant and animal. No wonder that after its discovery by the missionary Rebmann, in 1848, it was always an object of much speculation and interest. Forty-five Europeans visited the mountain before Dr. Meyer in 1887 began the work that has given him the first place among its explorers. A number of his predecessors tried in vain to reach its snow crowned summit. Meyer succeeded only on his third attempt. In 1887 he attained the altitude of 17,880 feet, when he was compelled to turn back and rejoin his exhausted comrades below. He was again defeated in his attempt of 1888, but in 1889 he floundered through the snow to the top of Kaiser Wilhelm peak on the edge of the Kibo crater, the culminating point of Africa. There he saw a glacial stream emerging through a rift in the crater wall and moving down the west slope.

Since his conquest of the mountain much has been added to our knowledge of Kilima-Njaro by officials in the government of German East Africa and German naturalists who have spent many months in studying it. The writings of Dr. Lent, who was murdered by natives living on the mountain slope, and the book of Professor Volkens, published two years ago, recorded many observations of much merit. But nothing was added to the discoveries that Meyer made in the Alpine region of the mountain. Not one of his successors reached the ice of Kibo, though many made the attempt. It is almost impossible to induce the native assistants to enter the colder zone of the upper altitudes, but it was in this Alpine region that the most interesting problems remained to be solved. Here is the center of the upbuilding of the mountain and the area from which a thorough study of it may best be made. Dr. Meyer's plan last summer was to circle the mountain in the region of the ice and in the subarctic zone below it. His plans were successfully carried out in all respects, and the entire mountain mass, which extends for about 15 miles east and west and 30 miles north and south, may now be mapped in much detail.

In 1889 Dr. Meyer discovered one glacier proceeding from the snows of the summit. He has now mapped 12 of these ice streams. The brilliant success of his undertaking is due, in part, to the methods of travel which his previous experience suggested and to the excellent qualities of his black guides, who, having followed him once before above the snow limit, rendered him far more efficient service on his last visit. He provided every comfort which the conditions of mountain climbing permitted his party to enjoy. After each hard day's work the party crept into their warm fur sleeping bags, such as Dr. Nansen used in his arctic expedition. Thus assured good rest at night, they were fully refreshed and strengthened for the hard labors of the day.

On Aug. 9 last Dr. Meyer ascended the south slope of the mountain to study the great fissure that had been observed to the southeast of Mawenzi, the lower summit. He found that this long and wide depression was not excavated by erosion, but was the result of violent dislocation, probably during one of the volcanic outbursts which caused a large area to subside. A little later he achieved the first ascent on the northern slope that has been made. He pushed up through the pathless forest to a height of 12,500 feet, far above the tree line, and pitched his camp at the northeast foot of the glacial detritus which forms the steep summit of Kibo.

He observed on this side of the mountain that the climate is much drier than on the southern slope. The characteristic plants of the semiarid steppe below are spread everywhere over the lower part of the northern slope. At a height of 16,800 feet, about 1,000 feet higher than the summit of Mont Blanc.

he found, under the shelter of a rock, a puny blossom. It was higher up the mountain than any other flowering plant, and above it there were only a few types of arctic vegetation. In the inhabited region of the north side he found a tribe that differed greatly from the Bantu natives of the southern slope. They seem to be akin to the nomads of the north, the great Massai tribe of Hamitic origin, a branch of the human family that is classed among the white races. These people are the only inhabitants of the northern slope. They did not impress Dr. Meyer favorably, and he calls them "a dirty and impudent race."

In his camp on the north slope the thermometer sank to 18 degrees F. From this point his party struggled over 3,000 feet higher through the snow up to the crater of Kibo, which they entered through the Hans Meyer cleft. The crater is roughly circular in form, with a diameter of about 1½ miles. In 1889 it was half full of snow and ice, but the ice masses have been greatly reduced since Dr. Meyer first saw them and the glacier emerging from the crater on the western side is also of small dimensions.

Dr. Meyer then pursued his march around the mountain mass just below the snow limit and at lower levels. He made his first visit to the northwest and west slopes of the mountain, where he found many rugged, volcanic cones that had been reared on the side of the mountain by outbursts at a height of about 13,500 feet, flooding the flank of the mountain with colossal lava streams that had run together to form a plateau, which the explorer named the Galuma plateau after a large cave he discovered at a height of 11,800 feet, where he had pitched his tents. When he climbed up the western side of the Kibo crater, he discovered three independent glaciers descending from the snows to a height of 16,000 feet, with heaps of moraine in front of them. Below were broad troughs extending two and a half to three miles, their high lateral moraines indicating their glacial origin. These depressions which glaciers had excavated extend down to 12,500 feet. He named the middle glacier after Dr. Erich von Drygalski, the distinguished explorer of Greenland glaciers.

Two more glaciers were discovered on the southern slope of the mountain whose melting terminations are drained into the Weruweru river. One of these glaciers descends to 13,800 feet, which is lower than any other of the ice streams on the mountain. Another trip to the southeast of the Kibo crater, below the Ratzel glacier, which flows down the east side, revealed a large extent of glaciated ground, the lowest moraines and striated rocks lying at a height of about 12,000 feet. On this southeast slope, at a height of 15,900 feet, the party reached another glacier, from which, to their astonishment, they saw six more of these great ice streams, making this part of Kilima-Njaro the most imposing glacial zone on the mountain. The forms of the ice surface here differ essentially from those on the east and west sides. Dr. Meyer, accordingly, has discovered 12 glaciers coming from the region of perpetual snow and descending the east, south and west sides of the mountain, and yet the geographers of England declared 50 years ago that Rebmann was drawing on his imagination when he told of the snow that crowned the greatest of African summits. The snow was there, and plenty of it, but the humble missionary traveler died long before justice was done to his faithful labors.—New York Sun.

HELEN KELLER ON A WHEEL.

Noted Blind Girl Is Learning to Ride a Tandem.

Helen Keller, the wonderful young girl who, although being blind, deaf and dumb, deprived of so many of her senses, accomplishes as much and even more than those gifted with all their faculties, is learning to ride a tandem. Although some two or three years ago, under the guidance of Colonel T. W. Higginson, she mounted a machine and rode a short distance, the other day she really took her first lesson, under the guidance of Alfred St. Onge, an expert and well known bicycle rider. At a quarter past 2 she started from 12 Newbury street, in Boston, for a ride to Jamaica Plain.

Miss Keller seemed to have no difficulty in mounting, and started off with much self confidence and as if she were quite used to riding. She was given much good advice by a party of interested small boys who stood near, evidently thinking their assistance invaluable. Miss Sullivan, her teacher, accompanied her on her ride.—Boston Transcript.

FALL IN MILLINERY.

How a Kansas City Pastor Solved the High Hat Problem.

Dr. Matthew S. Hughes solved the high hat problem in his church at Kansas City the other Sunday night with a dexterity that astonished his congregation and did not offend a single female member of his church. Dr. Hughes is pastor of the Independence Avenue Methodist church, and there are as many pretty hats seen there of a Sunday as can be found in any religious gathering in the town.

The question of taking off hats has been discussed by the women of the Independence Avenue church for several weeks. Several of the church societies considered the step and approved it.

The Women's Foreign Missionary society and the Ladies' Aid society both passed on the question. They decided that the hats should come off. But how start it? That was the trouble. If all the women would take off their hats together, all right. But a few were unwilling to take the lead and be the only ones. Dr. Hughes solved the vexing problem the other Sunday night just before he began his sermon.

"Of course," he said, with an air of indifference, "it would do no good for me to request you to take your hats off."

At this 50 or more women seated near the pulpit began unpinning their hats. The rest made no move, and Dr. Hughes continued slowly:

"For it would not do, perhaps, for some to take off their hats. They might take cold."

Still only the original 50 sat bare-headed.

Dr. Hughes looked a trifle dubious, but said:

A hundred additional pairs of hands at once went to work.

With one accord 500 women hastily unfastened their hats; then, the rest not wishing to stand out, there was a general onset upon Easter millinery. For a few minutes women's fingers were busy patting, curling and smoothing, and it was only one or two that were fortunate enough to have pocket mirrors along. These few tiny reflectors did duty for the entire pews they were in. Then, with a sigh, everybody leaned back and listened. Without further remarks Dr. Hughes started upon his sermon.

"It is terribly annoying," he said afterward, "to the man in the pulpit to watch the frantic efforts of people in the congregation to keep him in sight. Whenever I take a step, every head in the congregation sways to one side or the other in an effort to look just past an Easter hat. When I move from one side of the platform to the other, a corresponding movement results among my hearers, and the effect is really disconcerting."—Special to St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

CAUGHT IN A MAGIC CIRCLE.

How an Alleged Wizard Is Said to Have Captured a Chicken Thief.

Farmers from Brecknock township, Berks county, Pa., tell of the remarkable capture of a chicken thief on the farm of Jameson Thwaite, near Beckersville, Pa., early the other morning. They declare that Thwaite is endowed with supernatural power and that by the exercise of this power the chicken thief was caught.

Early the other morning the farmers in the neighborhood of Beckersville were awakened by the wild ringing of the farm dinner bell on the Thwaite place. LOCAL BREVITIES.

Work was resumed this morning on the Wellsville road.

J. L. Francis and S. B. Felt spent yesterday in Youngstown.

Trades council will hold an important business meeting Wednesday evening.

The household effects of Louis Leonhart were today shipped to Steubenville.

Historic Mingo Bottom, near Mingo Junction, O., is to be cut up into town lots.

The Knowles, Taylor & Knowles company Saturday shipped a car of ware to New York state.

The street force today thoroughly cleaned Second street. The improvement is very noticeable.

Mrs. Joseph Beardmore, who has been seriously ill for several weeks, is again able to be out.

Rev. J. G. Reinartz is in Pittsburgh attending the eighth convention of the Lutheran Liturgical association.

The train due at the Second street station at 6:17 was 15 minutes late in arriving. The delay was caused by a dray near Industry.

Secretary Platts and Physical Director Roseborough will leave in the morning for a bicycle trip to Cleveland. They will return Friday morning.

The funeral of William Gibbs took place yesterday afternoon and was largely attended, the Red Men having charge of the services. Interment was made at Riverview.

The Woman's Aid society of the Northside chapel will give a musical and literary entertainment Friday evening in the lecture room of the First Presbyterian church.

The bids for building the new warehouse at the Cartwright plant are expected to be all in this evening. They will probably be opened tomorrow and the contract awarded.

The light committee of council, and a representative of the light company will meet tomorrow evening for the purpose of making arrangements for lighting the suburban districts.

While repairing his bicycle James West, of 108 Market street, Saturday evening badly injured the third finger of his left hand. The nail was torn from the finger, and he will be unable to work for at least a week.

Business was brisk this morning at the recruiting office and three applications were received. The officers will make every effort to secure another batch of recruits in time to send them away Wednesday.

The Young Men's Christian association baseball team will play a picked nine at West End park, Friday afternoon, May 26. The association team will practice hard, and expect to have the crack organization of the city.

There were a great many people on the streets Saturday evening, and the corner loafers were very much in evidence. The police exerted very little effort to keep them on the move, and as a result the loafers took possession of the corners.

The association bicycle club has not met with flattering success so far this season, as it has rained every day on which a run was scheduled to take place. Another date will be set just as soon as Physical Director Roseborough returns from Cleveland.

Several days ago complaint was made to the Humane society that the driver of the express wagon was abusing his horse. Agent Lloyd investigated the matter, and upon a promise of the driver to do better in the future, prosecution was not commenced.

A large amount of freight was handled at the freight depot last week, and from the outlook today it is probable the business this week will be an increase over that of last week. Shipments are increasing and a large amount is being received daily, both in the lower yards and on the hill.

PAPAL BULL EXPECTED

On Arrival In Washington It Will Be Announced In the Churches Throughout the Country.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The papal bull issued in Rome within the last few days decreeing that the year 1900 shall be a jubilee year throughout the church was expected here shortly and will be announced in all churches throughout the country. The issuance of a bull on the subject gives it special solemnity. It has been the custom to hold jubilees of the church every 25 years, and at one time these were the occasion for the gathering of a vast concourse at Rome to receive the special dispensations and indulgencies allowed during jubilee years.

It is expected, however, by the highest church authorities here that the jubilee next year will be quite generally celebrated throughout the world, thus giving it a more universal aspect instead of being centered at Rome, though doubtless it will lead to many notable pilgrimages to Rome and the gathering there of distinguished churchmen. The jubilee next year is considered more important than that held every 25 years, as it ushers in a new century and comes at a time when Pope Leo is old and very feeble, his ninetieth year having been completed in March.

NEW CHAIR FOR CATHOLIC SCHOOL

Catholic Knights of America Will Endow One at the University.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The Right Rev. Conaty, rector of the Catholic University of America, received a telegram from Kansas City informing him that the Catholic Knights of America at their convention had voted unanimously to endow a chair at the Catholic university. This is likely to be the chair of English literature.

This action of the Catholic knights was received with great satisfaction at the university, as it was the second chair endowment this year, the Knights of Columbus having agreed to endow the chair of American history. This made in all 17 chairs endowed since the establishment of the university.

SPANIARDS TO EVACUATE

Recent Attack of Filipinos Caused Them to Order Remaining Troops From Philippines.

MADRID, May 15.—Senor Don Francisco Silvela, the Spanish premier, in an interview regarding the attack by the Filipinos upon the Spanish garrison at Zamboanga, island of Mindanao, in which two Spanish officers and three men were wounded and one man was killed, said:

"It is very painful to us to have suffered these losses in a territory that does not belong to us. We left these troops in the Philippines in the hope that they might aid in securing the release of the Spanish prisoners in the hands of the Filipinos. Our efforts in this direction have been fruitless. Aguinaldo refuses to treat with us, and a Frenchman (M. Dumara) who had offered on our behalf to treat with the enemy, was killed by them.

"America has not yet succeeded, as she has no more authority than we had. We cannot leave troops any longer in a territory that we are not obliged to defend, and I have telegraphed General Rios to use three steamers for the immediate transportation of our troops from Zamboanga and Yolo, and to acquaint Major General Otis with those instructions, so that the American commander may possess the territories we are abandoning."

GOMEZ TO MEET BROOKE.

Question of Paying the Cuban Troops May Then Be Settled.

HAVANA, May 15.—General Gomez sent a message to Governor General Brooke that he will do himself the pleasure of calling at headquarters today for a further conference regarding the payment of the Cuban troops. The appointment for the interview is the result of a direct inquiry as to what General Gomez intended to do, in view of the resignation and non-appearance of all the Cuban officers nominated by him to represent the several corps in the distribution of the $3,000,000.

General Brooke is determined to disregard, for the present, the reports that reach him from various sources as to the alleged intention of Gomez to withdraw his co-operation, and thus to throw into confusion the carefully matured plans for distributing the funds.

FLOWER'S FUNERAL THISAFTERNOON

NEW YORK, May 15.—The pallbearers for the funeral of the late former Governor Roswell P. Flower were selected. They are H. H. Porter, Levi P. Morton, J. Edward Simmons, A. N. Brady, John E. Borne, W. A. Nash, H. M. Flagler and S. W. Rosendale.

A committee of 24 from the Democratic Editors' association, the board of directors of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit company, the faculty and trustees of the Flower hospital and a committee from the grand lodge of Masons will attend the funeral. This will take place from St. Thomas' Episcopal church, on Fifth avenue, at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

After the church services the remains will be taken to the Grand Central station and placed in a special train for Watertown.

The President Spent a Quiet Sunday.

HOT SPRINGS, Va., May 15.—The president spent a quiet Sunday. In the morning he attended service at the Presbyterian church nearby. The sermon, by Dr. White, did not touch on the president or national affairs. Secretary Gage and Mrs. Gage left here for Washington. It is likely the president and Mrs. McKinley may leave for Washington Thursday or Friday.

FOREIGN HONORS TO DEWEY.

He Will Probably Be Enthusiastically Received at English and French Stations.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Admiral Dewey's home coming by way of the Mediterranean may give occasion for distinguished honors from the navies of Europe, most of them being represented by extensive squadrons in those waters and some of them having their chief naval stations at Mediterranean ports. Already Ambassador Cambon of France called the attention of the authorities at Paris to the return of Admiral Dewey by way of the Mediterranean and the probable sailing of his flagship Olympia past the French naval ports in Algiers. These are opposite the British possessions of Gibraltar and Malta, at the entrance to the Mediterranean, and are easy and natural stopping places along the route. It was hardly expected that the Admiral would stop at Toulon, the great naval depot of France. At the ports of French Algiers he will be accorded every honor due not only to his high rank, but to the universal esteem in which he is held by the naval fraternity.

The British authorities had taken no steps to have the admiral stop at British ports, but it was stated by one of the British officials that Dewey would be assured a most enthusiastic greeting if he stopped at any British station, and that undoubtedly steps would be taken to induce him to touch at Plymouth and Portsmouth, the southern naval depots of England, if there was any prospect of his acceptance. In any event, it was said, the admiral was quite likely to stop at Malta and Gibraltar, as these are the usual coaling places and this would give an opportunity for an expression of British esteem for him. In the event that the admiral could be induced to stop in England enroute home it was said that he would probably be met at Aden or Port Said by a British escort.

LAKE SCHOONER FOUNDRED.

Went Down With Those Aboard—Captain Reported to Have Escaped.

SAULT STE MARIE, Mich., May 15.—The schooner Nelson, deeply laden with a cargo of coal founded in Lake Superior off Grand Marais, and carried down all hands. A report from Deer Park, Mich., stated that the captain was saved. The crew consisted of the following: Captain Andrew Haghney of Toledo, captain's wife, 2-year-old child of Captain Haghney; Fred Aas, sailor, residence unknown; six sailors, names unknown. The Nelson was in tow of the steamer A. Folsom, which also had the schooner Mary B. Mitchell as a consort. The Folsom and Mitchell arrived here without serious damage.

A gale was blowing and Captain White of the Folsom tried to turn his tow, with the above result.

Jury Decided She Was Insane When She Killed Her Mother.

PITTSBURG, May 15.—"Not guilty, by reason of insanity," was the verdict in the Bertha Beilstein matricide case. Miss Beilstein received it with the utter indifference and imperturbation that have characterized her during the whole of the trial. If she felt any emotion of pleasure she did not show it. The lines of her face never changed when the foreman of the jury solemnly announced the finding. She had been smiling before the jury entered the room; she was smiling when the verdict was recorded.

As she was being led back to the jail she asked:

Gifts and Loans.

Schools of all trades are needing more and better equipment than ever before. Apparatus of the most approved patterns must be had. Specialists in various departments must be retained. Buildings must be erected and furnished. Fees from students can never meet these expenses. Large gifts have been made in the years gone by, and still larger are needed for the future.

Multitudes of our young people look with longing desire to the schools, but have not the funds to pay even the moderate fees and expenses. To many such the funds of the Educational society come as a godsend. We must increase these aids and use them so as to foster the spirit of self helpfulness in our young men and women. Those aided in time past are the ones who in present prosperity pour out of their abundance to help others.

The "twentieth century thank offering" should lift many of our needy schools and scholars into positions of greater usefulness.

Welcome Punishment to Bobby.

A little boy went to church with his mother. The service was somewhat long and utterly incomprehensible to the child. Consequently he fidgeted. His mother reproved him several times. At last she leaned toward him. "Bobby," she whispered, "if you act badly I'll never bring you to church again."

A gleam of hope dawned in Bobby's weary eyes. "Mamma," he said eagerly, "how bad will I have to be?"—Ex- change.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Work was resumed this morning on the Wellsville road.

J. L. Francis and S. B. Felt spent yesterday in Youngstown.

Trades council will hold an important business meeting Wednesday evening.

The household effects of Louis Leonhart were today shipped to Steubenville.

Historic Mingo Bottom, near Mingo Junction, O., is to be cut up into town lots.

The Knowles, Taylor & Knowles company Saturday shipped a car of ware to New York state.

The street force today thoroughly cleaned Second street. The improvement is very noticeable.

Mrs. Joseph Beardmore, who has been seriously ill for several weeks, is again able to be out.

Rev. J. G. Reinartz is in Pittsburgh attending the eighth convention of the Lutheran Liturgical association.

The train due at the Second street station at 6:17 was 15 minutes late in arriving. The delay was caused by a delay near Industry.

Secretary Platts and Physical Director Roseborough will leave in the morning for a bicycle trip to Cleveland. They will return Friday morning.

The funeral of William Gibbs took place yesterday afternoon and was largely attended, the Red Men having charge of the services. Interment was made at Riverview.

The Woman's Aid society of the Northside chapel will give a musical and literary entertainment Friday evening in the lecture room of the First Presbyterian church.

The bids for building the new warehouse at the Cartwright plant are expected to be all in this evening. They will probably be opened tomorrow and the contract awarded.

The light committee of council, and a representative of the light company will meet tomorrow evening for the purpose of making arrangements for lighting the suburban districts.

While repairing his bicycle James West, of 108 Market street, Saturday evening badly injured the third finger of his left hand. The nail was torn from the finger, and he will be unable to work for at least a week.

Business was brisk this morning at the recruiting office and three applications were received. The officers will make every effort to secure another batch of recruits in time to send them away Wednesday.

The Young Men's Christian association baseball team will play a picked nine at West End park, Friday afternoon, May 26. The association team will practice hard, and expect to have the crack organization of the city.

There were a great many people on the streets Saturday evening, and the corner loafers were very much in evidence. The police exerted very little effort to keep them on the move, and as a result the loafers took possession of the corners.

The association bicycle club has not met with flattering success so far this season, as it has rained every day on which a run was scheduled to take place. Another date will be set just as soon as Physical Director Roseborough returns from Cleveland.

Several days ago complaint was made to the Humane society that the driver of the express wagon was abusing his horse. Agent Lloyd investigated the matter, and upon a promise of the driver to do better in the future, prosecution was not commenced.

A large amount of freight was handled at the freight depot last week, and from the outlook today it is probable the business this week will be an increase over that of last week. Shipments are increasing and a large amount is being received daily, both in the lower yards and on the hill.

PAPAL BULL EXPECTED

On Arrival In Washington It Will Be Announced In The Churches Throughout the Country.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The papal bull issued in Rome within the last few days decreeing that the year 1900 shall be a jubilee year throughout the church was expected here shortly and will be announced in all churches throughout the country. The issuance of a bull on the subject gives it special solemnity. It has been the custom to hold jubilees of the church every 25 years, and at one time these were the occasion for the gathering of a vast concourse at Rome to receive the special dispensations and indulgencies allowed during jubilee years.

It is expected, however, by the highest church authorities here that the jubilee next year will be quite generally celebrated throughout the world, thus giving it a more universal aspect instead of being centered at Rome, though doubtless it will lead to many notable pilgrimages to Rome and the gathering there of distinguished churchmen. The jubilee next year is considered more important than that held every 25 years, as it ushers in a new century and comes at a time when Pope Leo is old and very feeble, his ninetieth year having been completed in March.

NEW YORK, May 15.—The pallbearers for the funeral of the late former Governor Roswell P. Flower were selected. They are H. H. Porter, Levi P. Morton, J. Edward Simmons, A. N. Brady, John E. Borne, W. A. Nash, H. M. Flagler and S. W. Rosendale.

A committee of 24 from the Democratic Editors' association, the board of directors of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit company, the faculty and trustees of the Flower hospital and a committee from the grand lodge of Masons will attend the funeral. This will take place from St. Thomas' Episcopal church, on Fifth avenue, at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

After the church services the remains will be taken to the Grand Central station and placed in a special train for Watertown.

The President Spent a Quiet Sunday.

HOT SPRINGS, Va., May 15.—The president spent a quiet Sunday. In the morning he attended service at the Presbyterian church nearby. The sermon, by Dr. White, did not touch on the president or national affairs. Secretary Gage and Mrs. Gage left here for Washington. It is likely the president and Mrs. McKinley may leave for Washington Thursday or Friday.

FOREIGN HONORS TO DEWEY

He Will Probably Be Enthusiastically Received at English and French Stations.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Admiral Dewey's home coming by way of the Mediterranean may give occasion for distinguished honors from the navies of Europe, most of them being represented by extensive squadrons in those waters and some of them having their chief naval stations at Mediterranean ports. Already Ambassador Cambon of France called the attention of the authorities at Paris to the return of Admiral Dewey by way of the Mediterranean and the probable sailing of his flagship Olympia past the French naval ports in Algiers. These are opposite the British possessions of Gibraltar and Malta, at the entrance to the Mediterranean, and are easy and natural stopping places along the route. It was hardly expected that the Admiral would stop at Toulon, the great naval depot of France. At the ports of French Algiers he will be accorded every honor due not only to his high rank, but to the universal esteem in which he is held by the naval fraternity.

The British authorities had taken no steps to have the admiral stop at British ports, but it was stated by one of the British officials that Dewey would be assured a most enthusiastic greeting if he stopped at any British station, and that undoubtedly steps would be taken to induce him to touch at Plymouth and Portsmouth, the southern naval depots of England, if there was any prospect of his acceptance. In any event, it was said, the admiral was quite likely to stop at Malta and Gibraltar, as these are the usual coaling places and this would give an opportunity for an expression of British esteem for him. In the event that the admiral could be induced to stop in England enroute home it was said that he would probably be met at Aden or Port Said by a British escort.

LAKE SCHOONER FOUNDRED.

Went Down With Those Aboard—Captain Reported to Have Escaped.

SAULT STE MARIE, Mich., May 15.—The schooner Nelson, deeply laden with a cargo of coal, foundered in Lake Superior off Grand Marais, and carried down all hands. A report from Deer Park, Mich., stated that the captain was saved. The crew consisted of the following: Captain Andrew Haghney of Toledo, captain's wife, 2-year-old child of Captain Haghney; Fred Aas, sailor, residence unknown; six sailors, names unknown. The Nelson was in tow of the steamer A. Folsom, which also had the schooner Mary B. Mitchell as a consort. The Folsom and Mitchell arrived here without serious damage.

A gale was blowing and Captain White of the Folsom tried to turn his tow, with the above result.

VERDICT FOR BERTHA BEILSTEIN

Jury Decided She Was Insane When She Killed Her Mother.

PITTSBURG, May 15.—"Not guilty, by reason of insanity," was the verdict in the Bertha Beilstein matricide case. Miss Beilstein received it with the utter indifference and imperturbation that have characterized her during the whole of the trial. If she felt any emotion of pleasure she did not show it. The lines of her face never changed when the foreman of the jury solemnly announced the finding. She had been smiling before the jury entered the room; she was smiling when the verdict was recorded.

As she was being led back to the jail she asked:

Gifts and Loans.

Schools of all trades are needing more and better equipment than ever before. Apparatus of the most approved patterns must be had. Specialists in various departments must be retained. Buildings must be erected and furnished. Fees from students can never meet these expenses. Large gifts have been made in the years gone by, and still larger are needed for the future.

Multitudes of our young people look with longing desire to the schools, but have not the funds to pay even the moderate fees and expenses. To many such the funds of the Educational society come as a godsend. We must increase these aids and use them so as to foster the spirit of self helpfulness in our young men and women. Those aided in time past are the ones who in present prosperity pour out of their abundance to help others.

The "twentieth century thank offering" should lift many of our needy schools and scholars into positions of greater usefulness.

Welcome Punishment to Bobby.

A little boy went to church with his mother. The service was somewhat long and utterly incomprehensible to the child. Consequently he fidgeted. His mother reproved him several times. At last she leaned toward him. "Bobby," she whispered, "if you act badly I'll never bring you to church again."

A gleam of hope dawned in Bobby's weary eyes. "Mamma," he said eagerly, "how bad will I have to be?"—Ex- change.

Commission Ready to Meet Aguinaldo's Men.

MAY REPRESENT REBEL CONGRESS.

Definite Information on This Point Was Not Known—Lawton's Scouts Scared Rebels From San Miguel—Not So Strict at Manila—Messages From Otis.

MANILA, May 15.—The civilian members of the United States Philippine commission are favorable to the meeting with the Filipino commission, which was suggested Saturday, on behalf of Aguinaldo, by Lieutenant Reyes of the staff of General Gregorio del Pilar, who came to General Lawton under a flag of truce, bearing the proposal. It is thought by the American commissioners that the idea may have resulted from a recent meeting of the so-called Filipino congress at San Isidro. Definite information on this point, however, cannot yet be obtained, though the local Filipino committee, which was in close communication with the leaders of the rebellion, was doing its utmost to secure peace.

Ten members of Major General Lawton's band of scouts, under W. M. Young, the old Indian fighter, entered the town of San Miguel, about 15 miles north of Norzagaray, not aware of what place it was. They found 200 Filipinos there, but the rebels, taking the scouts for the advance of General Lawton's army, fled, after firing a few shots. Young and another scout were wounded and were brought to Manila.

The Ninth infantry and a mountain battery of six guns have been sent to the front.

The uniform quiet now prevailing in Manila led the authorities to relax the rule under which the city streets were cleared from 7 to 8:30 p.m., and Sunday evening there was the largest and most brilliant assembly of pedestrians and people in carriages to listen to a band concert at the Luneta that had been known here since the Spaniards left.

Prof. Schurman, president of the United States Philippine commission gave a farewell luncheon Sunday to Admiral Dewey, at which Prof. Dean C. Worcester and Colonel Charles Denby of the commission, with General MacArthur, Mrs. Lawton and others, were present. The health of the admiral was drunk with the utmost cordiality.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The following dispatch from Major General Otis was received at the war department:

MANILA, May 14, 1899.

Adjutant General, Washington: Situation is as follows: Lawton from Baluag has taken Ilde Fonso and San Miguel, to north, with slight loss and driving considerable force of enemy; gunboats and canoes accompany 1,500 men, under Kobbe, up Rio Grande river from Calumpit, depart 16th. MacArthur remains at San Fernando, covering country. Yesterday, message from Aguinaldo expressing wish to send commission to Manila for conference with United States commission to arrange terms of peace. Directions given to pass body representative insurgents to Manila, should it present itself.

This dispatch was also received: MANILA, May 14.—It is reported that at Zamboanga insurgents attacked Spanish troops 11th inst., using quick-firing guns and arms captured from Spanish gunboats. Spanish general and two officers wounded. Few casualties among troops. Spanish garrison now besieged. Water supply cut off and troops calling for relief. OTIS.

The following was General Otis' weekly death report:

MANILA, May 14. Thermic fever and Bright's disease, May 9, Arthur S. Hunt, private Company K, Third infantry; typhoid fever, 10th, Albert M. Wocters, private, B, Twenty-third infantry; dysentery, 12th.

James Kelly, G, Second Oregon; alcoholism, Richard P. McReynolds, wagoner, G, Fourth cavalry; gunshot wound, accidental, Peter L. Laporte, private, hospital corps.

TWO SOLDIERS DIED.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—General Brooke, commanding at Havana, informed the war department that First Lieutenant Harry Whitney, Second infantry, died of typhoid at Cienfuegos. General Davis, commanding at San Juan, telegraphed that Recruit Walter Cretcher, Nineteenth infantry, died there of pneumonia.

THE DEAD NUMBER 29.

About 50 Injured in the Reading Railroad Collision—Some Person Blundered.

READING, Pa., May 15.—The total number of dead as a result of Friday night's rear-end collision on the Phila delphian and Reading railway at Exeter, six miles below here, reached 29, William D. Jenkins of Norristown dying at the hospital at that place. Of the large number of injured persons still in the hospital here, three are in a serious condition, and small hope is entertained for their recovery. They are William Friedenhorst, Thaddeus S. Adle and George W. Holmes, all of Norristown. Holmes' 9-year-old son was instantly killed in the accident, but the hospital physicians had not informed the father of the boy's death.

The dead were: William D. Jenkins, Norristown. Captain Charles T. Street, Philadelphia. John Slingluff, Norristown. H. Thompson, Norristown. Elmer Shelly, Hatboro. Frank Sower, Norristown. Henry G. Wentz, Norristown. William Stahl, Norristown. Joseph Taylor, Norristown. John K. Kuntz, Norristown. Charles G. Leaf, Ft. Washington. Samuel R. Beatty, Conshohocken. Charles H. White, Norristown. Captain G. C. Eichlotz, Downingtown. George Schall, Norristown. William Lewis, Norristown. H. Hunchburger, Gulf Mills. J. E. Filman, Reading. John Johnston, Hatboro. John H. Coulston, Norristown; died at hospital. C. L. Laverty, Harrisburg. Adam Yoder, Pottstown. Lucien J. Custer, Pottstown. William C. Camm, Norristown. H. G. Hartford, Norristown. Norman Holmes, Norristown. Michael Lown, Germantown. Two unidentified men. About 50 persons were injured.

The question as to who was responsible for the catastrophe was still being discussed here. That some one blundered is generally admitted by railroad men. Who it was that blundered, however, no one seemed to positively know, and opinions on this point differed widely. The Reading railroad officials here took the statements of the trainmen who were concerned in the affair and they were sent to the general offices of the company in Philadelphia. The coroner will begin a rigid inquiry today at 3 p.m.

Many of the dead and injured had relatives and friends in this city, and there was sorrow on every hand. In every sermon preached in the churches Sunday reference was made to the accident, and prayers were offered for the dead and the injured.

FOREIGN CLAIMS IN CUBA.

They Will Ultimately Be Pressed Against the United States Government.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The state department was informally advised that claims aggregating a considerable amount had been made by British, French and German residents in Cuba during the recent insurrection and that these ultimately will be pressed against the United States government.

The French claims aggregate between 12,000,000 and 15,000,000 francs. German claims are understood to be slightly under those of the French, while the British claims are said to be considerably more than either the French or German.

It was stated at one of the foreign establishments that there was no disposition to push the claims unduly, but to bring them to the attention of the United States government in order that the question of liability might be determined, and such relief granted as the merits of the cases warranted.

PRESENT SWAINE FOR GOVERNOR.

TOLEDO, May 15.—Toledo Republicans will present the name of Noah H. Swaine of this city as a candidate for governor. This has been determined by a meeting of the leaders of the party, including Congressman Southard and the delegates. Mayor Jones will not be presented by the delegation from this city.

KILLED HIS SISTER'S ASSAULTANT.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., May 15.—Lmigi Minotti, an Italian, aged 42, outraged the 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fonderelle Cabassa at his house. He was shot dead by Clemente Cabassa, an 18-year-old brother of the girl. Young Cabassa was later arrested and admitted to the officers that he did the shooting.

NEW PLANT FOR WHEELING.

WHEELING, May 15.—The announcement was authoritatively made that the Wheeling Iron and Steel company will at once begin the erection in this city of a tin plate mill and a wrought iron and steel pipe and tube works.

BRIGGS IS ORDAINED.

Now a Priest of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

WILL LABOR AMONG THE POOR.

There Was No Protest Made During the Ordination Ceremonies—In a Letter, Bishop Potter Defended His Position and Also Part of Briggs' Belief.

NEW YORK, May 15.—In the pro-cathedral on Stanton street, Rev. Dr. Charles A. Briggs, who was suspended for heresy by the Presbyterian assembly, was ordained a priest of the Episcopal church. He was ordained together with the Rev. Charles A. Snedeker, and the ordination ceremonies were conducted by Bishop Potter. The little church was crowded with people, and the ceremonies were notable for the quietness that prevailed.

There was no public protest.

The sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. George William Douglass.

Rev. Dr. Briggs was seen after the ceremony. He said he had nothing to say concerning the criticism raised by his ordination. He said he was going to take a rest. A close friend of Dr. Briggs said that he would go to Europe and in the fall would labor in the pro-cathedral church. Rev. Dr. Paddock said that it seemed strange that a man of Dr. Briggs' learning should take so much pleasure in laboring among the poor of the East Side, but this was his wish. He said that Rev. Dr. Briggs would not give up his position as professor in Union Theological seminary.

Bishop Potter allowed to be published a letter which he recently wrote in answer to one from a layman, whom he said was prominent in the church. The bishop wrote the following:

"DIOCESAN HOUSE, LAFAYETTE PLACE, NEW YORK, May 10, 1899.

"My Dear Sir:—Your letter of the 5th instant is before me, and I have given

therefore accept that certificate as final, and I shall do so.

"I beg, however, that you will not suppose that I am seeking to escape from my personal responsibility in the matter of the ordination of Dr. Briggs by retiring behind the action of my constitutional advisers. I have not the slightest desire to do so. The outcry against the author of 'The Introduction to the Study of Holy Scriptures' is chiefly to be deplored because it betrays such a lamentable ignorance of the progress of sound learning and the judgment of the best Christian scholars. One of them, a bishop, writes:

"You may be interested to see that the old, staid Christian Knowledge society published my little pamphlet on the Bible, which contains the same principles that are elaborated in your treatise. I am indignant at the misrepresentations, or, we will hope, the misunderstandings, of some of your critics. Have they, for the first time, come across the interpretation of the speaking with tongues which harmonize that book with the epistle to the Corinthians? Have they never read Dean Plumptre's article on the subject in Smith's dictionary of the Bible?

"In a word, the author of 'The Introduction to the Study of Holy Scriptures' has simply stated conclusions which the best learning and the most devout minds have accepted before him.

"I do not myself accept all of them, but that any of them denies or impugns any fundamental doctrine of the faith can only be shown by mutations or perversions of what the author has said, which are as malignant as they are unscrupulous.

"I note the prediction with which you conclude—that Dr. Briggs' advancement to the higher ministry for which he has been recommended will precipitate departures to the church of Rome. This would indeed be unfortunate, for the author of 'The Introduction to the Study of the Holy Scriptures' holds letters from eminent Roman Catholic scholars of foremost rank in institutions of learning of foremost dignity expressing warmest appreciation of his contribution to the study of the Bible, and intimating their purpose to make use of it in their classrooms. Here again it would seem that a somewhat larger knowledge would be the safest guide to wise action.

"I need hardly add, after what I have written, that it is my intention to proceed, at the time appointed, to Dr. Briggs' ordination. I am, dear sir, sincerely yours,

H. C. POTTER."

But Buffalo Still Has Another Big One on Her Hands.

BUFFALO, May 15.—The grain shovellers will return to work today under the agreement reached at the conference between the lake carriers, elevator men and grain shovellers. The terms of the agreement were reduced to writing and properly signed at the residence of Bishop Quigley. Attorney Goulder of Cleveland acted for the Lake Carriers' association and Attorney John Cunnien of this city represented the shippers.

The tieup of the coal and ore docks is said to be quite as serious as was the grain shovellers' strike. Practically all the coal and ore handlers, numbering about 1,500 men, are out. The freight handlers, who struck out of sympathy for the grain shovellers, now refuse to go back until their wages are raised from 25 cents to 35 cents an hour. The house men employed in the freight houses also are on strike.

ADVANCE FOR 3,000 MEN.

BELLAIRE, O., May 15.—The Belmont mill, Top mill, La Belle mill of Wheeling and Benwood blast furnace of Martins Ferry, O., four of the largest iron works in this section of the Ohio valley, all of which are the property of the Wheeling Steel and Iron company of Wheeling, granted the 3,000 employees an advance in wages of 10 per cent. It went into effect last night and today.

VICTIM OF HYDROPHOBIA.

LANCASTER, Pa., May 15.—Benjamin F. Enck, aged 10 years, died in awful agony, at his home in this city from hydrophobia. Four weeks ago he was bitten by a dog. Several other children were bitten, but had not shown any symptoms of the disease.

HOBART WAS BETTER.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Vice President Hobart was reported to be getting stronger.

Morgan - Vanderbilt Combine Want Control In Ohio.

CLEVELAND, May 15.—Further developments in the fight of the Morgan-Vanderbilt combination for the control of Ohio railroads came to light. Some time since the Morgans made an offer for the Ohio Central, which was refused by Judge Stevenson Burke, who controls that line. The Hocking Valley road, which is controlled by the Morgans, and which competes in the coal fields with the Ohio Central, began to cut the coal rate. Cuts of 10, 20 and 30 cents a ton followed each other, and the Hocking Valley turned a heavy tonnage over to the Vanderbilt roads in Michigan.

The Morgans are also after the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton. It is now announced that a flyer between Cincinnati and Toledo will be put on the Big Four and Hocking Valley roads to compete with the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton flyer as a means of bringing about what the Morgans are anxious to accomplish.

Within the past few days two important steps in the direction of further consolidation have been taken in the sale of the Cleveland, Akron and Columbus to the Pennsylvania company, and the making of a traffic arrangement between the Baltimore and Ohio and the Norfolk and Western.

CLEVELAND NOT DEAD.

Passengers Talked to Him Before Leaving Middle Bass Island.

TOLEDO, O., May 15.—A special from Sandusky said George Brodbeck, a well known business man of Sandusky, and several other passengers who were on the steamer Carrow, saw and talked with Grover Cleveland last evening about 3:30, or just before the boat left Middle Bass island for Sandusky. There is no doubt but that there is absolutely no truth in the rumors that Mr. Cleveland is dead.

GREEN B. BOREN DEAD.

He Was a Citizen of Steubenville and Prominent in Brick Business.

CATSKILL, N. Y., May 15.—Green B. Boren of Steubenville, O., general manager of the Eastern Paving Brick company, owner of the large Shale Paving Brick plant here, died about 7:30 o'clock last night of consumption. He was 46 years of age and was well known in brick manufacturing circles.

AKRON MAN SUICIDED.

AKRON, May 15.—Alexander Brewster, one of the oldest and wealthiest men in the city, and a veteran coal operator, committed suicide by cutting his throat with a razor. He was 90 years of age.

CUT APPROPRIATIONS.

Governor of Pennsylvania Sliced Off $1,000,000 of Amount Awarded to the Schools.

HARRISBURG, May 15.—Governor Stone made public his action on the general appropriation bill, which provided for the ordinary expenses of the various branches of the state government, the interest on the public debt and for the support of the public schools for the two fiscal years beginning June 1, 1899. He made a cut of $1,000,000 in the school appropriation and reduced several other items whereby he saved in the aggregate $1,500,000, which will be applied to reducing the floating debt of the commonwealth.

The governor filed in the office of the secretary of the commonwealth a statement giving his reasons for disapproving certain items in the bill and approving parts of certain other items.

BLACK DEED OF A NEGRO.

Maryland Couple Beaten Fatally—May Be Lynched if Caught.

CUMBERLAND, Md., May 15.—Louis Rosenstein, the storekeeper of Slidell, Montgomery county, who was assaulted Saturday morning, died. Mrs. Rosenstein, who was also beaten into insensibility, is in a dying condition.

A special from Boyd's, near the scene of the tragedy, says a large sum of money was stolen by the murderer. A negro, Humphrey Taylor, alias Brown, is suspected. Armed citizens are scouring the country, and should he be found there is little doubt that he will be lynched.

NURSES ARRIVED FROM CUBA.

NEW YORK, May 15.—Among the passengers who arrived on the steamer Curitiba from Cuban ports were Mrs. General Wilson and Miss Wilson, Captain James Thompson, U. S. A. and 12 female nurses.

THE EAST END.

MAY GET AN INCREASE

The Motormen Expect to Get 20 Cents an Hour.

DEPENDS ON MANAGER HOEGGEN

Boy Bitten by a Dog in Maple Street—Want Mulberry Street Culvert Finished—New Machinery for the Gas Plant—Bridge-water Company Raising their Mains.

Many motormen of the street railway company are of the opinion that their wages will be increased to 20 cents an hour in the near future. In speaking of this, an employe of the road said: "The company, since it changed hands, has been lenient with the boys in every respect. They have never asked for anything within reason but what they got it. No, I do not think a request will be made to the company, but as Mr. Hoeggen will soon return to the city there might be a chance of him having something to do with the matter. When we asked for protection on the winter cars it was Mr. Hoeggen that caused the request to be complied with. For that action he has made many friends who at all times would stand by him. Now that good times are here, Mr. Hoeggen might do something, but we won't ask for it."

The motormen are at present receiving 17 cents an hour. There are 17 regular and 10 extra men on the schedule.

Vicious Dogs.

There may be valuable dogs in East End, but for every valuable dog there are two to which no value is attached. Saturday afternoon Guy Darranger, a lad of nine years, was bitten on the left leg by a dog owned by a family named March, residing in Maple street. The boy was in his bare feet, and while passing the dog it caught the boy's left leg near the knee, causing him much pain. The matter was reported to the fire station, and it may be complaint will reach city hall.

Becoming an Eyesore.

The residents of Mulberry street are tired of seeing a lot of rubbish lying about the culvert, and they are now wondering when it will be completed. The culvert at present is in a dangerous condition. There is no light at night in the immediate vicinity and unless one knows the path leading to the board crossing an accident is liable to happen. No work has been done on the culvert since last winter, and it should be completed as soon as possible.

New Machinery Thursday.

Word was received at the new gas plant Saturday from Chicago to the effect that the machinery ordered about six weeks ago would be shipped Saturday afternoon, and should be delivered at the plant not later than Thursday of this week. The plant has been idle awaiting the new castings, and after they are in place the works will resume. The machinery was ordered by Mr. Felt during his recent visit to Chicago.

On the Laughlin Farm.

When the drilling of several wells along Beaver creek is completed the tools will be moved to the Laughlin farm, where several wells will be drilled for a Pittsburg company. If gas is obtained from any of the wells on this farm it will be sold to the Ohio Valley company, whose mains run through this property. It is thought the tools will be ready to be moved by the first of the month.

At the Mission.

Services at the Dry Run mission in Neville institute yesterday afternoon were well attended. Several new scholars were received in the Sunday school. The services commencing at 3:30 o'clock were in charge of Reverend Hodson, of the First M. E. church. He gave an interesting talk. The attendance has been increasing every Sunday since the mission was started.

Raised the Mains.

The Bridgewater Gas company Saturday morning put a force of men at work raising the mains in First avenue. This was made necessary by the improvements now being made on the culvert by Street Commissioner Finley. The mains will be raised to a point where they will cross the culvert beneath the roadbed.

After Locations.

Saturday afternoon a well-known young man from Wellsville spent some time in this part of the city looking after a location for the purpose of opening a barber shop. It was said this morning that another grocery store would soon be opened in this part of the city. It would be run on the general store plan.

This Fine Educational Establishment In Full Swing.

The many patrons of the Ohio Valley Business college will be pleased to note the fact that Mrs. J. F. Cooper has been so much benefited by her trip to Colorado as to be able to take full charge once more of the shorthand department. Mrs. Cooper is an excellent and able instructor in stenography, as very many delighted pupils will be glad to testify.

All the departments are under the charge of able and experienced teachers, well qualified in every particular. The commercial department is worthy of special mention. It is an important factor in business life, and the young men and young women of East Liverpool and the surrounding country will do well to note this fact and take advantage of the opportunity afforded for a thorough business education. *

A Land Company Purchase.

Among the list of real estate transfers printed Saturday there appeared the following: "Abner Martin to the City of East Liverpool, a tract of land, $400." This land was not paid for by the city, but the deed was made to it in order to open up a street in East End. One of the land companies purchased the ground.

VISIT WINONA LAKE.

Winona Lake, Ind., on the Pennsylvania lines, is an attractive summer haven for persons who may desire to combine devotion, entertainment and instruction with rest and recreation. This lake is a beautiful sheet of water nearly two miles long, surrounded by romantic woodland, which has been improved into a grand summer resort with all the comforts and conveniences for a delightful sojourn. The entrance to the grounds adjoins the pretty station of Winona Lake, on the Fort Wayne route.

As the site of Winona Assembly and Summer School, this resort is visited each summer by many people who are invigorated in both mind and body by the instructive entertainment and health-giving recreation for which Winona is famous. The educational work of the summer school is under the supervision of prominent instructors. Fine facilities for athletic pastimes are provided, and the college halls and large auditorium are amply equipped for interesting work. The boating, bathing and fishing are excellent. The permanent buildings include many cosy cottages, where accommodations may be secured at reasonable rates. There is also a large hotel, and provision for camping out for those who may enjoy tent life. Supplies are obtainable at the large store on the grounds.

The season of 1899 will open May 15. Commencing on that date excursion tickets, with 15 day limit, will be on sale via Pennsylvania lines. They may be obtained during May, June, July and August. The sale of season excursion tickets will also begin May 15, and continue daily until Sept. 13. Excursion tickets will be good returning until Sept. 15.

Full information about the attractions at "Beautiful Winona," its Assembly and Summer School, etc., will be cheerfully furnished all who address Mr. Sol.

C. Dickey, secretary, Winona Lake, Ind. Inquiries about excursion rates, time of trains, etc., should be addressed to passenger and ticket agents of the Pennsylvania lines, or to F. Van Dusen, chief assistant general passenger agent, Pittsburgh, Pa. *

Turkish Soldier Enlists For the Philippines.

Captain Black, the United States army recruiting officer, enlisted a native of Turkey the other day, and he will go to fight for the American cause in the Philippines. His name is Horst Horserter, and he was born 28 years ago at Parosa, Turkey, of Hungarian parents. He served in the Turkish army for several years and then came to the United States. His next move was to Cuba, where he fought under General Maceo against the Spaniards for two years. He is a blacksmith by trade and has worked in Indianapolis for some time. His body bears the scars of many wounds. In his travels he has learned to speak nine languages.—Indianapolis Journal.

Funston.

They name, O gallant Kansan, is a terror And a nightmare to the poetaster. It doth not lend itself beseechingly To the vagrant rhymester. It trippeth not Along the bosky dells of poesy. Chased by the eager muse.

Funston! 'Tis a name To grasp at either end and swing in air To club some boasting enemy to death. Funston! It has a Kansas sort of sound That well befits a Kansas hurricane, Begun in fun and ending with a stun That spreads all over half a dozen counties. 'Tis not a thing of beauty, nor a joy To the Filipinos. It means trouble, Thunder, lightning, and woe, and sudden death, And ground torn up, and knockout drops, and blood,

And whirling terrors, and black destruction, And no tornado cellar! Go it, O mighty Funston, fighting Funston! What though thy weight be hardly more than one strn?

Not size, but quality it is that counts, It is the mind and not the meat that mounts. There's nothing in the make up of a name. 'Funston' shall fill the sounding trump of fame, Yes, beat fame's drum with loud resounding thud, And evermore thy foe's name shall be Mud! Chicago Tribune.

FOR STATE CHAIRMAN

Congressman R. W. Tayler
Being Boomed For It.

The Representative From This District
Put Forward by a Columbus Paper as
the Man For the Place—Would Make a Good Presiding Officer.

It will be but a few days now until
the people of Ohio will know for whom
they will vote next fall on the Republican ticket, or at least they will know what work was done by the Republican state convention.

The convention will be held at the Columbus auditorium Thursday and
Friday, June 1 and 2, with Hon. W. S.
Kerr as temporary chairman; Hon. E.
L. Lampson, temporary secretary;
Frederick Bader, sergeant-at-arms; and
S. N. Field, first assistant sergeant-at-arms. The chaplains for the occasion
will be: Thursday, Rev. S. S. Palmer;
Friday, Rev. H. H. Barbour. The headquarters of the Republican state central committee will be parlor 147, Neil House.

The district delegate meetings will be at 2:30 o'clock Thursday June 1. The delegates of the Eighteenth district,
composed of Stark, Mahoning and Columbiana counties, will meet in the office of the commissioner of railroads
and telegraphs.

The Ohio State Journal says: The
friends of Congressman R. W. Tay-
ler are working in his behalf to secure for him the seat of permanent chairman, and it is very probable, they
will be successful in their undertaking.
Mr. Tayler would fill the position creditably both to himself and to the party
whom he represents.

WILL OPEN.

Rock Springs Season to Commence Wednesday Evening.

Rock Springs will be open to the public
Wednesday evening, and Wolfe's orchestra will furnish music for dancing
at the grounds every evening. The pavilion has been thoroughly renovated
and has been fitted up with 100 electric lights. The cafe has been opened and everything possible will be done for the comfort of the patrons. Admission to the grounds will be five cents to everybody, while dancing will cost 35 cents.
On Thursday evening Mrs. Annie E.
George will lecture.

Of the American Mechanics Is Now Being Held.

town where they will attend the annual session of the American Mechanics. Mr.
Arbuckle is state treasurer, while Mr.
Johnson will represent the local lodge.

A. H. Clark will transact some legal business in that section of the state, but
will also attend the convention.

KNOCKED DOWN.

Saturday evening at the corner of Fifth and Washington street a wheel-man ran into and knocked down William Brunt. The boy was riding faster than the law allowed, but was ringing
his bell. Mr. Brunt received a hard fall, but was not injured beyond having
a few bruises. If the careless bicycle riding is not stopped soon somebody will
get seriously injured.

They Will Fast.

The colored people of the city will observe Friday, June 2, as a day of Thanksgiving and fasting in response to
a notice sent out by a national committee. The purpose of the affair is to awaken the people to the condition of
the colored churches.

Baseball Notes.

Winnie Mercer in two games played
Saturday had three hits, two putouts,

WORK TO BEGIN.

Preliminaries at Sebring Completed and Active Construction Started.

The Sebring Pottery company are
most every day awarding parts of contracts for the pottery they intend to erect at Beloit, and within a few days
their part of the work will be completed.
The Alliance Review in speaking of
other improvements at Beloit says:

Sebring now seems on the very brink
of reality, for it is announced that the Pennsylvania lines officials have secured
the required rails and ties which are loaded and ready to move forward to
posed station.

It is further stated that the lumber
and stone to be used in erecting the
depot and freight house are on the cars,
awaiting the completion of the switch.

It is also said on good authority, that
a number of cars laden with building
material, are standing on the track at Cleveland, Pittsburg and other points,
awaiting the construction of the proposed siding, before shipment can be made. These, together with several cars of brick at Louisville, are consigned
to the new pottery firm at Sebring.

Word from Sebring today is to the effect that the track will be built next Tuesday, or possibly Monday. This information has greatly strengthened the faith of the community in the enterprise of transforming a series of vacant fields into a flourishing manufacturing
city.

JOURNEYMEN

Will Get What They Want if They Give Apprentices.

This morning a boss painter, in speaking of the demand recently made by the
journeymen, said:

"If the journeymen decide to come down to the old rule of one apprentice
for every five men, which is, in other terms, one apprentice to a shop, I do not think but what every boss painter in the town would give them $2.50 per day.
They ask the new ruling to take effect,
but I am ready to give this rate today
if they allow one apprentice to five men."

registered seven feet and falling. The
Ben Hur, Kanawha and Keystone State
passed up in the order named, and each packet had a heavy trip. The first and
last named packets will be down tonight,
and the Kanawha will be down tomorrow night. The side wheel packet City
of Pittsburg is due up tonight from Louisville, and due south tomorrow
evening.

NEW CALENDAR SCHEME

Bundy's Plan For a Thirteen Months Year.

the Year Into Months of Twenty-
eight Days Each—Hopes His Calendar Will Be Adopted at Beginning
of the Next Century.

Mr. C. H. Bundy of Marion, Ind.,
was in Muncie the other day. Mr. Bundy is the now famous inventor of the new calendar which he expects to see universally adopted in 1900. Mr. Bundy, when asked regarding his unique
idea for a new calendar for 1900, with 13 months of 28 days each, said:
"When the present calendar was adopted, an error was made which makes it
necessary to drop leap year in 1900,
that the calendar may be exact with a correct solar reckoning. The history of early calendars is very unreliable, but enough is known to show that they were numerous and incorrect. I have made a study of this, and therefore I
have designed and have a copyright on
a new calendar which I hope will be adopted at the beginning of the next
century."

Mr. Bundy divides the year into 13
months of four weeks each. As 1900
comes in on Monday, and as Monday is
the first day of the commercial week,
he makes it the first day of the month.
The new month is called Centuary, because of the time of its proposed adoption—the end of one century and the beginning of another. Under the Bundy
calendar the months do not begin and
end on different days in the week, as is
now the case, greatly to our confusion.

Bundy, in explaining its features, "will
be good for all years to come, dating
from the time of its adoption. By this arrangement it will not be necessary to look for or consult a last year's calendar or to compute time to find what
day of the week or month a certain date
was or will be. Another valuable feature under this scheme is that holidays,
birthdays and all special dates will be permanent. This plan gives us a year
of 364 days, leaving a shortage of 1 1/4
days plus, which may be taken up in Centuary or any other month when
enough time has accumulated to make an extra week. The present calendar takes an extra day every four years to keep us in line with solar time. Now,
for the sake of permanency, why not allow the loss of time to run on until
we have enough to make an extra week?
My calendar is very simple, equally
complete and on a par with standard
time. It is practicable in every way
and abreast with this progressive age."

Mr. Bundy has gathered all the extra
days over and above 28 in each month
from the present calendar and formed Centuary, and while he has placed it
after December he is inclined to think
the new month should be the first of
the year on account of the world's attachment to Christmas and its time in solar calculation, but in constructing a
calendar for the whole world holidays
should be considered last. If the new month is placed as the first, our local holidays will come later, excepting Thanksgiving and Christmas, and if
last they will come earlier, but in no
case, it is claimed, will the change be serious, as the objection will be almost wholly a matter of sentiment.

Should Centuary become the first
month the first holiday to disappear
would be New Year's day. Then comes Washington's birthday, Feb. 22, which
is on the fifty-third day of the year
now. Under the change it would come
the last Thursday in January, which would be the 25th. "But is there any serious objection," the author asks, "to paying respect to his memory on the
seventy-eighth day of the year and continue to observe Monday, Feb. 22, as heretofore?" Next comes Memorial day. There being no month with 30 days, it disappears. Now it is under the one hundred and fiftieth day,
which, under the change, would be Wednesday, May 10. The present date
has been considered by many a little too early, as it is nearly always cool
and flowers scarce. The 28th day of May would overcome both of these objections. Independence day on the 4th of July comes on the one hundred and eighty-fifth day of the year. By the new calendar the one hundred and eighty-fifth day would be June 17.
Now Thanksgiving comes the last Thursday in November, or the three hundred and twenty-ninth day of the year. The new calendar would bring it
on the three hundred and thirty-third day—the last Thursday, as now. Christmas comes on the three hundred and fifty-ninth day now; then it would come on the three hundred and sixty-
first day, or the last Thursday of December.

Mr. Bundy is the recipient of many letters daily approving the change. The suggestion, he says, continues to grow
in favor and is drawing to its support
many progressive thinkers, who say
there is nothing in the way of its success but some matters of sentiment.
Mr. Bundy is a native of Ohio and
was at one time in business in St.
Louis, but has of late years been engaged in the newspaper business.

IF Carnegie really wants to be a benefactor to the American people he will spend the rest of his life in England and keep his mouth shut.

AS USUAL the biggest part of the news about factional fights among Ohio Republicans appears in the Democratic papers. The wish is father to the item.

GOVERNOR STONE, of Pennsylvania, has slashed a million off the state appropriation for public schools. Proper retrenchment in salaries and grabs at Harrisburg would have saved the Keystone state the humiliation of a backward step in educational finance.

AN INDIVIDUAL described as General John Beatty, of Columbus, is quoted as saying: "I concluded that McKinley and the members of his cabinet had simply been making asses of themselves, as has been their custom at least once a week for the past year." If General Beatty only made an ass of himself once a week it wouldn't be so bad. There are evidently no intervals when General Beatty does not make an ass of himself.

HONOR FOR MR. TAYLER.

The suggestion from the Ohio State Journal, the leading Republican paper of the state capital, that Congressman Robert W. Tayler, of this district, would be an available and suitable chairman of the Republican state convention, will be heartily welcomed in this city and county, where Mr. Tayler's worth and ability are known and fully appreciated. In selecting Mr. Tayler for the position the state leaders would appropriately honor a worthy Republican and recognize the staunch Republicanism of this county and district.

EPWORTH LEAGUE DAY A RUNAWAY ACCIDENT

The Tenth Anniversary Celebrated Yesterday.

At the First and Second M. E. Churches Last Evening—Class of 20 Graduated at the First and Officers Were Installed at the East End.

The services at the First M. E. church yesterday caused by the tenth anniversary of the Epworth League were largely attended both morning and evening. The program for the morning session was closely followed. At the first session three persons were baptized, two being children. The evening service was very interesting. The church was well filled, and the services were conducted by A. J. Savage, president of the league. On the platform were officers of the league. After devotional exercises Rev. Clark Crawford examined a class of 20 juniors which graduated into the senior department.

The work of the senior league was told by the officers who served during the past six months.

The Epworth League is the outgrowth of the Young People's Methodist Alliance, the Young People's Christian League, the Methodist Young People's Union and the Methodist Episcopal Alliance of America. On May 14, 1889, the leaders of the various societies met at Cleveland, and when their meeting closed the Epworth League of the Methodist Episcopal church was formed. Since that time societies have been constantly organizing, and today there is in the neighborhood of 20,000 chapters, with a membership of 1,700,000.

The society in this city has done much good work since its organization, and has been a power to the church in more ways than one. The membership of the league is increasing rapidly.

At the Second M. E. church last night Rev. W. H. Haverfield preached an interesting sermon to the league of that church. The church was well filled, many strangers being present. After the sermon the officers elected at the last business meeting of the league were installed.

ELDER JACKSON

Will Preach in This City Next Saturday Evening.

The quarterly conference of the First M. E. church will be held in the lecture room of that building next Saturday evening. The service will be in charge of Presiding Elder Jackson, of the Steubenville district of the Methodist Episcopal church. He will also preach the conference sermon. At this meeting reports of the Sunday school and of the Epworth League will be received. On the following Sunday the quarterly communion will be observed.

IMPROVEMENTS

At the Methodist Protestant Church to Be Commenced at Once.

By a large vote the congregation of the Methodist Protestant church yesterday decided to commence to improve the church building at once. Not less than $1,500 will be expended on the work which will commence this week. When this work is completed the congregation will take some action toward purchasing a pipe organ.

PLENTY OF THEM.

A Variety of Entertainments Were Held in the Diamond.

The Diamond presented a metropolitan appearance Saturday evening. In one part of the street a clown was giving a free exhibition while in another portion a prohibition speaker was making an address. The Salvation Army held forth directly across Sixth street. The clown had the largest crowd.

OBEYED THE LAW.

Yesterday Was a Very Orderly Day in the City.

The city was closed tighter yesterday than it has been for many years, and it was next to impossible to buy anything. Cigars and tobacco were sold in the city, but not in the open manner of the last few Sundays. The saloons were all closed and made no effort to sell.

Men's stylish readymade suits. Low price is what talks. They cost one-half what tailors ask. Good clothes of the high grade order is what sells today. See Joseph Bros' line.

Mrs. E. Watson and Child Seriously Injured Today.

Mishap Occurs to a Family Party Driving to Lisbon—Husband, Wife and Child Thrown Out on the Roadside—Husband Escaped Injury.

LISBON, May 15.—[Special]—This morning while E. Watson, of near Wellsville, was driving down the hill to Lisbon where the East Liverpool and Wellsville roads join, the breeching broke and the horse started to kick and to run, throwing the buggy over and smashing it to pieces, and throwing Watson, his wife and 10-year-old child out of the rig. The wife and child were severely injured and were taken to the Spence residence. Mr. Watson himself was not hurt. The horse did not get away.

Religious and Irreligious Fishes.

Fishes are supposed to have no religion.

Probably they are greatly maligned in that as well as in other respects.

St. Anthony, as you know, used to preach to them and make their eyes glitter and their hearts beat by his eloquence. A Jewish story is told—I cannot, unfortunately, lay my hands on the passage just now—of a fish which leaves the sea on Saturday and does not return until Sunday, so as to be able to keep the Sabbath.

Other fishes, unlike their puritanical brother, do not observe the sacred day.

The Koran gives a story of some very naughty fishes in David's time. Knowing that the Israelites were forbidden to catch fish on the Sabbath, the wicked creatures came out of the Red sea in unusual numbers and kept in sight of the people all through the day in order to tempt them. On the approach of night they returned to the sea again.

In a fatal moment some of the Israelites yielded to the piscine blandishments, caught several of them and had them for dinner. Whereupon David cursed the Sabbath breakers, and God to show his displeasure, changed them into apes and pigs. For three days they remained in this unpleasant condition, when a violent storm arose and swept them into the sea.

The fish which brought the tribute money to our Lord is supposed to have been a haddock, which had strayed into the lake of Gennesaret. There are several legends which tell of miraculous finds in fishes.—Paris Messenger.

Rival for the Chrysanthemum.

Cuba is to be made the American hothouse for the famous $30,000 Lawson pink.

In the corridors of the Fifth Avenue hotel in New York the other day I met Thomas F. Galvin, the original grower of this now famous flower, and he told me that he has just returned from Cuba, where he has secured several acres of land which will be used for the propagation of the new flower.

By scientific cultivation in the tropics, Mr. Galvin says, he anticipates being able to grow carnation blooms the year round that will be almost as large as sunflowers.

At last the huge chrysanthemum has a dangerous rival.

VALUATION REDUCED

In Two Wards by the Assessors' Board.

Offset by a Cut in the Third and Fourth. First Not Completed—Assessors Went to Lisbon This Morning to File Reports With the Auditor.

Saturday the assessors completed their work with the exception of Mr. McHenry, of the First ward. They met in an office in the Stevenson block Saturday night and finished their books, and this morning at 6:30 o'clock they left for Lisbon where they presented their books to Judge Boone and Auditor Harvey. Messrs. Kinsey, Deitz and Croxall were seen before they left this morning and gave the following as a result of their work:

In the second ward Assessor Kinsey found the valuation to be in the neighborhood of $150,000. This is an increase of $5,500 over the valuation of last year. In this ward were found to be 887 persons able to vote, and only 75 dogs were found.

The Third ward was gone over by Henry Deitz, and the valuation decreased considerably since last year. Property to the value of $80,000 was booked, and 700 voters were listed. But 25 dog owners were found, which is a marked decrease from the report of last year.

Assessor Croxall stated the valuation of the property in the Sixth ward was placed at $28,660, while last year the valuation was $31,970. This shows a decrease of $3,310 over the last report. In the ward 801 male persons over 21 years were found, and 101 dogs will be taxed.

The assessors when asked the cause of the decrease in valuation of the Third and Fourth wards, said the majority of the money that was tied up last year has been released and invested, and that more was being released and placed in investments every day.

CASES IN COURT.

Judge P. M. Smith Opened the Session at Lisbon Today.

LISBON, May 15.—[Special]—Court opened this morning with Judge P. M. Smith presiding.

The case of Mrs. Doutt against Mary Jane Hutchinson and others was settled, the defendants paying $30, the balance due upon real estate.

The divorce case of Austin Miller versus George W. Miller, of Salem, is being heard today.

Monroe Younger, the Salem man arrested in New Castle, Pa., for cutting Curly Long with intent to kill, was jailed here Saturday night. He may be arraigned this afternoon.

WORKING ON SUNDAY

Contractor McNally Arrested by Officer White.

On the Wharf Sunday Morning, and Will be Given a Hearing Tomorrow—Several Drunks Arrested and Tried This Morning—Box Car Sleeper Pinched.

There were an unusual number of arrests made yesterday and Saturday night, and this morning Mayor Bough had a motley crowd to dispose of. Once more a resident of Salineville was gathered in, as was a resident of Pennsylvania.

Saturday night Officer Grim, in an alley back of the opera house, arrested four men who gave the names of Frank Smith, John Burris, Caleb Seibert and John Owens, Jr. They were charged with obscene conduct, and made arrangements to appear before the mayor this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Yesterday morning Officers McDonald and Bettridge made a trip through Dew Drop alley, and during their travels gathered in Terry Alcock and William Swaney. They were taken to jail in the patrol, where a charge of intoxication was placed against them. This morning Alcock was fined $7.60 and Swaney $9.60. The latter was released, while the former is still in jail in default of payment.

Last evening Bart Brown was arrested by Officer Mahoney on a charge of being drunk. He was taken to jail and this morning he was fined $9.60. He is still a guest of the city in default of payment.

Eli McGaffick, of Salineville, was arrested by Officer White yesterday. He was found sleeping in a box car, having gone there when he was not feeling good. He gave security for his appearance this evening.

Yesterday morning Officer White arrested George McNally, the Pittsburgh contractor, who is building the extension of the Cumberland branch. He was taken to city hall, and after a short consultation with the mayor he was allowed to go to appear later in the week.

McNally was arrested on a charge of common labor on Sunday. He was superintending the work of taking a steam shovel down the Broadway wharf. The law under which McNally was arrested, in substance, is as follows: "Whoever, over 14 years old engages in common labor on the first of the week called Sunday shall, on complaint made within 10 days after, upon conviction, be fined for the first offense $25, and for each subsequent offense such person shall be fined not less than $50 or more than $100, and imprisonment not less than five days or more than 30 days."

Officer Woods this afternoon arrested a man who gave the name of Rohe. He was drunk, and found sleeping in Blackmore's alley, near Broadway. He was taken to jail in the patrol, where a charge of intoxication was placed against him.

Attending a Convention. Rev. Edwin Weary is in Cleveland attending the general convention of the Episcopal church of this district. The delegates from St. Stephen's church will leave this evening.

High grade readymade suits are cut by expert, fine, journeymen tailors, and today people are realizing their good merits, of fit, style and make. These suits have no fancy prices. Joseph Bros. have them in prices ranging from $8 to $15.

Trustees Will Meet. The trustees of Spring Grove camp-ground will meet this evening and arrange plans for the coming season.

TAX LEVY TO BE ESTIMATED

By the Finance Committee Tomorrow Evening—Striking Laborers Go Back to Work—Granted a Pension—News and Notes From Down the River.

The case of James Mackenzie versus Henry Noss for $26, wages due, was tried before a jury of six in Squire Mackenzie's office Saturday afternoon. The jurors were B. D. Beacom, C. V. Schaub, J. C. Davis, C. R. Chaney, William Morrow and Dan Tarr. The jury brought in a verdict for $24.45 for the plaintiff.

The case of Jacob Nagle, who sues Frank Rue for a grocery bill of $66, was tried before Squire Riley Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock, and will come up for a second hearing this afternoon, when, if matters cannot be settled between the two parties, the case will be taken up before the common pleas court at the next session.

Solinger-Johnson.

The wedding of Harry H. Solinger and Miss Edna Johnson will take place at the residence of Doctor Holtz this evening at 6 o'clock. The happy couple will leave for a week's trip east immediately after the ceremony, and on their return will go to housekeeping on Commerce street. Mr. Solinger and Miss Johnson are well known and have the good wishes of their friends.

The New M. E. Church.

S. K. Bradley, of Cleveland, the architect who is to make plans for the new Methodist Episcopal church, will be here this week, when he will give specifications and cost. Doctor Holtz stated this morning that he hoped to have the church finished by the time the East Ohio conference meets here on Sept. 13.

Drunk and Disorderly.

William Rudy became very drunk and disorderly Saturday night and was locked up for safe keeping by Officer Winn. The mayor this morning fined him $2 and costs which he paid and was released.

The Tax Levy.

The finance committee, consisting of Messrs. Beacom, Pugh and Bowers, will meet tomorrow evening and make the tax levy on the town. Council will meet next Monday night.

STORY ABOUT FUNSTON.

How the Famous Colonel Lost a West Point Cadetship.

"Colonel Fred Funston of the Twentieth Kansas volunteers, who is making such a record as a fighter in the Philippine campaign, will never get over his disappointment at not going to West Point about 14 years ago," said one of Funston's classmates at the Kansas State university to a New York Tribune reporter recently after reading the dispatches from Manila. The narrator, who is a machine manufacturer in New York, had a number of stories to tell about Funston. This was one of them:

"Funston is a native of Ohio, and, although one of the smallest men in the university, he was one of the pluckiest. Before going to the university, from which, by the way, he was not graduated, owing to his being dull in studies, he tried the examination for a West Point cadetship. If I remember rightly, this was about 14 or 15 years ago, when Funston was a mere stripling and when his father was a congressman from a southern Kansas district.

"Fred's father had at his disposal, subject to competitive examination, a cadetship, and Fred, after filling his mind with United States history and practicing at marksmanship and sword exercise for months, went into the examination, which was held, I think, at Paola. Fred was confident. That's the way he is built, by the way, notwithstanding that he is small and redheaded, and he thought that the cadetship was a sure thing. His father thought so, too, and no doubt helped Fred along as much as possible.

"In the examination were half a dozen farmers' sons, among them a fellow named Charles Crawford. This Crawford knew a thing or two himself and had a much better all around store of knowledge than Funston possessed. When the papers were examined, Crawford was found to be the winner by a handsome margin, with Fred a poor second.

"The disappointment nearly broke Funston's heart, and he was as savage as a bulldog for months afterward. Fred was named as the alternate, and he had a gleam of hope that Crawford would be killed in a cyclone or get struck by lightning or get crippled in a railroad smash up, and that as alternate he would go to West Point after all. But Crawford was an unusually healthy fellow and went to the Military academy, where he was graduated well up in his class. He accepted a lieutenantcy in the army and in the Santiago campaign was brevetted captain for gallant conduct under fire. He is now a lieutenant in the Twenty-first infantry, and he left San Francisco for Manila three weeks ago with his regiment.

"Now Funston is a colonel, with the prospect of speedily becoming a brigadier general, and it is possible that Crawford, who will arrive in Manila as a lieutenant, will have his regiment assigned to Funston's brigade. That might not please Crawford, but no doubt it would take away some of the sting of 15 years ago, when Crawford's superior ability wrecked one of Funston's most fondly cherished hopes."

A Barnum Surprise.

A good story of the late George Augustus Sala and Barnum is told. It was on the occasion of the last visit of the famous showman to England, when a public dinner was tendered to Mr. Barnum. Mr. Sala presided. In the reception room, where all were waiting to welcome the guest of the evening, Mr. Barnum came in beaming and, shaking hands with the chairman, said:

"This is indeed a surprise to me."

"Did you hear that?" Mr. Sala whispered. "Why, he arranged for the dinner himself."

To the Filipino Junta In London

THAT THE WAR IS TO GO ON

Until the Independence of the Philippines Is Secured—Hopes of Early Peace Are Dashed if Aguinaldo's Message Is Genuine.

LONDON, May 15.—[Special]—Aguinaldo has wired the Filipino junta here that the Filipino government has decided to continue the war at all cost until independence is secured.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—[Special]—The cable from London stating that Aguinaldo has wired the Filipino Junta there that the war is to go on indefinitely is doubted, but if it be genuine it means the abandonment of hopes of early peace.

Leadville Reinvigorated.

With the beginning of May the camp at Leadville, Colo., again resumes a prosperous air, and from every side comes the good news of resumption of work. Some of the far outlying sections, where the soft but deep snow still impedes progress, will soon be adding their quota to the daily output of the district, which, inside of 30 days, will be the heaviest recorded in the camp. This general activity marks a new era for Leadville.—Denver Republican.

EQUATORIAL GLACIERS.

Twelve Big Ice Streams Found on Africa's Loftiest Mountain.

DISCOVERIES OF DR. HANS MEYER.

Noted Explorer Has Spent a Year Studying Mount Kilima-Njaro and Has Found Twelve Glaciers Descending From Its Snow Capped Peak on All Sides of the Mountain.

The energy of volcanic forces in all parts of the world appears to have attained its maximum in tropical regions. The greatest volcanoes are invariably found there, though other lines of eruption may extend far outside the equatorial area. Thus in Africa by far the greatest mountain masses of volcanic origin are in the neighborhood of the equator. Among them the peak of Ruweazori towers 17,400 feet above the sea, Kenya rises to a height of 19,000 feet, and Kibo, the highest summit of Kilima-Njaro, attains 19,760 feet. Kilima-Njaro is thus the loftiest mountain in Africa and lies just south of the equator.

Dr. Hans Meyer has just spent a season in the study of this giant among mountains, Kilima-Njaro, which has a place for all the climates of the world upon its slopes. From its tropical base to its ice crowned summit it affords facilities for the existence of every kind of plant and animal. No wonder that after its discovery by the missionary Rebmann, in 1848, it was always an object of much speculation and interest. Forty-five Europeans visited the mountain before Dr. Meyer in 1887 began the work that has given him the first place among its explorers. A number of his predecessors tried in vain to reach its snow crowned summit. Meyer succeeded only on his third attempt. In 1887 he attained the altitude of 17,880 feet, when he was compelled to turn back and rejoin his exhausted comrades below. He was again defeated in his attempt of 1888, but in 1889 he floundered through the snow to the top of Kaiser Wilhelm peak on the edge of the Kibo crater, the culminating point of Africa. There he saw a glacial stream emerging through a rift in the crater wall and moving down the west slope.

Since his conquest of the mountain much has been added to our knowledge of Kilima-Njaro by officials in the government of German East Africa and German naturalists who have spent many months in studying it. The writings of Dr. Lent, who was murdered by natives living on the mountain slope, and the book of Professor Volkers, published two years ago, recorded many observations of much merit. But nothing was added to the discoveries that Meyer made in the Alpine region of the mountain. Not one of his successors reached the ice of Kibo, though many made the attempt. It is almost impossible to induce the native assistants to enter the colder zone of the upper altitudes, but it was in this Alpine region that the most interesting problems remained to be solved. Here is the center of the upbuilding of the mountain and the area from which a thorough study of it may best be made. Dr. Meyer's plan last summer was to circle the mountain in the region of the ice and in the subarctic zone below it. His plans were successfully carried out in all respects, and the entire mountain mass, which extends for about 15 miles east and west and 20 miles north and south, may now be mapped in much detail.

In 1889 Dr. Meyer discovered one glacier proceeding from the snows of the summit. He has now mapped 12 of these ice streams. The brilliant success of his undertaking is due, in part, to the methods of travel which his previous experience suggested and to the excellent qualities of his black guides, who, having followed him once before above the snow limit, rendered him far more efficient service on his last visit. He provided every comfort which the conditions of mountain climbing permitted his party to enjoy. After each hard day's work the party crept into their warm fur sleeping bags, such as Dr. Nansen used in his arctic expedition. Thus assured good rest at night, they were fully refreshed and strengthened for the hard labors of the day.

On Aug. 9 last Dr. Meyer ascended the south slope of the mountain to study the great fissure that had been observed to the southeast of Mawenzi, the lower summit. He found that this long and wide depression was not excavated by erosion, but was the result of violent dislocation, probably during one of the volcanic outbursts which caused a large area to subside. A little later he achieved the first ascent on the northern slope that has been made. He pushed up through the pathless forest to a height of 12,500 feet, far above the tree line, and pitched his camp at the northeast foot of the glacial detritus which forms the steep summit of Kibo.

He observed on this side of the mountain that the climate is much drier than on the southern slope. The characteristic plants of the semiarid steppe below are spread everywhere over the lower part of the northern slope. At a height of 16,800 feet, about 1,000 feet higher than the summit of Mont Blanc, he found, under the shelter of a rock, a puny blossom. It was higher up the mountain than any other flowering plant, and above it there were only a few types of arctic vegetation. In the inhabited region of the north side he found a tribe that differed greatly from the Bantu natives of the southern slope. They seem to be akin to the nomads of the north, the great Masai tribe of Hamitic origin, a branch of the human family that is classed among the white races. These people are the only inhabitants of the northern slope. They did not impress Dr. Meyer favorably, and he calls them "a dirty and impudent race."

In his camp on the north slope the thermometer sank to 18 degrees F. From this point his party struggled over 3,000 feet higher through the snow up to the crater of Kibo, which they entered through the Hans Meyer cleft. The crater is roughly circular in form, with a diameter of about 1½ miles. In 1889 it was half full of snow and ice, but the ice masses have been greatly reduced since Dr. Meyer first saw them and the glacier emerging from the crater on the western side is also of small dimensions.

Dr. Meyer then pursued his march around the mountain mass just below the snow limit and at lower levels. He made his first visit to the northwest and west slopes of the mountain, where he found many rugged, volcanic cones that had been reared on the side of the mountain by outbursts at a height of about 13,500 feet, flooding the flank of the mountain with colossal lava streams that had run together to form a plateau, which the explorer named the Galuma plateau after a large cave he discovered at a height of 11,800 feet, where he had pitched his tents. When he climbed up the western side of the Kibo crater, he discovered three independent glaciers descending from the snows to a height of 16,000 feet, with heaps of moraine in front of them. Below were broad troughs extending two and a half to three miles, their high lateral moraines indicating their glacial origin. These depressions which glaciers had excavated extend down to 12,500 feet. He named the middle glacier after Dr. Erich von Drygalski, the distinguished explorer of Greenland glaciers.

Two more glaciers were discovered on the southern slope of the mountain whose melting terminations are drained into the Weruweru river. One of these glaciers descends to 13,800 feet, which is lower than any other of the ice streams on the mountain. Another trip to the southeast of the Kibo crater, below the Ratzel glacier, which flows down the east side, revealed a large extent of glaciated ground, the lowest moraines and striated rocks lying at a height of about 12,000 feet. On this southeast slope, at a height of 15,900 feet, the party reached another glacier, from which, to their astonishment, they saw six more of these great ice streams, making this part of Kilima-Njaro the most imposing glacial zone on the mountain. The forms of the ice surface here differ essentially from those on the east and west sides. Dr. Meyer, accordingly, has discovered 12 glaciers coming from the region of perpetual snow and descending the east, south and west sides of the mountain, and yet the geographers of England declared 50 years ago that Rebmann was drawing on his imagination when he told of the snow that crowned the greatest of African summits. The snow was there, and plenty of it, but the humble missionary traveler died long before justice was done to his faithful labors.—New York Sun.

HELEN KELLER ON A WHEEL.

Helen Keller, the wonderful young girl who, although being blind, deaf and dumb, deprived of so many of her senses, accomplishes as much and even more than those gifted with all their faculties, is learning to ride a tandem. Although some two or three years ago, under the guidance of Colonel T. W. Higginson, she mounted a machine and rode short distance, the other day she really took her first lesson, under the guidance of Alfred St. Onge, an expert and well known bicycle rider. At a quarter past 2 she started from 12 Newbury street, in Boston, for a ride to Jamaica Plain.

Miss Keller seemed to have no difficulty in mounting, and started off with much self confidence and as if she were quite used to riding. She was given much good advice by a party of interested small boys who stood near, evidently thinking their assistance invaluable. Miss Sullivan, her teacher, accompanied her on her ride.—Boston Transcript.

FALL IN MILLINERY.

How a Kansas City Pastor Solved the High Hat Problem.

Dr. Matthew S. Hughes solved the high hat problem in his church at Kansas City the other Sunday night with a dexterity that astonished his congregation and did not offend a single female member of his church. Dr. Hughes is pastor of the Independence Avenue Methodist church, and there are as many pretty hats seen there of a Sunday as can be found in any religious gathering in the town.

The question of taking off hats has been discussed by the women of the Independence Avenue church for several weeks. Several of the church societies considered the step and approved it. The Women's Foreign Missionary society and the Ladies' Aid society both passed on the question. They decided that the hats should come off. But how start it? That was the trouble. If all the women would take off their hats together, all right. But a few were unwilling to take the lead and be the only ones. Dr. Hughes solved the vexing problem the other Sunday night just before he began his sermon.

"Of course," he said, with an air of indifference, "it would do no good for me to request you to take your hats off."

At this 50 or more women seated near the pulpit began unpinning their hats. The rest made no move, and Dr. Hughes continued slowly:

"For it would not do, perhaps, for some to take off their hats. They might take cold."

Still only the original 50 sat bare-headed.

Dr. Hughes looked a trifle dubious, but said:

A hundred additional pairs of hands at once went to work.

With one accord 500 women hastily unfastened their hats; then, the rest not wishing to stand out, there was a general onset upon Easter millinery. For a few minutes women's fingers were busy patting, curling and smoothing, and it was only one or two that were fortunate enough to have pocket mirrors along. These few tiny reflectors did duty for the entire pews they were in. Then, with sigh, everybody leaned back and listened. Without further remarks Dr. Hughes started upon his sermon.

"It is terribly annoying," he said afterward, "to the man in the pulpit to watch the frantic efforts of people in the congregation to keep him in sight. Whenever I take a step, every head in the congregation sways to one side or the other in an effort to look just past an Easter hat. When I move from one side of the platform to the other, a corresponding movement results among my hearers, and the effect is really disconcerting."—Special to St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

CAUGHT IN A MAGIC CIRCLE.

How an Alleged Wizard Is Said to Have Captured a Chicken Thief.

Farmers from Brecknock township, Berks county, Pa., tell of the remarkable capture of a chicken thief on the farm of Jameson Thwaite, near Beckersville, Pa., early the other morning. They declare that Thwaite is endowed with supernatural power and that by the exercise of this power the chicken thief was caught.

Early the other morning the farmers in the neighborhood of Beckersville were awakened by the wild ringing of the farm dinner bell on the Thwaite place. Standing in the center of a circle drawn on the ground with chalk, they found a terror stricken tramp. Dancing around the frightened man, making queer motions with his hands and arms, was Thwaite.

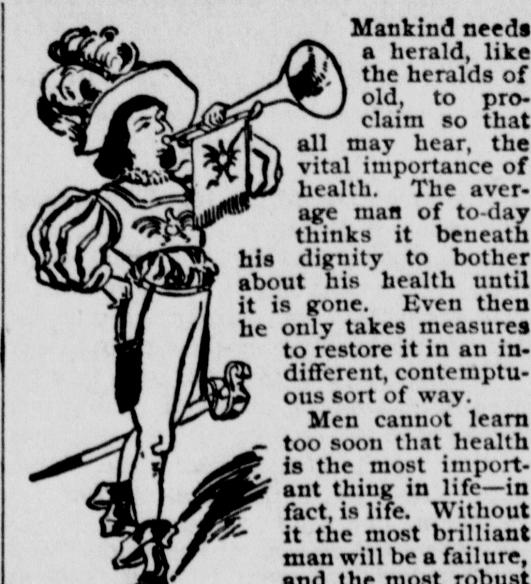

The Brecknock farmers who visited Reading solemnly declare that Thwaite possesses supernatural power, and that he caught the thief in a "magic circle," which he drew with chalk the night before, "powwowing" the circle so that any one stepping within it is transfixed to the ground and unable to move until the spell is broken by the seer.—Reading Special Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Longest Spite Fence on Record.

A spite fence 12 feet high and 250 feet long has been built by Herman Krone at Hillsdale, N. J., to divide his property from that of his neighbor, Theodore Schulke. Mr. Schulke conducts a summer boarding house. The families had a disagreement over a house on the Schulke place. The fence runs from the sidewalk line to the rear of Mr. Krone's lot and leaves the Schulke household but one view—to the west. Mr. Schulke hopes to obtain satisfaction in the courts. He has had his land surveyed and found that the posts of Mr. Krone's fence trespass three inches upon the Schulke property.

Can Hum Some.

Mankind needs a herald, like the heralds of old, to proclaim so that all may hear, the vital importance of health. The average man of to-day thinks it beneath his dignity to bother about his health until it is gone. Even then he only takes measures to restore it in an indifferent, contemptuous sort of way.

Men cannot learn too soon that health is the most important thing in life—in fact, is life. Without it the most brilliant man will be a failure, and the most robust man will rapidly become a physical wreck. The man who neglects the little headaches, the loss of appetite and sleep, nervousness, hot flushings, cold chills, heavy head, lax muscles, and the multitude of bad feelings that are the heralds of approaching sickness and disease, must pay a tremendous penalty. For men who suffer in this way there is no medicine equal to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It sharpens the appetite, corrects all disorders of the digestion, invigorates the liver, makes the assimilation of the food perfect, purifies the blood and enriches it with the life-giving elements that build new, healthy flesh. It is the great blood-maker and flesh-builder. It cures 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption and is the best of all known remedies for nervous troubles. Thousands have told, over their own signatures, the stories of the wonders it has performed. Honest dealers will not urge a substitute for the sake of a little extra profit.

Thomas Fletcher, of Clifton Station, Fairfax Co., Va., writes: "I suffered terrible tortures for ten years with 'gastralgia' (pain in the stomach). I then took six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which completely cured me."

When the bowels are regular the body will feel good and the mind will be active. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. They never gripe. All good dealers sell them and have nothing else "just as good."

TO BE OR NOT TO BE.

This Is an Old Question and Has to Be Answered Carefully by East Liverpool People.

What do the people of East Liverpool think of the statement published below? Can any citizen ask for more convincing proof of the merits claimed by the article under discussion? What is there lacking in such evidence? The most superficial investigation will corroborate it. It is East Liverpool proof for East Liverpool people. It is not the style of proof other medicinal preparations offer, viz., Kalamazoo, Mich., proof for East Liverpool people. The most exacting cannot wish for anything more. Read this:

Mrs. A. Searight, No. 162 High street, East End, says: "I had a severe attack of kidney complaint, which confined me to my bed for about three months. It affected my entire system, and while I was able to be about I never got completely rid of it. I suffered almost constantly with a dull, heavy pain across the loins; if I sat for any length of time, or did anything that brought me into a stooping position and attempted to rise, there was a sharp shooting pain in the small of my back which felt as if a knife or other sharp instrument had pierced me. I could not sleep when I went to bed, expecting to get rest. I was often robbed of it by nervousness and pain in my back. I have risen unrefreshed and more tired and worn out than I was when I retired. I had taken so much medicine without being cured that I was discouraged. Doan's Kidney Pills presented themselves in the form of a newspaper account. I got some at the W. & W. pharmacy. They proved to be the proper remedy for me. Their mild and gentle influence gradually reduced the pain in my back and strengthened the weakness. All the symptoms having disappeared, I rested well at night and gained in strength and weight every day. Of course I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills; it would not be right to refuse to, for the benefit of other sufferers."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Work was resumed this morning on the Wellsville road.

J. L. Francis and S. B. Felt spent yesterday in Youngstown.

Trades council will hold an important business meeting Wednesday evening.

Historic Mingo Bottom, near Mingo Junction, O., is to be cut up into town lots.

The Knowles, Taylor & Knowles company Saturday shipped a car of ware to New York state.

The street force today thoroughly cleaned Second street. The improvement is very noticeable.

Mrs. Joseph Beardmore, who has been seriously ill for several weeks, is again able to be out.

Rev. J. G. Reinartz is in Pittsburgh attending the eighth convention of the Lutheran Liturgical association.

The train due at the Second street station at 6:17 was 15 minutes late in arriving. The delay was caused by a dray near Industry.

Secretary Platts and Physical Director Roseborough will leave in the morning for a bicycle trip to Cleveland. They will return Friday morning.

The funeral of William Gibbs took place yesterday afternoon and was largely attended, the Red Men having charge of the services. Interment was made at Riverview.

The Woman's Aid society of the Northside chapel will give a musical and literary entertainment Friday evening in the lecture room of the First Presbyterian church.

The bids for building the new warehouse at the Cartwright plant are expected to be all in this evening. They will probably be opened tomorrow and the contract awarded.

The light committee of council, and a representative of the light company will meet tomorrow evening for the purpose of making arrangements for lighting the suburban districts.

While repairing his bicycle James West, of 108 Market street, Saturday evening badly injured the third finger of his left hand. The nail was torn from the finger, and he will be unable to work for at least a week.

Business was brisk this morning at the recruiting office and three applications were received. The officers will make every effort to secure another batch of recruits in time to send them away Wednesday.

The Young Men's Christian association baseball team will play a picked nine at West End park, Friday afternoon, May 26. The association team will practice hard, and expect to have the crack organization of the city.

There were a great many people on the streets Saturday evening, and the corner loafers were very much in evidence. The police exerted very little effort to keep them on the move, and as a result the loafers took possession of the corners.

The association bicycle club has not met with flattering success so far this season, as it has rained every day on which a run was scheduled to take place. Another date will be set just as soon as Physical Director Roseborough returns from Cleveland.

Several days ago complaint was made to the Humane society that the driver of the express wagon was abusing his horse. Agent Lloyd investigated the matter, and upon a promise of the driver to do better in the future, prosecution was not commenced.

A large amount of freight was handled at the freight depot last week, and from the outlook today it is probable the business this week will be an increase over that of last week. Shipments are increasing and a large amount is being received daily, both in the lower yards and on the hill.

PAPAL BULL EXPECTED

On Arrival in Washington It Will Be Announced in the Churches Throughout the Country.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The papal bull issued in Rome within the last few days decreeing that the year 1900 shall be a jubilee year throughout the church was expected here shortly and will be announced in all churches throughout the country. The issuance of a bull on the subject gives it special solemnity. It has been the custom to hold jubilees of the church every 25 years, and at one time these were the occasion for the gathering of a vast concourse at Rome to receive the special dispensations and indulgencies allowed during jubilee years.

It is expected, however, by the highest church authorities here that the jubilee next year will be quite generally celebrated throughout the world, thus giving it a more universal aspect instead of being centered at Rome, though doubtless it will lead to many notable pilgrimages to Rome and the gathering there of distinguished churchmen. The jubilee next year is considered more important than that held every 25 years, as it ushers in a new century and comes at a time when Pope Leo is old and very feeble, his ninetieth year having been completed in March.

NEW CHAIR FOR CATHOLIC SCHOOL

Catholic Knights of America Will Endow One at the University.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The Right Rev. Conaty, rector of the Catholic University of America, received a telegram from Kansas City informing him that the Catholic Knights of America at their convention had voted unanimously to endow a chair at the Catholic university. This is likely to be the chair of English literature.

This action of the Catholic knights was received with great satisfaction at the university, as it was the second chair endowment this year, the Knights of Columbus having agreed to endow the chair of American history. This made in all 17 chairs endowed since the establishment of the university.

Recent Attack of Filipinos Caused Them to Order Remaining Troops From Philippines.

MADRID, May 15.—Senor Don Francisco Silvela, the Spanish premier, in an interview regarding the attack by the Filipinos upon the Spanish garrison at Zamboanga, island of Mindanao, in which two Spanish officers and three men were wounded and one man was killed, said:

"It is very painful to us to have suffered these losses in a territory that does not belong to us. We left these troops in the Philippines in the hope that they might aid in securing the release of the Spanish prisoners in the hands of the Filipinos. Our efforts in this direction have been fruitless. Aguinaldo refuses to treat with us, and a Frenchman (M. Dumara) who had offered on our behalf to treat with the enemy, was killed by them."

"America has not yet succeeded, as she has no more authority than we had. We cannot leave troops any longer in a territory that we are not obliged to defend, and I have telegraphed General Rios to use three steamers for the immediate transportation of our troops from Zamboanga and Yolo, and to acquaint Major General Otis with those instructions, so that the American commander may possess the territories we are abandoning."

GOMEZ TO MEET BROOKE

Question of Paying the Cuban Troops May Then Be Settled.

HAVANA, May 15.—General Gomez sent a message to Governor General Brooke that he will do himself the pleasure of calling at headquarters today for a further conference regarding the payment of the Cuban troops. The appointment for the interview is the result of a direct inquiry as to what General Gomez intended to do, in view of the resignation and non-appearance of all the Cuban officers nominated by him to represent the several corps in the distribution of the $3,000,000.

General Brooke is determined to disregard, for the present, the reports that reach him from various sources as to the alleged intention of Gomez to withdraw his co-operation, and thus to throw into confusion the carefully matured plans for distributing the funds.

FLOWER'S FUNERAL THIS AFTERNOON

NEW YORK, May 15.—The pallbearers for the funeral of the late former Governor Roswell P. Flower were selected. They are H. H. Porter, Levi P. Morton, J. Edward Simmons, A. N. Brady, John E. Borne, W. A. Nash, H. M. Flagler and S. W. Rosendale.

A committee of 24 from the Democratic Editors' association, the board of directors of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit company, the faculty and trustees of the Flower hospital and a committee from the grand lodge of Masons will attend the funeral. This will take place from St. Thomas' Episcopal church, on Fifth avenue, at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

After the church services the remains will be taken to the Grand Central station and placed in a special train for Watertown.

The President Spent a Quiet Sunday.

HOT SPRINGS, Va., May 15.—The president spent a quiet Sunday. In the morning he attended service at the Presbyterian church nearby. The sermon, by Dr. White, did not touch on the president or national affairs. Secretary Gage and Mrs. Gage left here for Washington. It is likely the president and Mrs. McKinley may leave for Washington Thursday or Friday.

He Will Probably Be Enthusiastically Received at English and French Stations.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Admiral Dewey's home coming by way of the Mediterranean may give occasion for distinguished honors from the navies of Europe, most of them being represented by extensive squadrons in those waters and some of them having their chief naval stations at Mediterranean ports. Already Ambassador Cambon of France called the attention of the authorities at Paris to the return of Admiral Dewey by way of the Mediterranean and the probable sailing of his flagship Olympia past the French naval ports in Algiers. These are opposite the British possessions of Gibraltar and Malta, at the entrance to the Mediterranean, and are easy and natural stopping places along the route. It was hardly expected that the Admiral would stop at Toulon, the great naval depot of France. At the ports of French Algiers he will be accorded every honor due not only to his high rank, but to the universal esteem in which he is held by the naval fraternity.

The British authorities had taken no steps to have the admiral stop at British ports, but it was stated by one of the British officials that Dewey would be assured a most enthusiastic greeting if he stopped at any British station, and that undoubtedly steps would be taken to induce him to touch at Plymouth and Portsmouth, the southern naval depots of England, if there was any prospect of his acceptance. In any event, it was said, the admiral was quite likely to stop at Malta and Gibraltar, as these are the usual coaling places and this would give an opportunity for an expression of British esteem for him. In the event that the admiral could be induced to stop in England enroute home it was said that he would probably be met at Aden or Port Said by a British escort.

LAKE SCHOONER FOUNDERED.

Went Down With Those Aboard—Captain Reported to Have Escaped.

SAULT STE MARIE, Mich., May 15.—The schooner Nelson, deeply laden with a cargo of coal, founded in Lake Superior off Grand Marais, and carried down all hands. A report from Deer Park, Mich., stated that the captain was saved. The crew consisted of the following: Captain Andrew Haghney of Toledo, captain's wife, 2-year-old child of Captain Haghney; Fred Aas, sailor, residence unknown; six sailors, names unknown. The Nelson was in tow of the steamer A. Folsom, which also had the schooner Mary B. Mitchell as a consort. The Folsom and Mitchell arrived here without serious damage.

A gale was blowing and Captain White of the Folsom tried to turn his tow, with the above result.

Jury Decided She Was Insane When She Killed Her Mother.

PITTSBURG, May 15.—"Not guilty, by reason of insanity," was the verdict in the Bertha Beilstein matricide case. Miss Beilstein received it with the utter indifference and imperturbation that have characterized her during the whole of the trial. If she felt any emotion of pleasure she did not show it. The lines of her face never changed when the foreman of the jury solemnly announced the finding. She had been smiling before the jury entered the room; she was smiling when the verdict was recorded.

As she was being led back to the jail she asked:

Gifts and Loans.

Schools of all trades are needing more and better equipment than ever before. Apparatus of the most approved patterns must be had. Specialists in various departments must be retained. Buildings must be erected and furnished. Fees from students can never meet these expenses. Large gifts have been made in the years gone by, and still larger are needed for the future.

Multitudes of our young people look with longing desire to the schools, but have not the funds to pay even the moderate fees and expenses. To many such the funds of the Educational society come as a godsend. We must increase these aids and use them so as to foster the spirit of self helpfulness in our young men and women. Those aided in time past are the ones who in present prosperity pour out of their abundance to help others.

The "twentieth century thank offering" should lift many of our needy schools and scholars into positions of greater usefulness.

Welcome Punishment to Bobby.

A little boy went to church with his mother. The service was somewhat long and utterly incomprehensible to the child. Consequently he fidgeted. His mother reproved him several times. At last she leaned toward him. "Bobby," she whispered, "if you act badly I'll never bring you to church again."

A gleam of hope dawned in Bobby's weary eyes. "Mamma," he said eagerly, "how bad will I have to be?"—Ex-charge.
